Rotarians See Novel Map Display

On Monday last the Rotary Club of Newton had a novel and interesting tour to Babson's Institute in Wellesley to view the large relief map of the United States, which has been three years in construction and is only partly completed. It is the only relief map of its kind in the world, and shows in miniature all the rivers and mountains of this country. This map is accurate in every detail and is constructed from the United States Geological Survey. About 30% of the country has been completed by the Institute.

The club had as guests the two Newton High School winners of the Rotary Scholarship—Lloyd Bergeson and Howard Ness, both of whom will enter Massachusetts Institute of Technology next September without examinations, by a standing in the upper fifth of their class at Newton High School.

Other guests were: John Riley, Brunswick, Maine; Walter Barnes, Boston; Bill Frayer, Dr. Van Zwanenberg, Riverside, California; A. J. Plummer, Malden.

Motion Picture Council Meets at Local Theatre

Mayor Weeks and Others Ask Newton People To Assist

The Newton Motion Picture Council meeting at the Paramount Theatre last Monday morning was featured by a showing of the character education film, a cut from "Young America," which was shown on May 24th, at the F. A. Day Junior high school in Newtonville. Principal Russell Burkhard of the school told of the reactions of the pupils to the film and read a number of their comments on it. Most of the pupils thought the film beneficial in character building.

Professor Howard Leonard of the Department of Religious Education at Boston University spoke on the efforts which have been made for many years to produce films for use in schools to assist in character education. He said he has been studying this problem for four years and progress has been delayed until 16 mm. films have been available with sound effects, together with machines for showing them. Now such films and machines are available for schools and arrangements have been made whereby cuts from popular pictures can be obtained. He said the time is ripe to go ahead with the production of these films. He commented that pictures made expressly for children are "too preachy" in the opinion of youngsters, and they will not take interest in them. He believes that pictures such as that shown Monday will assist in character education to a great degree.

Mrs. Francis J. Flagg presided at the meeting. She told of the "family nights" at the Paramount Theatre when approved films are shown early in the program, and of the special matinee programs which are planned for children. She introduced Mrs. Ayer, president of the Boston Chapter of the Motion Picture Council. Mrs. Ayer praised the Newton Council for the initiative it has already displayed and urged the people of Newton to give this organization support in the effort to produce better pictures.

Mrs. Flagg presented Mayor Weeks. He said he has fixed ideas of the desirability of doing something to bring about better motion pictures. He stated that this will largely have to be accomplished by the women of this country. The trouble is at the source where moving pictures are produced, but parents who allow their children to attend theaters where undesirable pictures are exhibited, are also largely to blame. He said moving pictures have great possibilities for good.

Mrs. Flagg read a telegram of regret from Conrad Nagel for his inability to attend the meeting, but he had gone to New York. She also stated that Bishop Spellman of Newton Centre had sent his regrets for not being able to attend, and his assurance of his approval of the effort to improve the quality of moving pictures.

Miss Marie Timmons, soprano, and John Tulloch, Jr., tenor, sang a new song composed by Mrs. Moses H. Gulesian, who accompanied them at the piano.

Mrs. Flagg invited citizens of Newton who are interested in the production of the character education films for schools to assist by contributions in making more of these films available.

Mrs. Kate Cornell Resigns From School Committee

Mrs. Kate C. Cornell of 1471 Centre st., Newton Highlands, who has been the Ward 5 member of the School Committee for the past 2½ years, has tendered her resignation. Mrs. Cornell's resignation reads—"Because of changed conditions and added responsibilities I find I will not be able to give the necessary time to the work of the School Committee, and therefore I must ask you to accept my resignation from Ward 5, to take effect on June 1st, 1934. I have been very happy to be able to serve on the School Committee and it is a matter of real regret to me that I cannot continue to do so."

Kiwanians Told Financial Dangers Are Imminent

"Currency Inflation Might Ruin Country" Richardson Says

Dangers which threaten the financial structure of the United States government were pointed out by Frank L. Richardson of the Newton Trust Company, speaker at the regular luncheon meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club in the Charles River Country Club on Tuesday. He identified the menaces so that the citizens will be on guard to support the President against the pressure that is continually being brought to bear by some who advocate extensive inflation.

"If President Roosevelt should unwisely use the powers of currency inflation which have been given to him," Mr. Richardson said, "our country would soon plunge into ruin. Newton was this country more dependent upon the integrity of its leader, yet we have the utmost confidence in our President and know that he will not be driven to go beyond the bounds of conservative inflation."

Leading up to this point, the speaker told in plain language by means of simple illustrations the story of money, the gold standard, inflation, and deflation. He stressed the fact that there is an "undefinable limit" to governmental debt which at a certain point creates doubt of ability to pay, causes people all of a sudden to demand payment, thereby undermining credit and causing panic.

Congress, he declared, has by devaluing the dollar, made it possible for the President, if he so desired, to order the issuance of seventeen and one-half billions of currency, based on the seven billions of gold in reserve. Moreover, there is a proposal at present for the government to stock up on silver, buying it at 50¢ an ounce and valuing it at the treasury vaults at $1.29 an ounce. It is proposed that the silver stock equal one-third of the gold stock, so that for one billion of dollars the government could set up a reserve of silver worth two and one-half billions.

This silver also could be used as a reserve for currency and against it the President could order an issue of six and one-half billions more of money. Altogether, the speaker declared, President Roosevelt might, if he used the powers granted to him, cause to be issued money to the extent of about 24 billions of dollars. "Then surely the prices would rise," the speaker showed. "Salaries would go up to meet the high prices and the government would have to borrow to meet the higher costs. That borrowing would in itself necessitate higher prices, followed by still more borrowings, until finally your dollar and mine, bonds, stocks, government securities, and all would be valueless."

"That is the danger we face," Mr. Richardson said. "If inflation is carried to excess the country is in for a great deal of trouble, but we have confidence in our President, and we will support him against those who are demanding departure from conservative national financing. We hope and trust President Roosevelt will continue to use wisely the powers of inflation which have been placed in his hands."

Truette Memorial Service Sunday

On Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock The Eliot Church of Newton will hold a service in memory of the late Mr. Everett E. Truette, who was organist and choir master of that church for thirty-six years. The choir loft will be reserved for all choir members who served under Mr. Truette's direction. Mr. Earl R. Welder, the present musical director of the church, will be at the organ and the church quartet will render special numbers for the occasion.

Dr. Hunt Observes Eightieth Birthday

Dr. William O. Hunt of 424 Newtonville ave., Newtonville, observed his 80th birthday at his home on Monday, May 28th. He held an informal reception from 4 to 6 and 8 until 10 o'clock that afternoon and evening. Over 400 of his friends and patients called to extend congratulations to him for his long service to humanity. He was presented with a wealth of flowers and many other gifts. Dr. Hunt has been practicing his profession in Newton for 53 years. He has been connected with the Newton Hospital since its inception in 1889, having been on the medical staff for 30 years, chairman of the executive committee for 8 years, and now serving as chairman of the Hospital School of Nursing. His five children assisted in receiving. They are Dr. Harold O. Hunt of North Falmouth, Richard F. Hunt of West Roxbury, Mrs. Richard W. Cotton and Donald R. Hunt of Newtonville and William O. Hunt, Jr., of Newton Highlands. Serving in the dining room were his two granddaughters, Alice and Martha Cotton; and his two grandnieces, Nina and Pauline Keppler.

Neck Broken When Child Starts Car

Mrs. Pauline Keefe, 35, wife of Edward Keefe of 124 Sheridan st., West Newton, was critically injured last Sunday afternoon in the Middlesex Fells, near Spot Pond. Melrose, when an automobile ran over her, fracturing her neck and several ribs. She also received a probable skull fracture and internal injuries. She had gone to the place for an outing with her sister, Mrs. Catherine Sosnowski of Thorndike street, East Cambridge; the latter's husband, Alexander Sosnowski, and Miss Lucy Burke of East Cambridge.

They had finished eating lunch on a level plot near the pond and were sitting in a shaded spot. The car, owned by Mr. Sosnowski, was parked on a ridge about 35 feet above. Robert Keefe, the 4-year-old son of Mrs. Keefe, had strolled up and entered the car. The emergency brake in the car became released and the vehicle plunged down the steep grade, running over Mrs. Keefe. It also hit the other two women, slightly injuring them. The child was thrown through the windshield when the car hit a tree. He was badly cut on the face and head. The three women and the boy were taken to the New England Sanitarium.

Thousands Watch Large Parade on Memorial Day

Big Gathering Includes Only Four Civil War Veterans

The parade on Memorial Day in Newton and the exercises at Newton Cemetery were participated in by one of the largest gatherings in the history of the city. While only four members of the few survivors of Charles Ward Post, G. A. R. were able to take part in the ceremonies, twenty organizations provided 1500 and more marchers in the colorful procession from Newton Corner to Newton Cemetery. The Civil War Veterans who attended were—Leonard Boyd, who served as Chief of Staff; Curtis Abbott, William Ayres and Otis Gray. The veterans of later wars included Thomas Burnett Camp Spanish War Veterans, Newton Post, American Legion; Eugene Daley Post, V. F. W.; and William J. Farrell Post, Disabled Veterans. The parade was headed by Mayor Weeks and his staff with the West Roxbury Legion Band and Company C of the 101st Infantry following. Then came J. Wiley Edmonds Camp, Sons of Veterans, the four Daughters of Veterans, the veteran organizations, their auxiliaries followed, the drum corps of the various units providing the rhythm for the march. Hundreds of Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts composed the last division of the procession.

The customary detour was made at Newtonville to allow the marchers to pass by Governor Andrew Home for Civil War Veterans and wives of veterans at Washington Park. Marching along Walnut st. to the Cemetery, the paraders experienced considerable difficulty by melted tar from the street, which stuck to their shoes.

The memorial exercises at the Soldiers Monument in the cemetery were participated in by Past Commander Robert Cunningham of Newton Post, American, who read General Logan's order for the observance of the first Memorial Day. County Vice Commander Harold Ames of the Legion, who read Lincoln's Gettysburg address; by the commanders of the different units participating, who responded to Adjutant Cunningham's inquiry as to whether all graves of veterans in Newton had been properly decorated. The heads of the organizations then placed wreaths at the foot of the Soldiers Monument, three volleys were fired by a squad from Company C, and "taps" were sounded. The parade was then resumed, the marchers being reviewed at City Hall by Mayor Weeks and his staff. The procession continued along Homer st. to the War Memorial where it was disbanded.

Annual Music Festival To Be Held Tonight

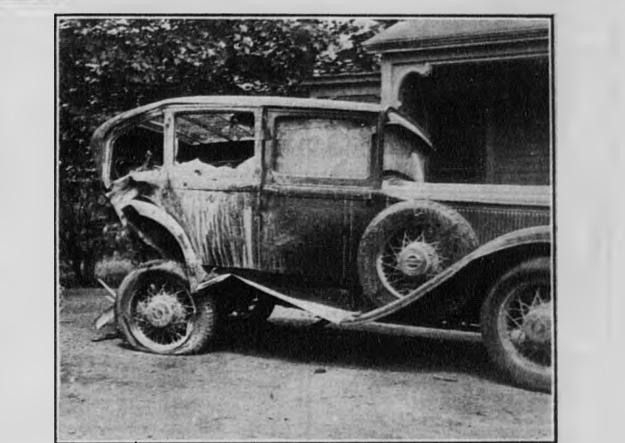

The Annual Music Festival, Newton High Schools' outstanding musical event of the year climaxes the year's work in the musical activities in this school. The band and orchestra under the direction of Charles R. Spaulding, will conclude a successful season while Mr. Charles Harrington has again produced one of his characteristically fine Glee Clubs. Mr. Edward N. Griffin, director of the large chorus of trained voices and supervisor of music in the Newton Schools, promises a program of real enjoyment for all music lovers.

The festival will be presented on the evening of June first at eight-thirty in the quadrangle at school. In case of rain it will be given in the school auditorium.

Speeding Sedan Crashes Cars Waiting At Traffic Signal At Newtonville

Three Cars Wrecked, Stunned Woman Rescued From Blazing Automobile by Husband and Bystanders

Newtonville Square was thrown into a turmoil on Sunday night at 9:19 when a Buick sedan traveling at high speed crashed into two cars which were waiting for the traffic signal to change at the intersection of Washington and Walnut streets, and caused one of the cars hit to crash into a fourth automobile. The Buick was driven by Warren H. Churchill of 27 Parsons street, West Newton. It hit a glancing blow to a Chevrolet car driven by Samuel Silverman of Winthrop House, Cambridge, a Harvard student. Silverman was accompanied by Bernice Steinberg, a Wellesley College student. The Buick then crashed with terrific force into a Plymouth sedan operated by Dr. Terrence McManus of 41 Rogers Park, Brighton.

The rear of the McManus car was crushed out of shape, the gasoline tank smashed and the heavy driving shaft under the car was broken in two. The gasoline from the smashed tank ignited immediately and in an instant the McManus car was a mass of flames. Mrs. Lillian McManus, who was riding with her husband was stunned by the impact; she was pulled from the blazing car by Dr. McManus. Robert Deagle of 349 Linwood avenue and Charles Gentile of 57 Wildwood avenue, Newtonville. The burning McManus sedan careened into a car driven by Alonzo Mahoney of Walnut avenue, Revere. ## Restore Corporal Punishment In Newton Schools

The Newton School Committee at its meeting on Monday night voted to restore corporal punishment in Newton schools. Last autumn the committee agreed with Supt. John Lund and voted to establish the rule—"No corporal punishment shall be inflicted." At the same time the committee voted the following new rule—"Teachers shall maintain discipline by reasonable and proper means. Any matters of discipline should be referred to the principals." The members of the committee stated that they do not approve of corporal punishment except when obviously necessary.

The restoration of the centuries old method of dealing with refractory and troublesome children was proposed by George H. Fernald, Jr., member of the committee from Ward 3. He said that two school principals had told him that certain pupils had "thought they can do as they please" since the practice of punishing by corporal punishment was abolished. Harry Bryant, member from Ward 2, who has had many years of practical experience as a school teacher, and who is a master at English High School in Boston, said that corporal punishment makes a boy "too the mark." While not favoring such punishment, unless as a last resort, Mr. Bryant believes a principal should have this authority, if necessary to use it. Kirtley Mather said there are occasions when corporal punishment is necessary.

Mrs. Kate Cornell, the only member of the committee to oppose the restoration of corporal punishment, characterized it as a relic of the dark ages. She said it is terribly old fashioned and not necessary. Supt. John Lund said that corporal punishment is primarily a function of the home and most teachers are opposed to it. The committee voted to establish a General Vocational Department for pupils of junior high school age. Half of the expense of this new department will be borne by the State and the Federal Government will assist in defraying the balance of the expense incurred. It is expected that the city will save considerable money as a result. Classes will be started next September. Two instructors at salaries of $2400 each will be appointed. It was voted to ask for an appropriation of $1600 to start the department.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON BLANKS RINDGE TO TIE CANTABS FOR SUBURBAN LEAGUE LEAD

Joe Greene, Newton High twirler, limited Rindge Tech to three scattered blows last Saturday afternoon at Clafin Field, Newtonville, enabling the Newton high nine to shut out the Cambridge invaders, 7 to 0. Greene had fine control and in addition to holding the Rindge batters at bay issued but one pass, fanning three. The Newton infield supported Greene in great fashion and first baseman Jimmy Bryne probably established some sort of a record in being credited with 20 putouts. Three were on unassisted plays and the rest on assists by his mates. In six of the nine innings he made every putout for Newton.

Pete Morrison led the Newton team at bat scoring three runs himself and driving in three others. He hit three singles in four trips to the plate as did second baseman Bill Spillman. Greene got two out of four with four other Newtonites getting a single hit apiece.

Coach Jeff Jones' nine scored all of its runs in three consecutive innings with two in the third, two in the fourth and three in the fifth.

The victory put Newton in a first place tie with Cambridge Latin for the lead in the Suburban league as the result of last week's Thursday's 6 to 3 Cantab victory over Brookline. Brookline and Rindge are tied for the cellar. Two games this afternoon will wind up the regular league schedule with Brookline playing at Newton and the two Cambridge teams facing each other at Russell Field, North Cambridge. Newton can win the league honors by defeating Brookline if Rindge whips the Cantabs. If both the Newton and Cambridge Latin nines are victors the race will still be tied and while it is not the customary practice to play off ties it may be done this season. Both coaches are believed to be favorable to a play-off and with the ending of the season a week earlier than usual it may be possible to find a day for such a game whereas school graduations have always precluded such a possibility in prior years.

The present league standing:

	W	L	RF	RA	Pts
NEWTON	3	2	27	26	6
Camb. Latin	3	2	30	22	6
Rindge	2	3	25	21	4
Brookline	2	3	25	21	4

Next on the program is the play "Gran's Dream Comes True" adapted by Anna Sanguinetti, the playwright of "X" with Frank Wing who established his reputation as an actor as Bobby in the recent operetta. The last event will be the successful play Elmer with Jack Roney as Elmer, his twin sisters played by the Benyon twins, and the dog, Pansy, played by herself. The entire performance is under the direction of Mrs. Jessie S. Gillespie, Advisor of the Dramatic Club, and Coach of the play. The proceeds of the evening will be used for the benefit of a scholarship fund.

Weeks Junior H. S.

The Junior Varsity Baseball Team is nearing the close of a successful season as Varsity tennis and track candidates keep the season going at full tilt. The line-up of the successful Junior Varsity team is as follows: Captain and catcher, James Dealy; Tom Powers, catcher; manager, Eugene Ledger; George Hickman, assistant manager; Joe Mandile, catcher; Leland Soman, Robert Kline, and Frederick O'Connell, first base; Mario Pignatelli and James Walters, second base; Andrew Basler and Thomas Dooling, short stop; Walter Hurlley, third base; outfield, Antonio Gianetti, Paul Newcomb, and Robert Whelden; pitchers, Thomas Burkard and Jack Lane.

A Memorial Day Assembly was held in the school auditorium on May 23. Donald Ball, the chairman, led the assembled students and teachers in repeating the 100th Psalm, the Lord's Prayer, and the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Every one then sang America and stood at attention while Edith Pratt played Taps.

The chairman then told of the meaning and purpose of International World Good Will Day. The boys and girls of more than seventy nations have responded to this movement since it was first instigated in 1924. Betty Sheridan, who was dressed as a Welsh girl read the message. The children of her country for 1934, the message selected as the best of the year. Members of the Weeks student body dressed to represent various other countries responded with the annual greeting of their young people. Italy was represented by Barbara Mitchell; Norway, Mary Chandler; Austria, Miriam Brightman; Ireland, Betty Galle; Japan, Jean Merrill; India, Ruth Manley; Russia, Helen Shapiro, and the United States, Phyllis Kaplan. As each speaker was introduced, an appropriate national song was played by the orchestra.

Ellis Bierdorf, one of the Newton representatives of the recent Junior Inter-Cross Convention at Washington, D. C., read a spirited report of the

NEWTON TRACK TEAM
PLACES 6TH IN AMHERST
INTERSCOLASTIC MEET

Newton High's track team scored 11 points on Wednesday at the annual Interscholastic Meet under the auspices of Amherst College at Amherst to finish in sixth place. Loomis Institute captured first honors piling up 27½ points. Newton's eleven points were scored in three events with Tommy Fitzgerald taking first in the mile run and Bob Quigley and Sanderson Sloane took seconds in the 100-yard dash and broad jump respectively. In winning the mile run Fitzzy was only two seconds from the old record after a great duel with Cowdery of Suffield. Fitzzy pulled ahead on the last lap to win in 4 minutes 38.7 seconds.

Ninth At Harvard Meet

The Newton team placed ninth in the Harvard Interscholastic and State championships at the Harvard Stadium last Saturday. First honors among the larger high schools went to Brockton with 24 points. Newton tallied 4 points in three events with Quigley taking fourth in the 100-yd. dash, Fitzgerald fifth in the 800-yd. run and Witten fifth in the low hurdles. Fitzzy won his heat in the half but the first heat, in which Arthur Cox of Boston English set a new record of 2m 1-5s was that fast that Fitzzy's time was only good enough to give him fifth place. Quigley won his heat in the 100, and also his semi-final heat before taking fourth in the finals. Witten took second in his trial heat, third in the semi-final and fifth in the final. Claude Frazier took second in the first trial heat of the low hurdles but failed to place in the semi-finals. Louis Miller placed second in the first heat of the 440-yard run and Allan Freeman fourth in the third heat but neither had fast enough time to get into the point division.

Palmer York of West Newton, former Newton sprinter and hurdler now at Andover, took fourth in the finals of the 220-yard low hurdles for his team which captured the honors in Class A. meeting and the "Message of the American Red Cross." The chairman then introduced Mr. David Grier, past commander of the Newton Post of the American Legion, who spoke briefly and vividly on "Memories."

Day Jr. High School

The ninth grade operetta was a great success in spite of rainy weather. A goodly sum was earned by one performance to swell the General Fund. Participants were Earle Carleton, Shirley Ridgeway, Janet Merrill, Theodora Klein, Ralph Hinckley, Paul McGrath, Arthur Henderson, Janet Mattson, Constance Brickett, Ruth Carter, Barbara Burnham, Helen Spence, Dorothea Duffy, Elida Dignall, Marcelle Bennett, Dorothy Burt, Meralyn Fairfax, David Clare Lawrence Chamberlain, Ronald Cullen, John Hartpence, Ernest Bryson, Roland MacAdam, Carl Johnson, Eldeston Whitmore, Bernard Erickson.

The school is proud of its fine tennis player, Albert Everts. In the tournament of the Longwood Cricket Club at Chestnut Hill last week end, he was runner-up for the boys' singles championship, and paired with Miss Ruth Bernard of Winchester to win the mixed doubles. A character education film, an extract from a longer movie was presented to the entire ninth grade on May 24th by a group of people who are interested in improving present-day movies and also in preparing children for citizenship. The film was prepared by Prof. H. M. LeSourd of Boston University and Prof. Mark May of Yale. Following the picture was a period devoted to a discussion of the character traits brought out in the picture. A questionnaire was then given to the pupils who were asked to express their opinions quite frankly. Their reactions were favorable and have provided most interesting material for study.

"Sorrel and Son" At Coolidge Corner Theatre

The talkie version of "Sorrell and Son," Warwick Deeping's beautiful story of a father's love and sacrifice, comes to the Coolidge Corner Theatre today for a seven day run. H. B. Warner recreates the role of Captain Stephen Sorrell who, deserted by his wife, takes mental and back-breaking labor to make his small son Kit's life a better thing than his own. Handsome Hugh Williams, Hollywood's exciting new screen "find," plays Kit, as a man, while Peter Penrose, a capable and popular English child actor, has the part of Kit as a boy.

On the same program there is Edgar Wallace's "Mystery Liner" with Noah Beery, Astrid Allyn, and Cornelius Keefe, a Brookline boy. In addition to the above two excellent features there are short subjects, the latest news events and J. Leslie Cahill at the console.

The Coolidge Corner Theatre is now preparing their mammoth refrigeration plant for the hot sultry summer days ahead.

The scholarship entitles the winner to three months course, all expenses paid by the school, at the American Academy at Fontainebleau, France, one year after graduation.

"Men In White" Attraction
At Paramount Theatre

The idol of the screen, Clark Gable will be seen in the feature attraction at the Newton-Paramount beginning Sunday for four days. He considers his role in "Men In White" the finest of his whole career.

"What I liked particularly about working in this picture was that I was able to do a genuine character role for a change," the star recently told an interviewer. "That's the sort of thing I have always wanted to do. Standing around and smiling isn't my idea of acting. The role of Dr. Ferguson in 'Men In White' was one that called for plenty of careful characterization, and I enjoyed it enormously."

Myrna Loy is co-starred with Gable in the new picture, and the cast features Jean Harlow, Elizabeth Allan and Otto Kruger. On the same program Hal LeRoy and Rochelle Hudson will be featured in "Harold Teen." It is a picture based on the well known comedy strip found in the "Punch" and a very popular subject with the young folks.

Mt. Ida School Holds Annual May Day Festival

The Mt. Ida School held their Annual May Day Festival on May nineteenth. There were over 200 invited guests present to view the afternoon's proceedings. The May Day Procession was first on the program. Charlotte Davis from Worcester and Beatrice Stickles from Newton, Connecticut taking the part of the two mounted heralds galloped up the lane to stand in front of Jewett Hall where they trumpeted the announcement that the procession was about to make its way from Cobb House to the lawn of Jewett Hall where Claudia Tinney from Indianapolis was to be crowned the Queen of the May. Her attendants were Margaret Blake from Exeter, New Hampshire, Gladys Johnson and Virginia Wing of Worcester and Henrietta Wiltens from Newton. The Dance Pantomime which was enacted for the entertainment of the May Queen and that of the guests was taken from the period of Charles the First. "The Madde Shepherd" by John Kerns with its scene laid in Yorkshire, England, in the early 17th century provided a chance for multi-colored costumes which scintillated across the green of the lawn. Ruth Root of Plymouth, O., took the part of Lady Garnet of Lancaster and Elizabeth Hare of Brooklyn, N. Y. acted the part of Cavalier Charles of York. The dancing and pantomime were worthy of the several movie cameras which were trained upon them. The spectators sat in interested and speechless silence until the shepherds and shepherdesses joined the Cavalier and the Ladies in a Maypole Dance which indicated the happy culmination of the events of the day. Nearly forty girls took part in the procession and the pageant which was directed by Priscilla H. Moore assisted by E. Elizabeth Langille and Lota W. Curtiss.

Flower Display Attracts Throngs

Colors, fragrance, and artistry combined to make a very beautiful affair of the Flower Show of the Newton Garden Club held last week, Tuesday and Wednesday, in Channing Church. The two warm days brought out visitors in equally lovely summer frocks, and the entire presentation became a most satisfactory one. Tea was served in the afternoon and sociability was greatly enjoyed by those who attended. A most charming exhibit, and one that was pleasingly striking, was the Informal Garden, laid out on the platform of the vestry, designed and arranged by Mrs. Frank A. Day, Jr., who won thereby a special award from the judges, Mrs. John Washburn Coolidge of Cohasset, now Garden Editor of the Boston Sunday Herald; Mrs. Davis Enos of Bradford, Mrs. White and Mrs. Oliver. This garden was of blue shrub rhododendrons, white lilacs, and plumbago; and a beech crab tree and crescent-shaped pansy bed. It was enhanced by a stone figure, the embodiment of woman's joy in the garden and her love of flowers, the work of Mrs. Herbert Frasier, a member of the Garden Club. The blues shading to warm or cool purples, the white, the accent of the statue, was a very attractive arrangement in color, quite aside from the artistry of design. Mrs. Day also won a special award for two rare species of decorative potted begonias.

Another special award went to Mrs. Frederick H. Loveland for an Arrangement of Flowering Crab Tree, in a Stone Jar, which was unusual and attractively distinct in color.

The coveted blue ribbons and others were awarded to winners in the Classes of Exhibits as follows:

Class I. May Garden Flowers Grown by Exhibitors. Mrs. Loveland won first prize for an arrangement of yellow tulips in vase of copper. Mrs. Everett E. Kent won second prize for an arrangement of white tulips in black vase. Mrs. Alfred H. Handley won third prize for an arrangement of almost brown tulips in copper vase.

Class II. Flowers in a Pair of Vases. Mrs. Garret Schenck won first prize for an arrangement of orchid flowers in white vases. Mrs. Herbert C. Frasier second prize for tulips and bleeding heart in green vases. Mrs. F. L. Hall third prize for pink tea roses in turquoise vases.

Class III. White Flowers in White Containers. Mrs. Charles Bonis Gleason won first prize for small grouping of calla lilies. Mrs. Loveland second prize for an arrangement of statice and iris in a dolphin holder on a flat plate. Mrs. Ralph N. Hall third prize for tulips and stock. These were especially artistic.

Class IV. A Luncheon Table. Mrs. Philip Starr Jamieson won first prize with hand-woven cloth of green linen, and floral arrangements of tulips and beech leaves. Mrs. R. L. Angler second prize with arrangement of mixed flowers. Mrs. Carlos R. Pierce third prize with bleeding heart and tulips.

Class V. Wild Flowers. Mrs. Schenck won first prize with a lady slipper and violet arrangement. Mrs. Clinton C. Brown second prize for arrangement of lady slippers. Mrs. George W. Wyman third prize for wild orchids.

Class VI. Miniature Bouquets, six inches or under. The entire exhibit was charming. Mrs. Ralph Hall won first prize for pinks and forget-me-nots. Mrs. Wyman second prize for forget-me-nots. Mrs. Fredey third prize for yellow alyssum and forget-me-nots in a copper jar.

Class VII. Window-sill Decorations. Mrs. Loveland won first prize for arrangement of yellow nasturtiums; and third prize for a group of petunias and geraniums. Mrs. Marcena Butts second prize for group of white petunias and potted geraniums.

Class VIII. Flowers for Mother's Desk. Limited to children under 12 years. Alec Fredey won first prize for an arrangement of alyssum. Hugh Calkins second prize for arrangement of lilacs. Miss Nancy Butts third prize for violas in a yellow vase.

The Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross has promised to supply 200 hospital bibs for the U. S. Veterans' Hospital at Bedford.

At present 134 are made and the rest are cut out. If any will help in this work the articles are ready for distribution at the Chapter Headquarters. Twenty-four more sewing kits also need to be made up to be put in the bags sent to the men in service at Christmas time. Each year every Chapter receives a quota, in addition to its local work, as the men have to rely on the Red Cross for extra comforts. Newton's quota for Bedford for 1933-1934 was — 200 hospital bibs, 14 hot water bag covers, 11 ice bag covers, 10 card table covers, 19 sweaters with sleeves — for men in service—108 Christmas Bags. With the exception of the above articles our quota is complete. The Girl Scouts at Camp Mary Day will pack the bags with a uniform collection of useful comforts, done up in Christmas wrappings, during the summer and they will be sent out early in September.

THE RACING BILL

As we see it the so-called Pari-Mutuel racing bill which passed the House of Representatives yesterday is far from being proper legislation. The bill calls for referendum vote by counties. We realize that there is considerable agitation for the legalizing of betting but we are of the decided opinion that such betting, whether legal or illegal, is not for the best interests of the Commonwealth. A vote by counties does not settle the issue by any means. There are undoubtedly some counties which will favor the question and others will turn it down. Where the question involved affects the entire state any referendum on it should be state-wide. While it is impossible for the legislature to initiate such a referendum, if there is sufficient endorsement to the question it would be a comparatively easy matter to get the necessary signatures to place it upon the ballot. The initiative referendum, we believe, was put into effect to take care of just such a situation as we are facing at present.

TURNING BUSINESS ONTO BOYLSTON STREET

Attempts are being made to obtain business locations on Boylston street, otherwise known as the Worcester turnpike. We believe that the Board of Aldermen should discourage such attempts with a firm and iron hand. There is a fundamental question involved. The State and Federal government have spent millions upon millions in recent years relocating main highways so that they will avoid the centres of congestion. In the process of time if business is encouraged to locate along these highways and turnpikes it will but hasten the time when they again become congested and we will be compelled to expend more money for such routes. If the cities and towns cannot see the problems that will confront them in such instances the State should take a hand.

SAFETY DRIVE BEGINS

Today police of the state and of the cities and towns throughout the Commonwealth are beginning their annual spring safety drive. Blue tickets will be issued to offending motorists on eight different counts, including speeding, improper passing, driving on the wrong side of the road, failure to slow down at intersections, approaching pedestrians, or passing street cars, violation of traffic signals, and dangerous or improper parking. Many of the violations naturally will occur on the through highways and out in the country. Here in Newton, as in many other places there is one violation that is being oft repeated. That is the eighth count of dangerous and improper parking. We trust that the police of Newton have been instructed to make an intensive effort to overcome the growing practice of double parking, parking on the wrong side of the street, and in restricted areas.

Under The Gilded Dome

The State Legislature, endeavoring to hasten prerogative of the present session, this week had several of the most important pending measures before it for discussion. The police bill, sought by the Governor, the Public Safety Council and other groups, was discussed at length in the Senate. Following agitation some weeks ago for some progress along this line the Committee on Judiciary reported a bill which was regarded as reasonable. This bill was rather a drastic as those which had been requested but nevertheless it was felt to be a step in the right direction. Reported in to the Senate it was then referred to the Committee on Ways and Means of the upper branch and there it was practically shorn of what was left of any progress towards unification or coordination of the police in an attempt to combat crime. The redrafted bill as reported by a bare majority of the five members of the committee drew much criticism from the Governor as well as many others. Late last week the Senate substituted the bill of the Judiciary committee for that reported by the Ways and Means group. This week a number of amendments were offered to the bill then under discussion. The amendments adopted affected the promotion of police and the course of training to be offered. On Tuesday the Senate finally passed the bill by a vote of 17 to 16 with President Fish having his named called for the deciding vote. Senator Hollis of Newton was among the majority. Incidentally it was interesting to note that only one Democratic Senator favored the bill despite the criticism of the Governor that the Republican party was endeavoring to obstruct the legislation. Of the sixteen voting against the measure five were Republicans. Yesterday the Senate refused, on roll-call of 19 to 17, to reconsider its previous vote and the measure was read in the House this morning. The House Committee on Ways and Means will hold hearings on the bill beginning tomorrow morning and it is expected that the matter will come up for action by the House the early part or middle of next week.

The House of Representatives has been holding double sessions every day this week except Monday. Considerable of the time on Monday and Tuesday was spent discussing legislation affecting the Boston Elevated Railway. Several petitions for taking the road by eminent domain, purchasing the road and putting it under public ownership as well as the present method of public control had previously been heard by the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs. This committee had reported adversely on the proposals which had been largely introduced by members of the House from Boston. Finally a roll-call late Monday afternoon rejected the measure to take the road by eminent domain by a vote of 71 to 75. On Tuesday efforts were made to reconsider the action taken on Monday but all attempts were defeated. On several roll calls the three Newton Representatives, Baker, Brimblecom and Lutiweiler were recorded in opposition to the petitions to take over the road.

Late Tuesday afternoon the House passed the so-called pari-mutuel bill to legalize betting at horse races to a third reading by a voice vote. Yesterday the question came on passing the bill to be engrossed and several amendments were offered. Several of these were accepted. On the final question a rising vote of 128 to 41 favored the measure. Rep. Lutiweiler sought a roll-call but was supported by only 25 others and as thirty are required for a roll-call such a vote was refused. Reps. Baker and Brimblecom were among those who supported their colleagues in seeking a recorded vote on the question. The bill as passed by the House provides for a county referendum on the question of legalizing betting. Such racing will be permitted in counties which cast a favorable vote. The amendments accepted by the House were largely to protect bettors against dishonest practices. One amendment adopted would bar from race tracks any jockey found dishonest. Another provides that betting be done through the use of pari-mutuel machines. The bill was further amended to provide that all money accruing to the cities and towns will be used for public welfare while another amendment provides that half of such money shall be used for old-age assistance and the remainder for public welfare.

An amendment was offered by Rep. Curtis of Boston to cut out the provision whereby cities and towns in counties not casting a favorable vote should be deprived of any share of the receipts. This amendment was adopted while another Curtis amendment calling for a state-wide referendum instead of a county vote was rejected. Still another amendment which was adopted was one barring aliens from employment on race tracks.

With no debate the House referred to the next annual session the bill providing for a retail sales tax, accepting the report of the committee on Ways and Means that such action should be taken.

About Town

By Edward H. Powers

George H. Ellis was a worthy scion of the pioneers who settled New England. Rugged in physique and of rugged honesty, he played an important part in the development of Massachusetts and of Newton. Strongly partisan in politics, yet he was not prejudiced against those who differed from him politically, as was shown by his defence of the late Martin Lomasney when that famous politician was being unjustly criticized.

Attempts have been made and are being made to divert Boylston street (the Worcester turnpike) into a business street; to change it from residence zone to business zone. Most of those who have endeavored to bring about this change are not persons who have been property owners on Boylston street for any length of time. They have been and are either persons who bought property along Boylston street since the State decided to construct the super-highway known as the Worcester Turnpike, or even persons who do not own property along the street. The petitioner who last year obtained a permit to conduct a garage repair shop on Boylston street and now wants to have a gasoline filling station on this locus, purchased the property in 1933. Other persons have been displaying signs along the street advertising "Tourist Houses" in violation of the zoning ordinance.

The surprising thing is—that some alien and other city officials have seemed to favor the idea of changing Boylston street into a business thoroughfare, notwithstanding the fact that the people of this State have been taxed millions of dollars to build this automobile highway which was constructed to permit motor vehicles to travel at high speed between Boston and Worcester. They can travel at such a speed because the turnpike was built away from business sections of cities and towns through which it passes. And now some of the supposedly intelligent officials of the City of Newton are willing to defeat the very purpose for which the turnpike was constructed by making it a business thoroughfare. Supposing that the town and cities along the turnpike allow it to become a business artery with the resultant parking of motor vehicles? How traffic will be slowed and accidents increase. The State should take measures to prevent such a condition and officials of Newton should adopt the attitude manifested by officials of Wellesley, that they will very efficiently conducted town which adjoins Newton. And Newton officials can emulate Wellesley in other respects if they care to increase the efficient conduct of affairs of this city.

Massachusetts is supposed to be one of the most enlightened of the "highly civilized" United States. Arabia is supposed (by Americans) to be rather a barbaric land. In Arabia a few weeks ago four men were executed by officials of that country. A short while before the four had murdered a young American and his European companion as they were touring in that land. Thus, the Arabian officials, whom Americans regard as quite lagging in modern civilization, promptly and quite effectively punished the murderers of two foreigners.

What a contrast to the sorry spectacle evidenced in this state when confessed murderers are on trial. The Arabians did not stage the farce of a trial with professional witnesses; alleged experts who testify for pay. They did not permit justice to be circumvented by technicalities and subterfuges. Apparently they haven't "smart" lawyers in Arabia such as we have, lawyers whose ethics are such that legal trickery is of more importance than the supposed dignity of their profession. And the people of Massachusetts, who must pay heavy taxes for the cost of government, are further burdened by the cost of long drawn out murder trials.

The action of the Newton Board of Aldermen in voting on May 7 to grant a permit for the erection of a small brick and concrete building at the gasoline filling station on Chestnut st., Newton Upper Falls, was a sequel to one of the most ridiculous things ever done by any Newton Board of Aldermen. This was the granting by last year's Board in September 1933 of a permit to one Francis E. Brown, who is the owner of the property, to build and conduct a gasoline filling station on the site. The lot is a narrow strip of land with a frontage of 99 feet on the narrow service street which runs alongside and beneath the overpass carrying the turnpike over Chestnut st. It has a frontage of only 20 feet on Chestnut st. It is situated on a 7% down-grade, next to one of the most dangerous traffic spots in this city—the underpass which has utterly blind approaches for automobiles and where one fatal accident had occurred before the permit was granted last September.

The narrow lot is what remains of a lot which had a frontage of 122 feet on Chestnut st. when a permit was granted in 1923 for a filling station. The balance of this lot was taken by the Commonwealth in 1932 for the widening of Boylston street to the construction of the Worcester turnpike. The State awarded $33,000 for the taking; a substantial award. And then the Aldermen granted a permit for another station on the narrow strip remaining.

The writer has attended (with a few exceptions) every meeting of the Aldermen for the past eleven years and served on the Board for four years. We know something of petitions for filling stations in Newton and requirements as to suitable size of sites. Also reasons for rejecting petitions such as locations on grades, on dangerous corners and contiguity to residence zones. After having granted the permit on the location referred to here, the Newton Board of

Want Marking System Put Back

A petition is being circulated by a group of Newton women asking that the marking system be restored in Newton public schools and that report cards again be used to provide parents with definite knowledge as to the progress their children are making. This system was abolished in the Newton schools the past year by Superintendent Lund.

The signers of the petition believe that the failure to have report cards for the pupils and to give them marks showing their standing lessens incentive to study, tends to destroy ambition and causes regimentation of the school which is unAmerican in principle and unworkable in practice. The committee which has been sponsoring the petition includes: Mrs. Charles B. Breed of Newtonville, Mrs. Lucien H. Thayer and Mrs. Raymond Fuller of Waban, Mrs. A. Harry Hutchison and Mrs. Davis N. Ripley of Newton Centre, Mrs. John N. Harvey of Newton, and Mrs. Irving Howatt, Mrs. Nelson Tinsley, Mrs. George E. Pierce, Mrs. E. C. McLellan and Mrs. Frederick G. Wilder, all of Waban.

Still Causes Fire At Auburndale

The two-apartment wooden house at 190C Washington st., Auburndale, opposite the Woodland Golf Club, was damaged by fire to the extent of $2500 at 5:40 Tuesday afternoon. The blaze was caused by the explosion of a 50 gallon still in the attic of the house, and flames were bursting through the roof when the firemen arrived. The police seized 25 gallons of alcohol and a gas tank used in connection with the still. The house is owned and occupied on the first floor by William C. Bonner. The second floor apartment was occupied by Hugh M. MacPhail. Internal Revenue officials have been investigating the case.

Aldermen cannot consistently, in the future, refuse any petition because of the reason that the locus is too small in area or situated on a dangerous curve or at a blind corner. We would suggest that those of our readers who are interested in the matter of filling stations in Newton, take a look at the site of the proposed filling station at Boylston and Chestnut streets and judge for themselves if our criticism is not deserved.

We received the other day one of the publicity releases from the Governor's Committee on Street and Highway Safety. The first paragraph of this article reads:

"Carelessness! And again and again carelessness—that is the answer dictated by experience to the urgent question, 'What causes the appalling number of accidents on the roads to breed?' Of these, the most common cause ought to know, for they come from a group of two score and more Massachusetts motorists who have accepted the invitation of the Governor's Committee to join the proposed 'Millers Club,' eligibility for which is based on a minimum annual mileage of 25,000."

Personally, we think the above answer—"Carelessness!" is the bunk. Our observation, and we have been driving a car almost every day for many years is that it isn't carelessness that causes most automobile accidents. It is "cussedness." It has been proved repeatedly in the past that most automobile accidents are caused by speeding and by reckless driving. The great majority of motorists know this; so do pedestrians. It isn't carelessness that is shown by drivers who operate cars at speeds of 40 miles per hour and more when such speeds jeopardize others on highways. It isn't carelessness that is evidenced when autos pass other cars with cars coming close on from the opposite direction. Passing cars on hills on curves, driving to the left of the centre of streets, ignoring traffic lights and signs, failing to slow down when approaching pedestrians, none of these can be designated as "carelessness." They are all deliberate. If the "carelessness" verdict is a criterion of the "know" of the alleged exceptionally experienced drivers being recommended by the Governor's Committee on Street and Highway Safety, we are not very hopeful that this adjunct to the committee will be of material assistance in lessening automobile accidents.

One of the friendliest dogs in Newton is an aristocratic Borzoi, or Russian wolfhound owned by Mrs. D. F. Farrington of Waverley avenue. This tall, long, slender canine roams all over Newton Corner and even into other sections. While he tolerates attentions from men, he appreciates petting from the ladies and has a habit of seizing in a friendly grip the hand of a member of the fair sex and walking along with her. He shows no fear of the pugnacious bulldogs he meets, and all in all has more doggity than any other dog we know of in Newton.

ONE THING... ...AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Among the earlier June blooms will be the convention-endorsed State candidates of political parties. Others may go after the same nominations next September when it will be up to the voters to do their own wedding.

Oddments

If you've had the radio go haywire at a time when you wanted to hear something of unusual interest, according to your view, you will understand why a Ward 7 household was so upset the other day. Having planned several days ahead to listen in at a noonday broadcast they almost exploded with wrath when the machine stopped after one-third of the program had been given. It seems there were repairs needed in the lighting system upstairs and the electrician, having just got around to do the job, let himself through the cellar and turned off the juice. By the time the cause had been determined it was too late—the broadcast was over.

The art of taking a vacation is something of which we all may acquire greater knowledge. The younger folks have their camps and these are so alluring and well-conducted that the only question is that of choice. Older members of the family, once they give the matter serious attention, will find an equally simple solution of their problem. Trips, far and near, by land and sea, or both, are so numerous that the prospective traveler can find little difficulty in bringing plans and purse into harmony.

Where Bites Come From

A little knowledge may be a dangerous thing but isn't there more danger in complete ignorance? Whether you agree or not that is the process of reasoning whereby I have tackled the general subject of mosquitoes. I was inspired to learn all I could of these pests when I read of their early approach in great numbers. If obliged to battle them I thought it would be just as well if I did so by a more or less intelligent method instead of slapping and grumbling without any special system. Therefore, I submitted my problem to a recognized expert. He looked at me for a few minutes and asked, "Are you situated on a salt marsh?" Promptly and with a proper amount of indignation I replied that Newton was not so situated. "Ah, Newton," he observed, "that city has nothing to worry about if it follows the methods conceded to be the best." He paused but I knew that he would continue without further prodding and so I waited.

"It's the salt marsh area where the greatest damage is done," he went on, "and where land-owners have something to worry them. Real estate values, summer tourist patronage, etc., may be completely ruined by salt marsh mosquitoes which are much more active and a source of greater trouble. They are much stronger, much more vigorous and travel as far as 20 or 30 miles while fresh water mosquitoes seldom cover a mile, although capable of making a five mile journey."

"The regular draining of salt marshes has put an end to mosquitoes, for, after all, standing water, or what you may call stagnant water, provides breeding places. Fresh water mosquitoes present a more complicated engineering problem. The land should be filled. Dainty pools, which look like a garden, are where mosquitoes like to gather. Any body of water that isn't drained is a fine place for them."

He paused, but my thirst for knowledge was not fully quenched so I insisted upon learning more. "Well," he went on, "you know it is the female that does the biting in search of blood to hatch out a yield of eggs." I nodded and asked, "Isn't there some living thing that goes after mosquitoes?"

"Yes," he answered, "fish. You see, fish eat the larvae and if there are fish in the water the mosquitoes have little chance to thrive."

I learned for more but at that moment he was called into conference with his subordinates and, after expressing the hope I had learned something, he left. Whether I did or not I at least have something to think about the next time a mosquito lights on my nose or ankle.

It Happened in Newton

How easily a misunderstanding may upset a romance. Here's one that came mightily near it. Perhaps it wasn't really a misunderstanding in the ordinary sense. At least it was a mix-up with a lesson. After reading it you may wonder whether you should put as much faith in clocks as in human nature or whether either is entitled to your confidence.

Youth and Malden, if you will accept that in place of real names, pursued fairly late that evening. Youth's family happens to be away on a short sea trip and he is alone in the big house. Said he, "I hope I

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alas Mesmerism and Hypnotism Decried" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 3.

The Golden Text is: "Oh let the wickedness of the wicked come to an end; but establish the just: for the righteous God trieth the hearts and reins" (Psalms 7:9).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is that following from the Bible: "God is not a man; that he should lie; neither the son of man, that he should repent; luth he said, and shall he not do it? or hath he spoken, and shall he not make it good? Behold, I have received commandment to bless; and he hath blessed; and I cannot reverse it" (Numbers 23:19-20).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Moral and spiritual might belong to Spirit, who holds the 'wind in His fists'; and this touching accords with Science and harmony. In Science, you can have no power opposed to God, and the physical senses must give up their false testimony. Your influence for good depends upon the weight you throw into the right scale. The good you do and embody gives you the only power obtainable. Evil is not power. It is a mockery of strength which ever long betrays its weakness and falls, never to rise" (p. 192).

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE STATE MEETING

Continuing with a few of the outstanding statements and events of the three days of the State Federation Annual Meeting held at the New Oceana House, Swampscott, May 14th, 15th, and 16th. If there is still anyone in this enlightened age who doubts that women's clubs are accomplishing boundless good to their fellow man, he or she has only to consider the following cold statistics in the President's Annual Report given on Wednesday morning. Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, in her report on philanthropies, pointed out that the various committees had functioned widely, and that during the year the clubs had contributed $112,891 to charitable work. Of this amount $18,436 went to hospitals; $24,668 to scholarships; $24,441 to public welfare; $22,779 to local charities; $210 to foreign relief work; $2,137 to disabled soldiers; $9,886 to public health; and $10,822 to miscellaneous work.

A further statement of fact of which Mrs. Bennett may well be proud was that during her club activities of about ten years, first serving as Ninth District director, then vice president, and the past two years as State leader, Mrs. Bennett has attended all meetings, missing only one Executive Board meeting. During her administration there has been a gain of 428 members.

That clubwomen assist all who need their care and give service to every need, while studying every phase of modern problems, as well, is indicated by the following reports.

"One hundred and forty-eight clubs have reported co-operation with war veterans," said Mrs. Gordon T. Burckes, chairman of this division. "Gifts sent to veterans in hospitals and their families included 24 afghans, 7 bath robes, 176 pairs bed socks and stockings, 420 pounds candy, 530 packs of playing cards, 400 puzzles, 109 postal cards, 538 puzzles, 38 pairs rubbers, 67 pairs shoes, 100 stamps, 38 shaverettes and sweeteners, and entertainments have been supplied to hospitals all during the year. Thanksgiving and Christmas decorations have been supplied to hospitals. Visits have been made once a month to various hospitals. We have sent birthday and Christmas gifts to 32 women veterans at Dayton, O. Sixty clubs have contributed money to this division to carry on this work."

Mrs. Leon P. Dutch gave an account of the great variety of community service work that reads equally voluminous. Needy families clothed and fed; milk for children; little luxuries for the aged; work found for men, women, young people; playgrounds sponsored; civic improvements carried through, from beautifying public squares and fountains to parks, to gardens, and the determined effort to make city fathers clear streets of debris, papers, and unsavory sights.

Assistance in industry was reported by Mrs. Hazel Albertson, chairman of this division, and when one considers that on her committee is Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, who is actively engaged in the Consumers problems under the NRA, this means that things are stirring. A Newton Centre woman also serves on this committee, Mrs. W. Z. Ripley. Assistance of the physically handicapped comes under this heading, and is being effectually given.

In study and informative groups, with attendant efforts to improve conditions found needing improvement, reports showed the wide interest of clubwomen.

"Eight Legislative Conferences held in the State, and the morning session of the Midwinter meeting were conducted by the Legislative department of the Federation," said Mrs. Russell A. Cone, chairman. "The delegate group endorsed the ratification of the Child Labor Amendment, the penalizing slander by radio, and the principle of the Hairdressers' bill to regulate the profession of hairdressers. The chairman has spoken at thirty clubs, and committee members have spoken at thirty-three clubs, making a total of sixty-three clubs covered by the department during the year."

Cultural, practical, and definite usefulness were shown to be aims that can be accomplished.

"Each year brings us face to face with certain definite needs in education, varying with the community," said Mrs. Fred L. Pigeon, General Federation director of Education. "We urge you to face your own local problems with intelligent determination and wisdom. As pertinent suggestions we emphasize the following issues: Since today personality appears to be at a premium in all circles, both business and social, we should not ignore the importance of a cultivated voice, the charm and power of a distinct diction and the appropriate standards of usage in English."

In the Institute of Technology the alumni is asking that courses in English be strengthened so that the students will have the ability to express themselves exactly and fluently at least in their town field. Curtailments in budgets must not result in the complete elimination from the curriculum of cultural subjects, with increased leisure, avocations, as well as vocations, should be provided for.

"The need today for the average man and woman to understand the complicated economic and political situation calls for a new approach to the study of history. Our teachers in this subject should be persons of broad understanding and unbiased opinion.

"There should be a conscious effort made by the school to inform our young people concerning this democracy of ours, its governmental structure and its objectives. They should know what to demand of our Government and what they in turn should render to our Government. We want our young folks to be aligned with law and order."

"The student should be taught to look on politics as a high and important public service, not as an inferior or degrading career. The habit of sneering at politicians and politics has a tendency to discourage the best qualified type of young man and woman from entering the field of public affairs. The need of teaching money management to the children in the public schools was never more timely than at the present moment and it should be included in every school system as a separate course in the curriculum. Our slogan next year will be 'Believe in education.'"

One could continue until many editions were filled with amazing arrays of these interests, brought out in a "mighty meeting" which left one breathless and filled with their magnitude and with the call to arms to continue in the march of progress. But there are other matters that we must consider. Perhaps the greatest air of the convention came in the consideration of Resolutions. All but one presented were adopted. But that one created a furor indeed.

A resolution which approved membership of the United States in the League of Nations to promote world order and peace was adopted, after some objections, the vote being 139 for and 89 against. This was sponsored by Miss Helena Shipman, of Boston, chairman of the International Relations committee, who, in making her report, emphasized the thought that "a clearer understanding of our interdependent world in contrast to the theory of an isolated state has been recognized as well as the tragic waste and futility of continuous living in armed camps, where every one loses and no profit but to munitions makers and their affiliates."

Another resolution, also sponsored by Miss Shipman, did not receive the same happy fate, perhaps because the clubwomen did not realize fully its import. Speakers who frankly stated they approved the resolution still advocated the study of it before adoption. A similar resolution has been adopted by the General Federation.

This resolution put the State Federation on record as urging: (1) that legislation, as passed by Congress, limiting traffic in arms and munitions contracts be made permanent in peace time; (2) that all exports of arms, munitions and their component parts be permitted only under Government license; (3) that the President (of the United States) instruct our delegates to the Disarmament Conference to support stringent and effective means to control the international trade in arms, and by continuing to insist on reduction as well as limitation of armaments to create a world condition making the evil of high-pressure salesmanship of arms and munitions possible to control."

Mrs. Frederick G. Smith, a Federation past president, elicited a storm of applause when she attacked the resolution, saying:

"I don't approve that part of the resolution calling for reduction of armament. Our President is building up the navy to treaty strength now and I think it would be dangerous to limit armaments at this time. We are building up the navy to ensure peace, not to prepare for war."

Miss Shipman defended the resolution, declaring: "We are asking for control of arms under Government license."

Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, another past Federation president, smoothed out the arguments and paved the way for the postponement of the resolution which, she said, "would have gone over in a big way if time had been granted for study."

Unable to effect a compromise between big navy women and pacifists, as each side considered the other, the clubwomen voted, 375 to 58, to postpone the resolution until the mid-Winter session next year, to afford more time for study.

There was no such difference of opinion registered upon the resolution in regard to newspaper featuring of crime, the reaction of the clubwomen bespeaking plainly their disgust with such newspapers.

The resolution referring to newspapers states that the Federation favors the elimination of "such emphasis in the daily press as tends to glorify and make heroes of those whose conduct endangers the welfare of us all." The resolution asserts that "screaming headlines and pages of reading matter about gangsters, featuring the most intimate details of the lives of criminals," assume enormous importance in the eyes of young people whose judgment is not yet formed, creating a condition at variance with the best interest of society.

The resolution further states that members of the Federation will pledge themselves to speak of it when possible, thus arousing public sentiment throughout the community, and also to uphold those papers "whose policy is more enlightened and whose aims are always the betterment of society, in the belief that the better newspapers deplore this condition."

Reports of the Credentials committee showed that there were 738 delegates present, 256 clubs represented, and that 199 clubs had 100 per cent delegations in attendance. It would be impossible to list all the clubwomen of the Newtons who were present at all or some of the sessions. It would read like the social register of club officers and leaders. One intimate detail may be reported that was of interest, however. In the report of Mrs. I. W. Crowell, chairman of Junior Membership, she remarked upon the most unusual circumstance of mother and daughter being presidents of their respective Senior and Junior Clubs at the same time. Mrs. Edgar P. Hay being president of the West Newton Women's Educational Club and Miss Priscilla Hay being president of this Junior Club.

A bit of excitement in friendly interests occurred when Miss Alice P. Titus, who is known to the veteran clubwomen as the editor of Federation Topics, arrived unexpectedly, just back from a world-cruise, and a long stay in India, having sailed more than 30,000 miles and travelled nearly 8,000 miles on land, and visited 21 different countries, in a trip covering a period of 33 weeks. She had only landed in New York, after a 24-day cruise from Honolulu, the middle of the previous week, and in Boston on Monday—which no one knew—and no one had realized that she might breeze in. She was full of her adventures, and thrilling to her arrival on home soil, and made the centre of many eager groups who listened to her graphic and amusing descriptions of her experiences. They lived with her the high moment when she saw her mother who had been wintering at Pasadena. They laughed at her joy in coming upon acquaintances unexpectedly in India, California, and in many distant ports. And they enjoyed her description of how she was muddled in her sense of direction, for she had spent the winter in the east, and now in California she found herself going east to spend the summer. Quietly she declared that it was a Japanese fruit vendor in California who was wise enough to set her straight in her problem. (Verily is wisdom found sometimes in strange places!)

She told him to give her some of California's best, when buying some avocados, as she had never been in this State before. "Where have you come from?" queried he, guessing that she was a New Englander, no doubt. "The East," she answered, thinking to make a connecting link with his nationality. "Oh, you've been OUT EAST," he came back quickly, "I thought perhaps you'd come from BACK EAST." "So now I know where I am!" quoth Alice.

An announcement of interest was made by Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith, namely, that the New England Conference of State Federations will be held at the New Ocean House, September 25th, 26th, and 27th.

Perhaps the entire convention could be summarized briefly in its interests as: Reports satisfying for attainments, and inspiring for new conquests. Addresses informative, provocative. Music at all sessions beautiful and restful. Exhibits at the hotel entertaining, attractive. Sociability heart-warming, intimate.

Dr. Carl J. Friedrich, professor of Government at Harvard University, gave a masterly address on Monday on the subject "The Result of National Conference on International Relations," pointing out the characteristics of all nations in the grand scheme of balanced absorption.

On Tuesday, Dr. Philip E. Osgood, rector of Emmanuel Church, gave an inspirational address on "The Artistry of Self-Management," in which he urged the "integration of our powers and massing of our possibilities and warned against vain emotionalizing and specializing of the imagination in a negative direction." He affirmed that "there is more necessity now than in any part of the last century for us to consider what we are to be, more than what we are to give or have."

Mrs. Herbert H. Gurney, a past President, emphasized the value of power in creating public opinion. Mrs. Arthur Devens Potter, another past President, expressed the thought that "it is encouraging to learn that this younger generation are using their brains to find a way to settle things without war." "Youth," she said, "may take this problem in your hands and may God be with you."

Wednesday morning climaxed the convention in the always touching, thrilling, and personal last moments of farewells to beloved officers and welcoming of the new. It didn't seem possible that Mrs. Bennett had served the allotted two years as president, until one saw the marshalling of many, many North Shore clubwomen in a section, who had come to pay loving, loyal tribute to the leader who was one of them. And in another section over forty clubwomen from Whitinsville waved bright red roses and offered homage to the new leader from amongst them. Flowers, flowers, fragrant, in all the lovely colors, choice, stately—this perhaps the most evident token that the great movement of changing regimes had arrived. Endlessly it seemed that the ushers passed down the aisle with these tributes from admiring friends and associates, and to add to the allure there were mysterious packages carefully wrapped and tied with gay ribbons, precious gifts from clubs, from districts, from individuals.

Cheers and hearty applause greeted the report of the chairman of tellers that the ballot as submitted by the Nominating committee had been elected unanimously. (See this column in the GRAPHIC of March 30th.) A delightfully "personal" note was the presence of Mr. Walker who had come from Whitinsville to have the thrill of seeing his wife take over the gavel of the highest club office in the State.

A tender moment, too, was the one in which Mrs. Bennett, affectionately, sweetly, paid tribute to the retiring treasurer, Mrs. Frederick S. Davis. (Continued on Page 10)

A Lecture on Christian Science

Christian Science: Its Assurance to a Troubled World
By
PETER V. ROSS, C.S.B., of San Francisco, California

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

An audience that filled the church auditorium and Sunday School room attended a free public lecture on Christian Science, in First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newtonville, on Sunday evening, May 27. The lecturer, Mr. Peter V. Ross, of San Francisco, California was introduced by the First Reader of the church, Mr. Wm. E. McKee, who spoke as follows:

On behalf of First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Newton, it is my pleasure to extend to each and every one a most cordial welcome.

It has been said that the component parts of an enjoyable and profitable evening are an interesting subject; a well-informed exponent of the subject; and an appreciative audience.

We certainly have an interesting subject in Christian Science, a Christian Healer as found in the Bible and set forth in Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by our beloved Leader Mary Baker Eddy.

We have such an exponent in our lecturer who is a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ Scientist in Boston, Massachusetts, and who has proved in his own experiences the power of Truth to heal the sick and the sinning. And I am sure you will be a most appreciative audience for you have come here to gain a better understanding of this healing Truth. So, let us proceed to the enjoyment of our evening together.

I am most happy to present to you, Mr. Peter V. Ross of San Francisco who will now address you.

His subject is "Christian Science: Its Assurance to a Troubled World."

MR. ROSS.

In recent years the English speaking race, indeed western civilization, has been stirred to its depths by Mary Baker Eddy in her discovery and presentation of Christian Science. To countless thousands this Science has become their avowed religion, and has cast their lives, as they gratefully acknowledge, into a larger and finer mold. Other countless thousands never have read Mrs. Eddy's great book "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." Possibly they never have heard her name or spoken the words "Christian Science." Certainly they have not consciously accepted the religion. They may even disapprove what they suppose it to be.

Yet they have not escaped its sweet persuasion or healing touch, because its beneficent influence now has been at work in the world over half a century, and indirectly, if not directly, has reached multitudes who have not known its name. They voice its truths and live its precepts and enjoy its blessings, in some measure, quite unaware that the power which enriches their lives and makes for them a better world is Christian Science, and that their benefactor is Mary Baker Eddy.

She found this Science in the Scriptures. Its cornerstone is perfect God and perfect man, here and now. To trace the growth of a nation's idea of Deity is an interesting study, because it is to trace the spiritual development of the people. The Hebrew concept of the Supreme Being was long centuries unfolding. The Bible portrays the unfoldment in word pictures of rare color and vividness. It is a library in itself. Between its covers are sixty-six volumes, the flower of Hebrew literature. He who has not read the Bible attentively, in the light of Christian Science, has awaiting him an experience highly pleasurable and profitable.

SPIRITUAL PROGRESS

Its central theme is the advancing conception of Deity in the thought of the Hebrew race. To Abraham, when four thousand years ago he left the ancestral home in Ur of the Chaldees to sojourn in the land of promise, God, it seems, was scarcely more than a chieftain or king, great indeed, yet nevertheless human in form and temperament. Thus in that charming pastoral of the plains of Mesopotamia, the patriarch of the "three men" had turned his faces toward Sodom, remained standing before the Lord, and, drawing near, pleaded with Him to stay His purpose to destroy the city on account of its iniquities, if there should be found therein even ten righteous men. The Lord, having given His promise, went His way, and Abraham returned unto his place.

A slow process was spiritual development in those primitive days, tediously slow, as spiritual progress has always been. Hence it is not surprising that seven hundred years after Abraham, when Joshua had succeeded Moses in the leadership of the Hebrews, Jehovah, in their mistaken sense, was a god of war and vengeance. Therefore, when the Hebrews entered upon the conquest of Canaan, following their spectacular escape from Egypt and forty years of weary wandering in the wilderness, they supposed that God approved their ruthless attacks on tribes whose only offense against the Hebrews was occupying territory overflowing with milk and honey which the Hebrews coveted.

But if progress in spiritual things was warisomely slow with the Hebrews it was none the less certain, for when seven centuries more had rolled by they could listen to the admonition of Micah, as he preached by the wayside in Judah: "He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?"

Still another seven hundred years and Christ Jesus entered the arena of human history. By that time the Hebrews had so far advanced in spiritual discernment that they had some appreciation of his statement, made during his conversation with the Samaritan woman at the well, that God is Spirit. So that in the New Testament, those twenty-seven books were written at various times during the first hundred years following the crucifixion, Deity is no longer referred to as corporeal or manlike but, sometimes by implication and at other times expressly, is defined as Mind, Life, Love.

DEITY AND LIFE IDENTICAL

It remained, however, for Mary Baker Eddy, in her tireless quest for truth during the last half of the nineteenth century, to grasp the full meaning and significance of this enlightened concept of Deity, and to set it forth in language and logic so graphic and unmistakable that he who runs may read and understand. In one place (Science and Health, page 465) she defines God as "Infinite Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love." And in another (Retrospection and Introspection, page 59) she writes: "Life is a term used to indicate Deity; and every other name for the Supreme Being, if properly employed, has the signification of Life."

From this point of vantage it is easy to see how God can be everywhere and All-in-all, for obviously Life, Mind, Principle are everywhere and all-pervading. No place or purpose, then, remains for man but to abide in Life and reflect Life. Paul, speaking on this issue with his usual intensity, declares that in God "we live, and move, and have our being," and that God is "above all, and through all, and in you all." It is perfectly accurate, there, to define man as the expression or manifestation of Life — Life without beginning or danger or disease or end. To contemplate this scientific truth is to look into the perfect law of liberty, is to understand and apply the divine law which sets man free from the suppositional laws of sickness and decrepitude.

The recognition of this true status of God and man is the basis of Christian Science practice. Treatment or prayer in Science, in the case of sickness, consists largely in realizing, as clearly as one may, the unity of man with Life harmonious and irrefragable, and the consequent impossibility, save in belief or appearance, of inaction, inflammation, or infirmity of any kind.

Indeed, disease is a mesmeric state induced by the erroneous assumption that life inheres in matter and therefore that the material body has pleasure and pain. This mesmerism is broken by a recognition that God in His goodness and love has not made sickness and evil nor does He permit them to torment His creatures.

Eternal Life, of which the Scriptures aver man is the image and likeness, really cannot be in pain or sorrow. Life knows no opposition and brooks no interference, but, unfettered and uncontaminated, is in operation throughout man's being, even where disease may seem to hold sway. Having one's spiritual self in thought as the "temple," what more reverent, more rational, more potent prayer can one utter than to declare: "The Lord is in his holy temple, let all the earth (error, evil, disease) keep silence before him!"

DISEASE EXTINGUISHED

Did not Christ Jesus have this law, this truth, in thought when he announced, "I and my Father are one"? Out of the sense of power which the realization of his oneness with God gave him, he spoke with authority to the evils and diseases which infest mortal existence, and put them to flight. People flocked to him for help. On one occasion a palsied man was carried by his friends. Finding the house packed on their arrival, they opened the roof and lowered the helpless man, bed and all, into the midst before Jesus. "Son," said Jesus, "thy sins be forgiven thee. . . Arise, take up thy bed, and go thy way into thy house. And immediately he arose, took up his bed, and went forth before them all."

"Where'er he went affliction fled," and this oftentimes without any direct effort on his part, apparently. Listening to his speech or touching him in the throng, took on new hope and strength. They forgot their hunger, their bodily infirmities, their anguish of remorse. Ears were unstopped and eyes were opened. Three of his disciples, at the transfiguration, realized the prayer

I ask no dream no passing ecstasy. No sudden rending of this veil of clay;

Just send thine angel thoughts through opening skies To take the dimness of my vision away.

Then, with spiritual sense quickened, they saw the ancient prophets Moses and Elias in communion with their Master, and realized that individual men and women do not come to an end at the experience called death but live on invisible to dull material sense.

CHRIST JESUS

Every individual, gross though he may be apparently, has some spark of the divine, that is to say, some measure of genuine intelligence and goodness. The divine in these simple folk responded to the boundless life and love of which their Master was full to overflowing. Deep answered unto deep. They caught, as by reflection, the thrill and power of endless life which held away in this supreme figure who called himself the son of man or the Son of God according to his mood. They felt, in some degree, the force of Mrs. Eddy's profound observation, "Whatever is possible to God, is possible to man as God's reflection" (Miscellaneous Writings, page 183).

Jesus declared that it was not he who wrought the remarkable works, but the Father dwelling in him, that is, the divine Principle operating through him to the silencing of material limitations. In other words, it was the Christ that inspired him with confidence and invested him with dominion. By Christ is meant, to use Mrs. Eddy's illuminating definition, "The divine manifestation of God, which comes to the flesh to destroy incarnate error" (Science and Health, page 583).

It is safe to say that no one, not even the early followers of Christ Jesus, had a more accurate estimate of his teachings than has Mary Baker Eddy, Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science. Her spiritual insight, penetrative and sympathetic, discerned the purpose of his career, appreciated the magnitude and grandeur of his life, and, above all, comprehended the Science he employed in healing the sick and raising the dead. She silenced the age-long supposition that his extraordinary works were miracles in the usual sense of the word.

She saw that they were wrought not in contravention of law but in accordance with law — spiritual law, understood by him and understandable by others; and therefore that they were as natural and inevitable as they were significant in showing that spiritual man, real selfhood, is invulnerable to the attacks of mortality. She could understand and believe his works as readily as she could his words, because she could see how one who gives himself into the hands of divine Principle attains the mastery of sin, disease, and death.

There are those, it is true, who are skeptical about the New Testament biographies of Jesus, and sincerely so. Yet how has any one the right to question the acts ascribed to Jesus until he himself has reached the stature of sinless manhood? Who can say what potentialities reside in perfect man? In dealing with this subject Mrs. Eddy has penned some of the finest passages in English prose. Her chapter on "Atonement and Eucharist" in the Christian Science textbook is a masterful melody of words, while at the same time a profound and enlightening elucidation of spiritual truths.

TRUTH IN OPERATION

Thus she brought assurance of relief to a troubled world. She has given cheer, courage, and actual freedom to multitudes who otherwise had been in despair. Many are they, who through the study of her writings, have equipped themselves to speak with authority to the various types of sin and sickness to which flesh is heir. How hope revives in the sick room when a practitioner enters calm and assured because more than once he has seen pain retreat before truth!

And what is the truth which audibly and inaudibly he declares to the suffering until the distress abates? That Life, Life, is God, and therefore that strength and energy and harmonious action are his to the innermost recesses of his being; that the ailment, whatever its type, is at most temporary and evanescent, and actually not there, for the presence of God, of omnipotent Life and Love, makes the presence of sickness impossible.

This, and more of like character, will the practitioner affirm, until the insidious belief of suffering-for suffering is in belief rather than in actuality—gives way to the realization that man in the likeness of God is never out of reach of disease and danger. These enemies exist, if at all, only in the realm of human belief; and when they are faced and challenged as without cause or foundation they cannot do otherwise than retire from the field of human experience.

Sin and sickness are healed in Science by the same process. And what a glorious achievement it is to separate, in thought, disease from the person to whom it would cling, and, with the power of Science, prove its nothingness. There is no achievement more satisfying, unless it be to detach evil from the person it would defile and with Truth's weapons exterminate it. Yet every individual has it in his power, at least in some degree, to enter into the joy of these achievements and have part in the final conquest of sin and sickness.

For he can cease from talking and picturing evil and disease — cease from fastening them, in thought, upon himself and others. Thus he can withdraw, immediately and continuously, his support from these would-be enemies. Unsustained by human fear and belief they cannot long endure. And on the other hand he can cultivate the habit of fearlessly facing these foes as the fatalities and vagaries of mortal mind, and resolutely realizing that they are unreal, unknown to God and to His man and universe.

The world of industry and commerce has need of Christian Science. Suppose a business is sick almost unto dissolution. At least one of the directors may refuse to be alarmed. He recognizes that the enterprise holds a legitimate even a beneficent place in the community, offering needed employment and producing needed commodities. He courageously insists that such an institution has the support and guidance of Principle, and therefore that the storm of competition and depression cannot prevail against it, nor can internal dissension or inefficiency work its disintegration.

He maintains that unerring Mind directs those in charge of the business, employer and employee alike, and therefore that confusion and mistakes cannot interfere with a right outcome of the venture. In this way divine intelligence will be brought to bear in the premises, either to save the business or to place those connected with it into some new situation of usefulness and success.

PRESENT PERFECTION

These simple illustrations, which could be extended indefinitely, show how Christian Science, though purely idealistic or spiritual, can be applied to matter-of-fact affairs to bring about better conditions in daily life. The fact that Science can thus be utilized accounts for the "strong appeal it makes to a world struggling with its multiplicity of economic and social problems."

As men and nations accept the teachings of Christian Science, the human mind begins to part with its limitations. Then individuals begin to recognize the universe more nearly as it is and to envisage the health, abundance, and opportunity which are the legitimate birthright of man. Thereby does mankind get glimpses of that ultimate perfection which characterizes reality; for it would be a bold man who would argue that God's creation falls short of perfection.

Biology believes that man began a low, simple form of life, in an inconceivably remote past, and throughout the ages has been coiling upward toward a perfection attainable, if at all, in a future still dim and distant. Theology teaches that man began perfect, only thereafter to fall through disobedience; and that now his chief concern is to recapture that perfection.

Christian Science insists that spiritual man, true selfhood, was never less than perfect, never less than eternal Life expressed; and that perfection is man's real status now. Scientifically speaking, therefore, man is not working toward perfection; rather he is working from perfection, ever growing and expanding, "rising higher and higher from a boundless basis." To use Mrs. Eddy's colorful words from page 258 of "Science and Health":

For perfection is not static, no more than are Life and Mind, which undeniably are in constant and perpetual operation. Jesus sums this up emphatically when he declares, "My Father worketh hitherto, and I work." A state of rest or completion, without further work or continued capacity for unfoldment or higher heights to climb, would be intolerable. To paraphrase Tennyson's stirring lines

Man desires no Isles of the blest, no quiet seats of the Just, To rest in a golden grove, or to bask in a summer sky; Give him the wages of going on, and not to die.

MESMERIC REALM

When it is remembered that God is Mind and Spirit it must be conceded that man, genuinely, is mental and spiritual. It is of God and of spiritual man in His likeness that perfection is predicated. Confessedly man conceived materially is lamentably imperfect. There are not two men, one material and the other spiritual. What is called material man really is not man but simply the human mind's mistaken sense of man; for the human mind, itself limited and material, entertains a limited and material sense of man and the universe.

Hence the importance, in Science practice, of insisting at the outset upon present perfection, perfect God and perfect man, regardless of what the human mind or corporeal sense may testify to the contrary; doing so intelligently and gratefully. In this mental attitude, which is the effectual prayer of the righteous man, the individual will begin to gain the true sense of self and lose the false. In other words he will begin to part with his heaviness and infirmities and begin to experience more of the confidence and freedom which infallibly are his. This is what Paul calls putting off the old man and putting on the new. It is an undertaking to which every individual may direct himself, indeed to which he must direct himself if he would work out his salvation.

Fear, danger, limitation — all grow out of the supposition that man is a material creature inhabiting a material universe. All discord, disease, accidents are unrealities of the mesmeric mental realm in which man and things are believed to be material. Freedom and safety, on the other hand, are assured to spiritual man inhabiting the unobstructed realm of Spirit; and, genuinely, every individual is spiritual. There can be no dangers and impediments to spiritual man; but certain security and inextinguishable existence. Here is the truth which protects him who realizes it from disaster and destruction.

MATERIAL SYMBOLS

To affirm that man and the universe are spiritual obviously is to challenge the validity of matter. Yet to question the reality of matter, whether it appears in the human body or in the external world, is not to question the existence of man or the world or the things therein; it is only to question the accuracy of our concept of them. For matter, far from being the formidable substance it seems, is the human mind's limited sense of things. In disposing of matter, therefore, we are not combating an entity but correcting a mistaken conception. And we correct that concept through exchanging limited corporeal sense for spiritual sense full and unrestricted.

Putting matter in its most favorable light, we may say that what the human mind or corporeal sense vaguely sees in the landscape, tree, bird, or man is not the actual but a symbol of the true and genuine. And as corporeal sense yields to spiritual sense the symbols disappear and the stately structure of reality appears. Hence the force of Paul's admonition, "Let that Mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus;" for then will matter, with the limitation and suffering that follow in its train, depart from human experience.

To dim corporeal sense, or the unillumined human mind, the world may seem dull and drab—a place where strife and privation appear to be in ascendancy. To spiritual sense the world is appareled in celestial light—a place of peace and joy and uninterrupted usefulness. There are those glimmers of this new earth and heaven precisely where Jesus located it; for did he not say, "The kingdom of God is within you," that is, in consciousness awaiting recognition by every individual?

SPIRITUAL AWARENESS

The practical man is inclined to scout spiritual things as visionary and shadowy, and to put his trust in material things, for they, he argues, are tangible and knowable. Yet how are they, how is anything, tangible and knowable, to him or to anybody, except through consciousness. Consciousness tells the most confirmed materialist all he thinks he knows even about matter.

It is to human consciousness that iron is hard, the world round, the drood yellow, the lark melodious, the body heavy, the heart glad, the man merciful. Without consciousness there would be no form, no color, no sound, no rapture, no life, no man, no man.

Man, far from being the physical corporeality he appears, really is a reflection of divine supreme consciousness. Indeed Mrs. Eddy speaks of man as "an individual consciousness, characterized by the divine Spirit as idea, not matter" (Science and Health, page 76). But consciousness seems not wholly spiritual, not wholly good, but a blending of the spiritual and material, of good and evil; and man appears to vacillate between righteousness and sin, health and sickness, life and death. So that consciousness, mysterious in substance and swift in action, may one moment sound the depths of Adam and in another ascend the heights of Christ.

Yet, actually, there is no merging or confusion of material and spiritual elements in consciousness, because true consciousness is spiritual throughout. Actually there can be no blending of material and spiritual elements in man, because man, in the image and likeness of God, possesses no mortal or material qualities. For, writes Mrs. Eddy on page 477 of Science and Health: "Soul is the substance, life, and intelligence of man, which is individualized, but not in matter."

Whatever in man or in consciousness seems material or mortal is seeming or phenomenal only, not actual. That consciousness which testifies of matter and mortality is false and feeble; and however intimately it may appear to be associated with genuine consciousness the two really never touch or blend.

CONSCIOUSNESS CONTINUOUS

Life and Mind have always found expression, and always will find expression; and that expression is spiritual man, individual spiritual consciousness. Hence man coexists with God, without beginning of days or end of years. Not in the beginning of ages but in divine Principle has God created man. Therefore, were the mist of material existence lifted, it would be seen that birth and death are alike unknown to man. In this unassailable truth lies the remedy for fear.

It is so-called mortal man, the false material sense of self, that seems to be born into this vale of tears and appears to die out of it; and this false sense will recede and further recede to one who begins to gain the true sense of self and steadfastly holds it. How apt and heartening are Mrs. Eddy's inspired words: "Never born and never dying, it were impossible for man, under the government of God in eternal Science, to fall from his high estate" (Science and Health, page 255).

Material consciousness may lapse at times, as when an anaesthetic is administered or accident or sickness overtakes the individual. It may weaken or fade with advancing years and eventually come to an end. If one's observation extends no further than these passing phenomena, one may conclude that man is mortal and that individual existence ends with the grave.

And yet, were the entire structure of material consciousness dissolved, there would remain the sublime structure of spiritual consciousness, which, like Mind, is from everlasting to everlasting. Spiritual consciousness precedes birth as certainly as it persists after death. Repeatedly does Jesus refer to pre-existence as well as to future existence. "Father," he prayed, "glorify thou me with thine own self with the glory which I had with thee before the world was." Also, "I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world; again, I leave the world, and go to the Father."

True consciousness in its very nature cannot become unconscious. Says Addison—
The stars shall fade away, the sun himself
Grow dim with age, and nature sink
In years;
But thou shalt flourish in immortal youth,
Unhurt amidst the war of elements,
The wreck of matter, and the crash
Of worlds.

ANIMAL MAGNETISM

Human consciousness is the field where all curative and corrective work must be done. There it is that fear, ignorance, and sin would sow that consternation from which germinate disease and despair. And it is there that these components and companions of animal magnetism, of evil and mortality in action, must be intelligently and fearlessly rooted out, not only for the sake of peace and happiness but in behalf of health and longevity.

The reaction of the body to mental moods is as inevitable as it is obvious, for consciousness is the body's architect and builder and not only plans the edifice but furnishes the materials. Selfish, frightened, vicious thought darkens and disfigures the countenance, but it also interrupts digestion, stifles respiration, clogs every physiological function. So that it is logically true that he who habitually entertains mean, hateful, fearsome thoughts, when he might beam with love, gratitude, magnanimity, literally does not half live out his days.

A COURAGEOUS LIFE

These truths, which Mary Baker Eddy has set forth with such charm and dignity in her writings and exemplified so faithfully in her life, are neither remote nor abstract, though they may at first glance so seem; because as one contemplates and assimilates them, consciousness, thereby clarified and uplifted, builds a better body, a better career, a better world. In other words, as the individual thinks on these things of Spirit, his mentality gradually is transformed; and with the transforming of the mind come a renewal of health and hope and a vision of a world wherein are security and opportunity for endless progress.

Certainly the way is not easy; but we should be profoundly grateful that it has been made plain by Mrs. Eddy through the books she has written, the institutions she has founded, and the example she has set. One scarcely knows which to admire the more in this great woman—the extraordinary spiritual acumen which enabled her to discern Christian Science or the indomitable courage which qualified her to promulgate and establish it in a material age.

For the period in which she lived, 1827 to 1910, was an age when material achievement was paramount. Yet during those years there were released, through this New England woman's discovery, spiritual forces destined unobtrusively to lead the world out of the muddle into which proud materialism and intellectualism have plunged it. Her eminence in the religious world and among the benefactors of the human race is incalculable. Two authentic and readable biographies have appeared; one by Sibyl Wilbur, the other and later one by Lyman P. Powell. Both are available in most book shops and in all Christian Science reading rooms. She founded The Mother Church in Boston, which has branches all over the world. She established the Christian Science periodicals — the Journal, the Sentinel, the Monitor, and the Herald. And she placed all the affairs and activities of her Church in charge of The Christian Science Board of Directors. Under their able direction the Christian Science movement is rapidly growing and definitely fulfilling its appointed mission. It is common knowledge that people are healed by reading Christian Science literature or attending Science services. One can scarcely afford to overlook these opportunities for advancing his health and steadying his purpose in these troublous times.

NOT BY BREAD ALONE

Poverty in the presence of plenty — a strange paradox, truly. Now that ingenuity has brought forth machinery which all but abolishes physical labor, mankind is bewildered and knows not what to do with its leisure. Still mesmerized by the bygone curse that man must earn his bread by the sweat of his brow, people look about for a ditch to dig or a column to add; and they would make war on the machines that have despoiled them of their drudgery. So the world today, which might be a place of peace and abundance, with cultural and spiritual development as man's chief occupation, has, to appearances, become a place of alarm and want. And the end is not yet, for the miracle of production is hardly more than well underway. It can fill the world with comforts and luxuries as the waters cover the sea.

Have we not in all this a hint of the coming of man's dominion? The intelligence which almost miraculously has speeded up invention and released men from toil, can we not trust it to lead him into higher and richer fields of endeavor where work is unlabored and gloriously productive? Labor, in its old sense, is nearing its end, let us hope; but on the other hand let us not overlook the fact that man as God's representative cannot be otherwise than active, and that work and business, more and better than have yet been known, are at hand for those who have the vision to see.

And men have this vision just so far as they let that Mind be in them which was in Christ Jesus. That Mind holds the solution for the world's perplexities; it has a way of escape, leaving less upon our own understanding and gratefully turning to divine Mind for direction, we may confidently expect to find that way and that solution. More than this, we should conceive unreservedly that divine intelligence is available to our leaders in public affairs and clothes them with sagacity equal to the exigencies of the day. It is no time for captious or unfriendly criticism but a time for holding up the hands of those we have put in places of responsibility.

The fact is that after ages of wandering in materialism we are nearing the promised land. The Hebrews, when they reached the borders of Canaan after centuries of privation, were dismayed because of rumors of giant foes and fortified cities ahead. They therefore turned back into the wilderness, where they wandered forty years. Then, more courageous counsels prevailing, they marched on to possess the territory which had been sworn them. There may be temporary confusion with us today, but when we move forward with Him "whose presence bright all space doth occupy, all motion guide," depression will collapse as fell the olden walls of Jericho.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

white-haired, modest, who for 14 years has served faithfully, "the veteran" of the Board. Placing her arm around Mrs. Davis' shoulders, Mrs. Bennett gave to her an envelope, tied daintily with ribbon, saying: "This gift comes with the love and devotion of all the women in Massachusetts. Take it and buy something that you will like with it." It was the sum of $187 which had been contributed by all those attending the convention.

Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, the new president, has for many years been active in the Federation, serving in the capacity of vice-president, climbing the rounds of the ladder to the presidency. She belongs to the Whitinsville Woman's Club, Abigail Bacheller Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution; Boston Parliamentary Law Club, Daughters of Connecticut, Presidents' Club and the Whitinsville Golf Club. She received her B. A. degree from Mount Holyoke college in 1906 and did graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania during her teaching days. One of Mrs. Walker's hobbies is reading, and she has given many lectures on current literature. Since she became vice-president of the State Federation, eight years ago, she estimates that she has given 250 lectures and she also writes a weekly article for a Lawrence newspaper.

Mrs. Bennett's farewell was typically humorous and indicative of the character depth, yet expressed in understanding lightness, which has so endeared her to all through her years of club life. "You will never remember me as a great parliamentarian, because I'm not; but if you remember me because you love me, that will I am glad."

In a trice it seemed her arms were filled with fragrant flowers; boxes piled upon them, and surrounding her, as if by magic giving instant proof of her wish from the many in whose hearts she has made her place.

And after all, with all the weighty problems, and hard work, and serious considerations of the convention and of life as the clubwomen give off their services, isn't that the real thing that everyone wants in this world, and isn't this a good place to leave, this mighty convention, in this thought expressed by the outgoing president, which is the craving of all womanhood, and of all mankind.

An announcement of considerable interest has been made by Mrs. Charles E. P. Thompson of Fairhaven who advises that as chairman of the department of Literature and Drama of the State Federation she has accepted for the Federation a three-year scholarship from the Bishop-Lee School of the Theatre Arts and Spoken Word, of Boston. This scholarship, equivalent to $1200, will be awarded to the young woman possessing the highest degree of dramatic talent, and best fitted for a course in the study of dramatic art.

A series of State-wide auditions and try-outs will be conducted by Mrs. Thompson through department heads of the various women's clubs in Massachusetts. The contest is confined to daughters of women who are members of a club belonging to the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, or to any young woman who is a member of one of the Junior Women's Clubs of the State Federation. To qualify for a try-out the applicant must be under 25 years of age, have a high school education, or equivalent cultural background, or exceptional, outstanding talent.

Mrs. Thompson invites teachers of dramatic art to submit for consideration the names of pupils able to meet these requirements. Any young woman who feels she can fulfill the above-stated requirements, is invited to communicate with Mrs. Thompson.

One applicant and one alternate will be sent to Boston from each club competing there to take part in the final audition which will be held in Boston in September, the date to be announced later. Judges at the final audition will be outstanding figures in the drama world of Boston.

During the successful season just ended, the School has had an enrollment of over 200 boys and girls and for individual lessons as well as theory classes, two senior ensembles, a junior orchestra and trios. The twenty-fourth season will open on Tuesday, September 25th, with registration days a week earlier.

All Newton Music School Final Concert

The All Newton Music School closed its twenty-third season with a Final Concert at the Newton High School on last Monday evening. A large and enthusiastic audience was present and the program, consisting of popular and light classics, brought forth many favorable comments and much praise for the young musicians from several persons all prominent in musical circles.

Members of the theory classes as a Rhythm Band accompanied by the Junior orchestra, opened the concert and made a most interesting and inspiring picture. This number demonstrated one feature of the important theory work in ear-training, harmony and music appreciation which pupils receive in the theory classes under Miss Ruth Crandell.

Miss Elizabeth Fyfe, Director of the Music School and Head of the String Department, presented to the audience her assistants, the Misses Irene Forte and Mary Pucellarelli under whose leadership two separate ensembles had been trained and combined for the concert into one large group of sixty boys and girls. The orchestra played such enjoyable and well known numbers as the Bach-Gounod "Ave Maria," Gavotte from "Mignon," a Strauss Waltz, Bach's "Air on G String," and as a finale the "Pilgrim's Chorus from Tannhauser."

Miss Mabel Eager, president of the Board of Trustees, presented Certificates of Promotion to the following pupils: Junior to Intermediate Grade, in Violin—Nicola Cedrone, (who made two grades in one year), Netta Lucas, Marvin Perry; in Cello, Daphne Kenway; in Clarinet, John McCarty; in Piano, Laura Lord and James McLean. From Intermediate to Advanced Grade, certificates were given to Mary Curran, Jean Kenway and Mabel Worth; in Violin; to Eleanor Lord and Norma Olson; in Cello; and Dorothy Kovitz, in Piano. Music School pupils when graduating from High School receive a Certificate of Achievement which they present upon entering college, Normal School, etc. and receive credit for work already done in music. Those receiving such certificates this year were Mary Curran, Muriel Cohen and Mabel Worth, in Violin, and James Cook in Piano.

Construction Work On Bigelow and Day Schools Started

Newton Workmen Being Employed on Both Projects

Work is proceeding rapidly on the additions to the Bigelow Junior High School on Park st., Newton. The plans call for the addition of a new wing three stories high containing six class rooms and three special rooms. There will also be a stage built at the end of the gymnasium, which will in the future be used as an auditorium and a new cafeteria will be installed in the old auditorium.

The entire heating system of the present building will be removed and replaced with modern boilers and heating and ventilating equipment. Extensive changes will also be made in the electrical and plumbing systems.

The new work has been designed by Ripley & LeRoutier, Architects, with Fredrick-Billings Co. as contractors, members of both these firms are Newton taxpayers. The foundations are nearly completed and it is expected that the work will be finished before school reopens in September.

Newton workmen are being employed on this job and more will be engaged as the construction progresses.

Work has been started on the new addition to the F. A. Day Junior High School and is proceeding rapidly. Every effort is being made to complete the work before school reopens in September. The new addition will provide four new class rooms and a large ground floor play room.

Excavation is practically completed and the foundations and ground floor walls will be finished this week.

The labor for the building operations is recruited from Newton citizens and as the work progresses more Newton men will be employed upon the work.

Auto Kills City Employee at West Newton

Another fatal automobile accident occurred on Washington st. at 11:40 Friday night. John McBride, 58, of 432 Cherry st., West Newton, was crossing Washington st. opposite police headquarters when he was hit by a car driven by Frank Edgar of 21 Garden rd., Wellesley. McBride was taken to the Newton Hospital where it was found he had a fractured skull and other injuries which caused his death at 7:20 p. m., Saturday. The dead man had been employed for 16 years by the Newton Street Department. He was unmarried and had no near relatives. He was a member of Middlesex Court, M. C. O. F., and City Employees Local. His funeral service was held on Wednesday morning at St. Bernard's Church and burial was in Holy Cross Cemetery, Malden, of which city he was a native.

Some Autoists Go to Court

Melville Sissons of North Dartmouth was arraigned in the Newton court last Friday charged with driving a car so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. Patrolman Smith testified that on May 19 Sissons operated a car at a high rate of speed over the turnpike bypass at Parker st., Newton Centre, and collided with a car driven by Madeline Cobb of Richardson st., Newton Upper Falls. Elizabeth Wright of Boston, who was riding in the Cobb car, was injured. Judge Bacon sentenced Sissons to 30 days in Middlesex County prison, and suspended the sentence on condition that Sissons pay for the damage to the Cobb car and the injury to Miss Wright.

Phillip Rosenblatt of Needham was fined $5 in the Newton court on Friday for speeding. Patrolman Smith testified he drove a truck along Needham st., Newton Highlands, at a speed of 40 miles an hour.

Ask Improvements At West Newton

A petition circulated by Alfred R. Guzzi and signed by 200 residents of West Newton has been presented to Mayor Weeks. The petition asks that traffic lights be installed on Washington street at Elm street; that a bubbling fountain be placed in West Newton Square and benches be placed at the little park at Washington and Putnam streets. There have been many automobile accidents at or near the junction of Washington and Elm streets. The traffic signal would afford pedestrians an opportunity to cross the street without their lives being endangered. An elderly man was killed near this crossing only a few nights ago. In former years, most of the village squares in the Newtons had drinking fountains, but in recent years unless one had the price of a soda, or now of a beer, water is not obtainable unless one goes into a store and begs it.

A few weeks ago Mr. Guzzi wrote a letter to Mayor Weeks regarding a bad situation at the yard of the Franklin School on River street. Pools of water remain for days at the rear of the school, greatly limiting the small playing area available for the children attending this school and causing many of them to get wet feet. Mayor Weeks, according to Mr. Guzzi, has given his assurance that a drain will be laid at the school yard to abolish the puddles.

Protest Against Gas Station at Upper Falls

At the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night a hearing was held on the petition of Francis E. Brown for a permit to erect a building at the gasoline filling station at Royland and Chestnut streets, Upper Falls. John J. Walsh of Boston, an attorney interested in the station, appeared for the petitioner. He said that last fall the Aldermen granted a petition for a steel building but that neighbors had requested that a brick building be erected instead to improve the appearance of the station. He said the reason the steel structure was not erected was because of construction work on the turnpike.

Mrs. Harriet Grifley of 744 Quinoboscum road, Upper Falls said her home is next to the filling station and the locus of the latter is so small that it will be quite dangerous and nearly impossible for her to get in or out of her property, as there is no side walk along the street. She could not understand how the Aldermen voted to permit a station at the place. Miss Mary Sullivan of Bay State road, Boston said she and her family have owned the lot on the opposite corner from the station for 70 years; that the Aldermen two years ago took away a tenant from her and gave him to the owners of the filling station across the street, leaving her "holding the bag." She said that Mr. Walsh was well paid where the State took most of the lot where the filling station is located, and that she applies for a similar permit, she cannot very well be refused one as her lot is in a business zone.

Dog Bite Brings Suit Against Newton Centre Man

Daniel Myerberg of 39 Dolphin road, Newton Centre was the defendant in a suit in the Newton court on Saturday. The plaintiff, William J. Hall of Cambridge testified that while employed as a painter at Myerberg's home, he was bitten on the leg by a German shepherd dog owned by Myerberg. According to the testimony, the dog was not licensed. Myerberg testified that he had offered to pay all medical expenses incurred by Hall in treatment for the bite. He said that Hall offered to settle for $150. Judge Bacon continued the case to June 20.

Bids on Nevada Street School

Bids were opened Tuesday on the construction of the new school to be erected at Nevada street, Newtonville. The original bids were considered too high, having been much above what it was estimated this school would cost. Revised bids were asked for which were based on the elimination of a wing containing a large play room. The low bidder was J. Slotnick Company of Boston whose bid was $283,000. The lowest bid on the rejected bids was $314,800. This was on the original plans. Other low bidders on the revised plans were Thomas O'Connor, $285,819; Turner Construction Company, $285,959; A. Piotti, $291,885; Sawyer Construction Co., $295,250. O'Connor was the builder of the John W. Weeks School at Newton Centre.

Fear Rabies In Newton Again

Dr. C. A. Routelle, city veterinarian, was present at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night and as a result the sum of $800 was appropriated to provide for clinics to again immunize dogs in Newton against rabies. Outbreaks of this dread disease have been prevalent in several communities in Greater Boston and Dr. Routelle advocated the precautionary measure to aid in keeping the disease out of this city.

Former Newton Minister Honored With Degree

Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson, minister of Channing Church from 1901 to 1910, has received the degree of doctor of divinity from the Pacific Unitarian School for the Ministry at Berkeley, Calif., where he preached the baccalaureate at the recent commencement. Dr. Hudson, now 30 years old, still carries the active pastoral duties of the First Parish Church of Dorchester, where he was settled in 1921. Of New England ancestry, descended through his mother from Rev. John Lathrop of Barnstable, he was born in Richland, Oswego County, N. Y., but went with his family in early youth to Iowa. After graduation from Iowa State University he entered the practice of law at Sioux City. In 1935 he was one of a group of seven men who organized the First Unitarian Church of that city. After ten years at the bar he gave up a successful practice to carry out the purpose, cherished from boyhood, of entering the ministry. While studying at Harvard Divinity School he was called to Salt Lake City, where he rendered effective service in building up the Unitarian Church. After three years there in Salt Lake City and Buffalo he came to Newton, where his service of ten years made a deep impression on the church and the community. Between his pastorates in Newton and Dorchester he was called to the historic First Parish of Quincy. Dr. Hudson holds the degrees of A.B. and LL.B. from Iowa State University and S.T.B. and A.M. from Harvard.

City Awards Coal Contracts

Mayor Weeks on Friday awarded several contracts for furnishing coal to the city. The Massachusetts Wharf Coal Company was given a contract to furnish 7000 tons of bituminous (run of mine) coal at $5.82 the ton, and 2000 tons of slack coal at $5.62 the ton. The B. S. Hatch Coal Company was given a contract to provide 627 tons of anthracite coal at $5.803; $5.64 a ton for pea coal, $10.34 for nut, $10.59 for stove, $7.99 for buckwheat. The White Fuel Company of Boston was awarded the contract to furnish 28 tons of blacksmith coal at $6.50 the ton.

Fined $50 for Drunken Driving

Francis McCourt of 272 Parker st., Newton Centre, was fined $50 in court on Wednesday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested at Newton Centre last week by Patrolman Kilmain.

Speeders fined $5 each in court on the same day included J. Shagoury, Natick and Joseph Bailey, Everett. For not stopping before entering a through way Joe Casella of 320 Cherry st., West Newton and Pasquale Capello of Oak ave., West Newton, were fined $5 each. Michael Sero-nick of Dorchester was fined $5 for driving to the left on a street.

Many Children Using Library—

A phone has now been installed in the new Boys' and Girls' Library in the Chaffin house on Vernon street, Newton Corner, with an extension to the Schools Department upstairs. The number for both departments is Newton North 1213.

Since its opening on May 26, more than a thousand children have used the Boys' and Girls' Library, with a large increase in the circulation of books. The children are all very enthusiastic about their "own library". Several times on Saturday and Monday afternoons very little standing room was left.

In order to give adults an opportunity to see the library, the Trustees and the Staff will have "Open House" next Wednesday evening, June 13, from 7 to 9 o'clock. It is hoped that many people will be able to come to enjoy the garden as well as the house.

A number of people have inquired what the "hump" means which has been added to the building on the east side of the house. This is a book lift to carry books from the Schools Department upstairs to the library truck below. The circulation of juvenile books from the Schools Department is about 60,000 a year, so that this lift is a very useful and efficient contrivance.

Aldermen Hold Several Hearings

A regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen was scheduled to start at 7:45 Monday evening and citizens from Hunnewell Hill, Upper Falls and other parts of Newton were present in City Hall to attend hearings on various matters. But, the Newton Board of Aldermen is as indifferent to punctuality as former Mayor Jimmie Walker was reported to have been, and the citizens had to wait until 8:40 before the meeting started.

The first hearing before the Board was on a petition to the Edison Company for a permit to erect three poles on Oakleigh Road, Newton, north of Hunnewell Avenue. Mr. Pepin of the Edison Company explained that the poles are asked for in order to provide street lights on Oakleigh Road. Dr. W. D. Rowland of 166 Oakleigh road objected to the proposed locations of the poles as one of the lights would be directly in front of a sleeping chamber at his home. W. H. Darling of 185 Oakleigh road said that since some of the residents on the street did not seem to be decided on just what they want, it would be better not to have the poles and lights on the street. Florence Bacon of 170 Oakleigh road said that when her mother signed the petition for the lights she did not realize it would mean the erection of three poles on the street, so she is opposed to the petition. The matter was referred to the Licenses Committee for further consideration.

No opposition developed against the petitions of the telephones and Edison companies for pole locations on Varick road, Waban and Charlesbank road, Newton. No person appeared to favor or oppose the petition of the Star Market for a permit to install a 1000 gallon gasoline pump and tank next to its store at 304 Walnut street. Alderman Temperley objected against having a large gasoline tank in a congested business section. He asked what was Chief Randall's attitude on this matter and was informed by Alderman Hill that the Chief disapproves of this petition.

G. Howard Frost advocated the granting of the petition for a drain from Gordon road to Cold Spring Brook culvert. He said it is needed to drain swampy area, and that Henry B. Day also favors it.

S. L. MacMillan of Ridgeway terrace and John Norton of Canterbury road, asked that a drain and sewer be constructed in the latter street. They said the cesspools now in use there are unsanitary and jeopardize the health of the neighborhood. Dr. E. C. Vogt, Rudolph Whitelegg and J. J. Leahy asked for the acceptance of Bonaire Circle, Waban. They said this street is a mudhole in the Spring, with inches of water on it and very dusty in hot weather.

Alderman Murray advised them to get the necessary legal documents signed as soon as possible so that the city can improve and accept this street.

Will Elect School Committee Member On June 19th

Waban Woman Mentioned As Mrs. Cornell's Successor

Prior to the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night a convention was held between members of the School Committee and the Board of Aldermen to take action on the election of a successor to Mrs. Kate C. Cornell who recently resigned as member of the School Committee from Ward 5. She was re-elected last December to serve a term of 3 years. All six members of the School Committee were present, including Chairman Amesbury and Messrs. Smith, Bryant, Fernald, Mather and Butta. The Board of Aldermen was all present except Aldermen Cordingley and Hutchinson.

Chairman Amesbury made a motion that a convention of the two bodies be held on Tuesday, June 19 at 7 p. m. for the purpose of electing a successor to Mrs. Cornell and that this meeting be duly advertised. President Collins of the Aldermen said that this convention established a precedent in Newton and he asked that some member of the Board of Aldermen second Mr. Amesbury's motion to comply with legal requirements. Several of the Aldermen did as Mr. Collins requested.

It is understood that Mrs. Margaret H. Woods of 141 Moffat road, Waban, is receiving serious consideration as Mrs. Cornell's successor.

Others, whose names have been mentioned to succeed Mrs. Cornell—are Mrs. Caroline S. Rogers of 35 Dudley rd., Oak Hill, and Francis W. McOwen of Elliot st., Upper Falls, who was defeated by Mrs. Cornell at the election last December.

Julius Warren, who will succeed John Lund as superintendent of Newton Schools is expected to be in the East this month and has been invited to be present at the meeting of the School Committee on June 19.

Newton Police Get Sam Browne Belts

All the members of the Newton police force were equipped yesterday with black Sam Browne belts and new .38 calibre revolvers which are conspicuously worn in holsters attached to the belts. Fortunately it was a cool day, so the men did not sweeter under the leather harness worn outside their warm blue serge coats. During the coming hot weather the police will wear uniforms that are permitted to shed the heat. The slender members of the department look snappy in the type of belt which was the pride of "shavetails" in the A. E. F. during the World War. The stout members of the force have their obesity emphasized by the new addition to their uniforms.

Grace Episcopal Church Announces New Rector

Grace Church, Newton, of which Dr. Laurens MacLure is Rector Emeritus, is happy to announce that the Rev. Tage Telsen of Troy, N. Y., has accepted the call as its new rector. Mr. Telsen is a native of Denmark, brought to this country by his parents when a small child, and he grew up in the suburbs of Philadelphia. He received his college education at the University of the City of New York and his theological training at the Philadelphia Divinity School, of the Episcopal Church.

He began his ministry as assistant to the Rev. Dr. Harriman in St. Peter's Church, Albany, N. Y. Thence he was called, after two years, to be rector of St. Paul's Church, Kittanning, Penn., from which position he went to Troy, N. Y., as rector of St. Paul's the beautiful old mother church of that city.

Mr. Telsen will be in residence in the rectory after Labor Day to begin the fall work of the parish.

During July and August the services will be as usual. — Holy Communion at 8:30 and Morning Prayer and Sermon at 11:00 o'clock. The Rev. H. Robert Smith of St. Paul's, Malden, will conduct the services during July, and the Rev. Lloyd R. Gilmet of Emanuel Church, Boston, will be in charge during August.

Kiwanians Hold Teachers' Day

In honor of John Lund, Supt. of Schools, who recently resigned, the Newton Kiwanis Club held a teachers' day luncheon on Tuesday at the Charles River Country Club. Besides the guest of honor, the school masters who attended included Paul E. Ellicker, Principal of the Newton High School; Frank W. Chase, Principal of the Bigelow Junior High School; Russell V. Burkhard, Principal of the F. A. Day Junior High School; Paul S. Scarborough, Principal of the Levi F. Warren Junior High School, and Frank F. Carr, Principal of the John W. Weeks Junior High School. Grade school principals who attended were G. Winthrop Brainerd, Kenelm Winslow, Elmer E. Ellsworth, William A. Leighton, Carlton W. Roy, Clarence E. Churchill, Samuel B. Paul and Charlton D. Miller. George Kellar, Assistant to the Superintendent, represented the School Committee, and James Forbes, Director of the Newton Trade School, and President of the Kiwanis Club, presided.

Attorney James P. Gallagher in behalf of the club expressed the organization's regret at Mr. Lund's departure from the city, and wished him every possible success in his new field of teacher training. Mr. Gallagher chided members of the club who had pointed out some of the guests as former teachers. "I want to apologize," he said, "for the action taken today by some of the Kiwanis members who apparently want to pin their educational delinquencies on some of you school teachers. I cannot claim that any of you taught me when I went to grade school, but I delivered groceries to Mr. Chase and there is nothing in that relationship in which either can be criticized. Probably Mr. Chase benefited by the character of the groceries and I am proud in that respect to have contributed to the educational system of Newton."

In a more serious vein, Mr. Gallagher praised the departing superintendent for being a little more human than most men who make teaching their vocation. "He hasn't radiated at any time a feeling of aloofness and we are sorry to see him go," said Mr. Gallagher, "but glad to see him progress along the path he has chosen."

In reply Mr. Lund thanked the Kiwanians for the interest they have always displayed in school problems. Success of the Newton school system he attributed to the teachers. "Superintendents come and go," he declared, "but the teaching force furnishes the basis for a sound educational system and does the actual work of training the children, whereas the superintendent's task is primarily one of administration."

Vacancies for Midshipmen

The Navy Department has notified Representative Robert Luce that there will be three vacancies for midshipmen at the U. S. Naval Academy in June, 1935, for each of which nomination of a principal and three alternates should be made some time during next fall or winter. It is probable that the usual preliminary competitive examination will be held open to residents of the Ninth Massachusetts Congressional District, comprising wards 4 to 10 of Cambridge, Newton, Waltham, Lincoln, Weston, Watertown, Brookline, Wellesley, and Ward 22 of Boston. Persons interested in appointments should address Congressman Luce at Washington before July 1 or at 91 Summer Street, Waltham, after that date.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:
Much that the conductor of the column "About Town" said last week regarding gas station locations on Boylston street will meet with approval from the residents living on or near that speedway. These same residents may perhaps be of the mind, however, that as a desirable highway where alluring quiet may be had after the day's grind, it falls short of what it was a few years ago.

The column conductor was particularly pointed in taking exceptions to the granting of the gas station permit last September at the corner of Boylston and Chestnut streets. Many residents and abutters protested before it was granted. Knowing of the situation and feeling of the district, it was impossible for me to vote for the gas station, though in voting "No" I found myself considerably out of step with most of the other Aldermen.

Yours truly,

THE NO-MARKING SYSTEM

With the close of the school year there is some indication that the no-marking system which was inaugurated last fall in the elementary schools throughout the city has not been entirely satisfactory. Petitions are being circulated by parents opposed to the system and will be presented to the School Committee at its meeting on June nineteenth. It is quite probable that the system has faults, as did the former method of competitive marking. From our understanding of the situation when it was adopted we believed that much of the success of the new method was dependent upon the ability of the teachers to administer it. We make no claim that the criticism that is being raised at present is due to failure in this respect. We have no means of ascertaining whether or not the opposition is raised by the voice of the majority or a minority. With a change to be made during the summer months in the office of superintendent of schools we can see no immediate practical solution. We believe that the best course for all concerned would be to defer action until the beginning of the school year. At that time it would be a simple matter for the school department to make a survey of the parents of children in the schools where the no-marking system is in use and obtain an accurate picture of the feelings of the parents.

THE POLICE BILL

This week the House of Representatives defeated by a margin of more than forty votes the so-called police unification bill advocated by Governor Ely and many other prominent citizens. The bill has been revived through the special message of yesterday and more acrimonious debate will probably ensue. It is interesting to note that nine Democrats supported their Governor while a majority of Republican members favored the measure. We believe that there is an urgent need for legislation along these lines.

Under The Gilded Dome

The defeat of the bill for unification of the police, the establishment of a police training school and other minor provisions was the outstanding bit of action on Beacon Hill this week. The House Ways and Means Committee, to whom the bill was referred after a stormy passage through the Senate where most of the teeth were removed from it, reported favorably upon the measure. In order to save some time the Committee reported the bill as it received it and offered various floor amendments to restore the provisions deleted by the upper branch of the Legislature. Representative Baker was in charge of these several amendments while Rep. Cahill, House floor-leader and chairman of the Judiciary Committee which drew up the bill, was in charge of the main bill. Various other amendments were offered, some seeking to enlarge the scope of the bill and some to restrict it further. Debate on the matter lasted for nearly three hours Wednesday afternoon. When the vote was taken the opposition grew more and more bolsterous as each amendment was put and it was apparent that the bill was lost. Finally, after all amendments were refused, a roll-call vote on the main bill showed 125 in opposition and 84 in favor. Newton's three Representatives Baker, Brimblecom and Luitwieler were among the minority. Of about one hundred Democratic members of the House but nine voted in favor of the bill while some twenty odd Republicans joined with the great number of Democrats to defeat the bill.

On Thursday morning a motion to reconsider the vote was asked by Rep. Cahill who also moved to postpone action on the motion. Postponement was adopted after some debate. About twelve thirty a joint convention of both branches of the Legislature was called and Governor Ely addressed them with a special message regarding the police bill. The Governor minced no words in his address and at the afternoon sessions of the two branches much criticism of his address was made when the question came on referring the address to the Committee on Judiciary. The same bill which the House defeated on Wednesday was then revived through adoption of the postponed motion to reconsider and then it was recommended to the Judiciary Committee in order that they might have the entire question before them again. Whether or not the Governor's address will bring sufficient support for the measure to have it adopted seems to be a question which will only be answered when the Committee reports back and it is expected that prorogation, which was believed possible next week, may be delayed some days.

Speaker Saltonstall of the House of Representatives took the floor on Monday for the second time this session. The lower branch had passed to be engrossed the bill providing that the State Police shall be called into a labor disturbance in a city or town $1000 for bonus money to Newton police to induce them to become proficient in revolver marksmanship for defence against possible invasion of Newton by bandits. Police equipped with Sam Browne belts to carry new revolvers which, together with other firearms and armored cars cost thousands of dollars. Also for protection against possible banditry.

Two new motorcycles lying idle at the police garage; no provision for motorcycle officers to ride them. Two reported the bill as it received it and offered various floor amendments to restore the provisions deleted by the upper branch of the Legislature. Representative Baker was in charge of these several amendments while Rep. Cahill, House floor-leader and chairman of the Judiciary Committee which drew up the bill, was in charge of the main bill. Various other amendments were offered, some seeking to enlarge the scope of the bill and some to restrict it further. Debate on the matter lasted for nearly three hours Wednesday afternoon. Of about one hundred Democratic members of the House but nine voted in favor of the bill while some twenty odd Republicans joined with the great number of Democrats to defeat the bill.

Plenty of money being spent to provide against possible banditry. Less protection against the biggest problem police face today—control of automobile traffic; not a possibility but an actuality. Persons killed by automobiles—and plenty are being killed, are just as dead as the few who might be killed by bandits' bullets. And the prominent citizens and officials who importune for stern measures against bandits, use their influence to assist those who kill and maim by reckless driving of automobiles to escape not only proper punishment, but even any punishment. And the "safety drives" continue.

The number of human vermin who cruise Newton streets in automobiles accosting women and girls, annoying and frightening them, is on the increase. This is one of the results of having no policemen doing foot patrol duty along most of the streets in this city.

only upon request of the mayor or reelection on a roll call vote of 104 to 101. After acting upon another matter the Speaker left the rostrum and asked for reconsideration of the previous vote. He urged that the House should not tie the Governor's hands, whoever the Chief Executive might be, and that the bill was not a labor measure but was a question of peace. The bill, he believed, constituted a direct increase in the danger of violence. Reconsideration prevailed on a voice vote and the question recurred on passing the bill to be engrossed. On a roll call the bill was then defeated by 107 to 100. On both occasions the three Newton Representatives voted against the bill and on the second roll-call Speaker Saltonstall's name was added to those against it.

Senator Hollis led an attempt to override the Governor's veto on a bill exempting Spanish War veterans from civil service in the Senate early this week and was successful 25 to 9. When the House took up the matter the Governor's veto was sustained by a vote of 121 to 62. With barely more than a third voting to sustain the Governor the bill was defeated. Representatives Baker and Luitwieler voted to sustain the Governor and Rep. Brimblecom to override.

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

When cartoonists give us pictures of the man with a handkerchief stuffed around his collar and bat on the back of his head we may be sure hot weather has arrived.

Oddments

There are a number of Newton residents who have my best wishes for a long, long vacation. Indeed, the more extended their absence the better for our city. I refer to the motorists who make a race course of Centre st. in front of the Newton Free Library and irrepressible youngsters who continuously and defiantly ride bicycles on the sidewalks.

The clash between the Postal officials and the utility companies and others who distribute bills instead of mailing them offers hope for delinquent customers. If the Postmaster insists that these bills shall not be deposited in residential mail boxes the companies may decide that it is cheaper not to send out any.

Ambition Finds a Way

The struggle for learning among our youth seems to me a most courageous thing. It has always existed as proved by the biographies of our great men and women. The most heartening thing about it is that there are as many ambitious folk as ever. Some of the instances that have recently come to my mind have so impressed me that I have set them down. Only the other day I met a young man who is determined to enter the clergy. I say determined because it is shown in the fact that he is willing to work on an ice wagon from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. every Saturday for $1. He hopes for a steady job this summer.

Another young man, whose mind is set on becoming a teacher, is playing a saxophone in a dance orchestra. Late hours and exacting patrons, who must have the latest tunes, which means practice, apparently make no difference with this boy's studies. He's bound to get there. He, by the way, was not the only one seeking to pick up some money on the side through music. One of them was a young woman who has found that her cello playing aids her in obtaining a college course.

You probably know of camp counselors and playground instructors of both sexes whose ambition is to keep employed profitably between now and the reopening of colleges. My acquaintances include several for whom I must express admiration.

No doubt ushering in a big picture theatre on Saturdays and Sundays and during vacation has often been tried. I know of at least two college students who are glad to see the latest pictures and pocket the money their services produce. As for gathering subscriptions for periodicals that is another form of earning something. No doubt there are many more ways to increase one's tiny store of wealth. The best of it all is that the seekers after knowledge have not diminished in numbers.

Pet Names

Odd things pop into our heads when some event of world importance is recorded. That explains why the news of the death of the famous Japanese Admiral, Marquis Heihachiro Togo, carried me back to the fluty Spitz that a neighbor once owned. This "Togo" received his name about 23 years ago when the "silent little man" of the Japanese navy accomplished the destruction of the Russian fleet. The name still hangs, though possibly it has since been bestowed on dogs and other pets by people who do not remember its origin or possess a vague notion that it belonged to someone in Japan.

As uncertain as is my tottering memory it still contains other names for dogs. "Alfonso" or "Alfonse" was one borne by a Boston bull. He possibly received it from some one who thought a canine could carry it as well as the since dethroned ruler of Spain. Or it may be that it had something to do with those overpolite gentlemen, Alfonso and Gaston, who made "After you, my dear Alfonso" a favorite saying.

Many pairs of animals carried the names of "Mike" and "Ike," who, as I recall, were said to "look alike." I remember two cats, "Mutt and Jeff" and do not hesitate to believe there are many four-legged creatures and bipeds, too, wearing the cognomens of Bud Fisher's popular zanyes.

A bit old-fashioned for the 20th century and yet popular in the gay 90's and long years before was "Cae-nar," while from Europe, too, came "Bruno," the name of the saint who founded the Carthusian order. These and "Rover" belong only to large, impressive animals such as Great Danes, Newfoundlanders and St. Bernards.

In Spanish War days many a dog found himself whistled to under the name of "Dewey" because everybody talked of Admiral George Dewey's sinking of the Spanish fleet in 1898.

"The Place for My Savings"

There was a black mongrel of which I was extremely fond named "Pompey" for the Roman general.

To royalty, dog and pet owners in general shall ever owe a debt of gratitude. Just think yourself how many you have known by the name of "Prince", "Rex", "Queenie", "Duke" and even the individuals such as "Nero" and "Hector".

Col. Lindbergh's never-to-be-forgotten flight brought the name of "Lindy" into the nomenclature of the animal kingdom. Not many days ago I fondled a noble feline the name of which was "Lindy". But, unfortunately, I haven't heard many of the newer ones. That's probably because I am no longer numbered among the happy pet-owners.

Boys Will be Heard

Leave it to the young. If adults hesitate to speak their minds in public against seeming injustices one of the juvenile members of the family may be heard. In this instance mother and son dropped into an eating place. There they found another woman and her son. The two boys sat together while their mothers engaged in animated conversation. The first lad, he seemed about 11 or 12 years old, picked up the bill-of-fare. No doubt he was hungry as boys usually are. It was not noisy, rather attractive, with an air of daintiness and refinement. The boy with the menu was impressed, apparently, by only one thing—the prices. With a loud and resonant voice he spoke, "What a chiseling place this is—fifty cents for a chicken sandwich." His mother's face immediately became crimson with embarrassment while the eyes of the other patrons shone with delighted approval.

Habit and Happiness

DR. FIESSINGER of Paris, in the Journal des Practiciens, says:

"The happiest men in the world are men with habits."

No one will dispute the great doctor's assertion, especially if he refers to good habits. The happiest people we know are those who have the habit of saving systematically.

Why shouldn't they be? They're free from financial worries! Are you?

Newton Circle

The first Board meeting of the Newton Circle, Inc., for the year 1934-35 was held at the home of the new president, Mrs. Frank A. Day, Jr., on May 25th.

Fifteen members were present, who discussed the immediate problems of the work of the Circle, voted money for special cases, and for the summer's needs, and adjourned until the regular September meeting.

STATE FEDERATION

Committee Chairman Appointed

An innovation this year was the announcement at the Annual Meeting of the new chairman of committees, taking the place of the outgoing chairmen, as appointed by the State Executive Board, instead of the usual awaiting of publication of the State Manual in September when curiosity is finally satisfied upon this interesting question. These — and the very first one, and one other, are of special interest to clubwomen of Newton are Music chairman, Mrs. M. H. Gulesian of Newton Centre; International Relations, Mrs. W. O. B. Little of West Roxbury; American Home, Mrs. Schuyler Van Ness of Framingham; Inter-racial Unity, Mrs. Burtis J. Whittemore of Framingham; Motion Pictures, Mrs. Bernard S. Sabean of Brockton; Physically Handicapped, Mrs. Earl J. Smith of Roslindale; Press and Publicity, Miss Grace Parker of Arlington; Junior Membership, Mrs. Charles C. Wilson of Auburndale; Radio, Mrs. Margaret E. Richardson of Marlboro; and Legislation, Mrs. Arthur Sennert of Danvers.

Mrs. Herbert F. French will have charge of exhibits.

Mrs. Margaret Richardson of Marlboro, who is appointed director of Radio, succeeding Mrs. Charles L. Fuller, who has served efficiently in that position for the past three years, has served the past year as Radio Music director in the department of Press and Publicity of the State Federation.

Miss Grace Parker, of Arlington, who succeeds Mrs. Reuben Gleason, Jr., as Press chairman, brings to her work a wide experience. She has been women's club editor and managing editor of the Arlington Advocate, which has been in her family for a period of 60 years, and which was recently sold to her brother-in-law, Harold B. Wood. Her father was the Charles S. Parker, widely known in newspaper circles, and she is the niece of the late John L. Parker, formerly editor of the Lynn Item. She holds membership in the Arlington Woman's Club.

Speaking of editors and Press work, the Juniors in the State may be proud of their delegate to Hot Springs, Arkansas, attending the Council Meeting of the General Federation, Miss Ruth Lothrop, of Quincy, as the assistant club editor of the Quincy Patriot Ledger. Her mother, too, Mrs. Maude Lothrop, is a club editor.

Our own Mrs. Gulesian and Mrs. Willson in these appointments are already well known in club life, or in fields of talent.

GENERAL FEDERATION

In Session at Hot Springs, Arkansas

A few of the vital records of business transacted by the General Federation of Women's Clubs in their Council Meeting should be known by all clubwomen. It is a matter of regret that a full account of the meetings with their reports of chairmen and addresses of noteworthy speakers, and a report of the many pleasurable social activities, also, may not be given here. Sketchy as this presentation must necessarily be of a full week's events, especially to the clubwoman who was so fortunate as to attend this convention, it may prove of interest, and decidedly informative, to Newton clubwomen who want to keep abreast with all club activities.

Women of America must learn more about topics of national importance. This was the opinion expressed by Mrs. Grace Morrison, Poole, of Brockton, Mass., national president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, as the Council gathered at Hot Springs, Arkansas, on May 20th, for a week's session.

With open minds, the women from all over the United States and its possessions some 1,500 of them, representing almost 2,000,000 more, considered such topics as the proposed equal rights amendment, birth control, old-age pensions, unemployment insurance, and crime control.

Discussions of these topics gave the clubwomen information upon them by speakers in favor and in opposition expressing opinions and arguments.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Delegates displayed great interest in a debate on old-age pensions and unemployment compensation between Mrs. Irene Sylvester Chubb, of St. Louis, Mo., representing the League of Women Voters, and Mr. Noel Sargent, of New York, secretary of the National Association of Manufacturers. Mrs. Chubb reported the League of Women voters already had endorsed both old-age pensions and unemployment compensations, and superannuated citizens of 23 states already are receiving old-age pensions. The average pension in 1932 was $25 a month, while the average cost of poorhouse care was $43 a person—an excellent point of her argument.

Mrs. Chubb outlined the Dill-Connelly bill pending in Congress to provide $10,000,000 fund for old-age pensions to be matched with state funds in the ratio of one-third federal funds to two-thirds state funds.

Mr. Sargent said as to unemployment insurance, employers would not know what to use for money should they be called upon to pay the 5 per cent pay roll tax provided in the proposed unemployment insurance bill. He expressed the belief such a measure might tend to further increase unemployment, and old-age pensions might further diminish savings by taxing the thrifty to support the less thrifty.

Advocating unemployment reserves, Mrs. Chubb showed unemployment is not a phenomenon of "depression" alone, there having been from 1,500,000 to 4,000,000 unemployed during the period from 1920 to 1927.

Although Mrs. Margaret Sanger, champion of birth control for twenty years, wired to Mrs. Poole from New York City that she had decided to come by air to the convention in order to debate with Dr. Theodore Aschmann, of Kansas City, she was unable to attend on account of an injured ankle.

Supporting the movement, as a substitute for Mrs. Sanger, Dr. Charles Francis Potter, of New York, declared that present legislation relative to birth control should be "relegated to the Bronx zoo with the 'iron lizard,'" and urged that the subject be included in the program of study for all clubs.

It was interesting to note that—assuming that wisdom is gained with years—the oldest delegate, who has never missed a convention, Mrs. L. L. Blankenburg, aged 89, of Philadelphia, Penn., spoke Monday in favor of birth control, against the equal rights amendment, and favored old-age pensions.

The Equal Rights amendment came up for debate with Mrs. Burnita Shelton Matthews, of Washington, attorney and representative of the national women's party, speaking in support of the amendment, and Mrs. Jerome E. Cook, of St. Louis, opposing its provisions.

The Equal Rights amendment would put women into the Constitution, Mrs. Matthews declared, and "would strike down the shackles the common law places upon women, and would mean that every woman shall hold her life, liberty, property, immunities and privileges under the protection of the general rules governing other human beings.

That clubwomen have been not only interested but very actively—and ably—assisting in many government problems and projects was proven by various statements and reports. Mrs. Poole, therefore, even while voicing her realization that women must become informed upon national affairs, may congratulate herself as president of an organization that has been recognized in high places during the past year. In her address, Mrs. Poole reported that the President of the United States three times has by letter expressed his appreciation of intelligent co-operation given by clubwomen of the United States.

And not as if to return the compliment, but, too, since commendation should not be all on one side, the General Federation in a Resolution commended President Roosevelt for his efforts in attempting to obtain an embargo on the shipment of arms to Bolivia and Paraguay. The same Resolution directed that a letter of thanks to President Roosevelt be sent by Mrs. Poole, expressing appreciation of his recent approval in his message to the Senate, of the Geneva Arms and Ammunition Convention.

Another letter sent to President Roosevelt by the Board of Directors urged his signing of the bill giving American mothers the right to transmit their American nationality to their children.

This President Roosevelt did on May 25th to the great joy of all American women. This Equal Nationality bill removes the last vestiges of inequality between men and women in the nationality laws of the United States. On the same day the United States Senate ratified the Montevideo equal nationality treaty. Women leaders are confident that other American republics will now follow the example of the United States, and that non-American countries will also adhere to the treaty.

Another commendatory message reported was a telegram received by Mrs. Fred L. Pigeon, chairman of Education, from Mr. George F. Zook, United States Commissioner of Education, expressing appreciation of the work done by the General Federation in safeguarding and developing public education in the United States.

Aldermen Meet

Its customary "short recesses" to allow various committees to meet. The recess lasted until 10:58. When the Board resumed the open meeting, on recommendation of the License Committee it was voted to grant a permit to the Newton Paint Store to sell gasoline at 284 Centre st., and to grant a transient vendor's license to Nathan A. White in the large store at the corner of Centre and Jefferson sts. White is to sell the fire damaged stock of a large Waltham store.

Alderman Temperley commented that the paying of $340 for 16,000 metal envelopes for the bathing tickets seemed a rather high price. Alderman Gordon, chairman of the Finance Committee, explained that the city will be reimbursed for this appropriation by the payment of fees by bathers, and that these envelopes will also be used next winter to contain tickets for skating privileges. Evidently skating on Bulfinch's Pond is to be restricted to residents of Newton.

A hearing was set at the next meeting of the Board on June 19 on the widening of East Side Parkway. The City Treasurer was empowered to deposit with the Newton Trust Company $75,000 of funds of the Couzens Fund on 6 months certificates at a rate of 1 per cent per annum. The trustees of this fund were authorized to cancel payments on certain loans; the persons having received these loans being financially embarrassed and unable to meet the specified payments. Another claim for damages from blasting when the sewer was excavated last year on Tremont street was received from Mrs. H. G. Cutter of 12 Marlboro street.

The meeting adjourned at 11:42 p. m.

West Newton Woman Dies From Injuries

Mrs. Pauline Keefe, wife of Edward A. Keefe of 124 Sheridan st., West Newton, whose neck was broken and who received other critical injuries on Sunday, May 27, when she was run over by an automobile near Spot Pond, Melrose, died yesterday morning at the New England Sanatorium, Melrose, where she was taken after the accident. The car, parked on a high bank above a level space where Mrs. Keefe and relatives were enjoying a family outing, was accidentally started by her small child. She was born in Cambridge 34 years ago, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bork. She is survived by her husband; three young children, a son and two daughters; her parents, four sisters and a brother. Her funeral service will be held tomorrow at St. Bernard's Church, West Newton. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

Alleged Hit-Run Driver Arrested

Theodore Lemieux of 51 Westchester rd., Newton, was arrested on Saturday night by Patrolman Taffe on the charge of leaving the scene of an accident without revealing his identity. A car owned by Mrs. Eva Ferriald of 63 Elmhurst rd., Newton, was parked on Centre st., Newton Corner, when it was hit in the rear by a car which it is alleged was driven by Lemieux. The driver of the colliding car drove away after the accident. Mrs. Dorothy Lehrer of 9 Vincent st., West Newton, who was seated in the parked car, and who was injured in the collision, took the registration number of the other car, and bystanders also took the number. On this information police went to Lemieux's home but he denied having been involved in the accident. He was later identified by Mrs. Lehrer and arrested at 9:45.

Two Bidders For City Land At West Newton

The large lot of land owned by the city at West Newton on Washington st., near Felton st. is sought by Newton real estate dealers who want to sell it, in turn, to some gasoline company. The lot contains over 35,000 square feet and is in the business district. Efforts were made to buy it some years ago but former Mayor Childs opposed its sale. John T. Burns & Sons recently offered $15,000 for this land with the proviso that a permit for a gasoline filling station be included in the sale. This week Phillips Byfield bettered the Burns offer by stating that he will pay $17,500 for the land.

"AXLEFLEX" INDEPENDENT SPRINGING AVAILABLE

Independent front springing is available as optional equipment on Terraplanes and Hudsons for 1934. This new suspension has been subjected to rigid tests over the past two years. It gives a so-called "knee action" to the front axle, permitting the wheels to rise and fall and the front springs to act independently in a vertical plane. The action is similar to that of an airplane landing gear. It has been designed as the axleflex type of independent spring suspension. To meet the ideal requirements of independent springing, gaining front end stability without sacrificing safety, control on sharp turns and preventing excessive wheel wobble and tire wear, independent action of the front wheels and springs must be confined to action in a vertical plane. This the Hudson engineers have accomplished in the axleflex method.

Present Watch To Retiring Secretary

Miss Ruth Chapin Long Connected With Welfare Work

At the last Board meeting for this season, a beautiful gold wrist watch was presented by the members of the Board of Directors of the Newton Welfare Bureau to Miss Ruth Chapin, General Secretary, who is resigning this summer after nearly seven years with the bureau. This is the end of Miss Chapin's third separate period with the bureau—first as a student under Miss Margaret Rich, the first Secretary of the Bureau, when Miss Chapin was at Simmons College; second after she had completed her school training and was employed by Miss Rich to do the Home Service work for the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross for a two years' period which took in the very interesting but difficult period of readjustment into civilian life after demobilization. Therefore, Miss Chapin has been intimately associated with the families of Newton citizens during many ups and downs, because that same two-year period took in the influenza epidemic and the Police Strike, when so many Newton men volunteered to do police duty in Boston. Apropos of her leaving, Miss Chapin gave a brief history of what she has seen the organization do during these three periods of her association, totaling about ten years in all. She never forgot some of her experiences going into families during the influenza epidemic, in some of which there were six and seven members all ill at the same time.

During the Police Strike, the Public Safety Committee asked the Bureau to make the investigations where it was a question of reimbursement for business income lost because of police duty, serious enough to affect the family situation.

In 1920 the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs asked the Newton Welfare Bureau to be responsible for the spending of the money raised by the sale of Christmas Seals in Newton. This money was to be spent only for anti-tuberculosis work, and a committee was formed called the Health Committee which since that date has strictly supervised the expenditures of this annual fund, which has since been called the Health Fund, and is entirely separate from any Welfare Bureau budget.

Mother's Rest asked the Newton Welfare about 1924 if they would be responsible for making arrangements for all the Newton mothers who were recommended for the Rest by any of the other Newton agencies, and the Newton Welfare Bureau has made these arrangements since that time.

In 1923 the Travelers Aid Society asked the Welfare Bureau if they would be its representative in Newton, to which it agreed, and since that time has been doing the few pieces of Travelers Aid work that come up in the city. These are usually emergencies and have to be done quickly, and have led to some very interesting contacts with Newton families when relatives become stranded in various places throughout the United States.

When unemployment became a community problem beyond the ability of existing agencies to handle and the Mayor's Relief Committee was formed, (Continued on Page 2)

Dog Clinics Held The Past Week

Last week about 5000 notices were mailed to owners, or suspected owners, of dogs in the City of Newton; 4000 to the former class and 1000 to the latter. The notices read:

"Owing to the prevalence of rabies in surrounding cities and towns, the Board of Aldermen by order approved by His Honor, Mayor Sinclair Weeks, have ordered the establishment of a dog clinic for the immunization of dogs against possible infection from rabies. All owners of dogs are urged to take their dogs to the clinic at the old High School drill shed near the corner of Elm road, and have them vaccinated free of charge. Immunity conferred by inoculation is good for a period of only one year so that dogs inoculated a year ago should be vaccinated again at this time.

"Take your dog on leash to the clinic with your 1934 dog license. Owners whose names begin with A. to D. inclusive, Monday, June 11. Owners whose names begin with E. to I. inclusive, Tuesday, June 12. Owners whose names begin with J. to Q. inclusive, Wednesday, June 13. Owners whose names begin with R. to T. inclusive, Thursday, June 14. Owners whose names begin with U. to Z. inclusive, Friday, June 15 3 to 6 o'clock.

"Proper co-operation on the part of dog owners in this matter will have a marked tendency to decrease the hazard of an epidemic or the unfortunate happening of a person being bitten by a rabid dog. Immunization will prevent spread of rabies; may save you from possible suits for damages; will prevent the necessity of restraining dogs and will work for the public good."

At the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen the sum of $300 was appropriated on advice of Dr. Boutelle, city veterinarian, who told the Aldermen of the prevalence of rabies in nearby communities.

Ninth Summer Vacation Church School Planned

At the annual meeting of the Newtonville Council of Religious Education, Prof. W. H. Tibble presiding, held Sunday, June 3, it was voted to conduct the ninth consecutive annual, Daily Vacation Church school. This school will be supervised and promoted as a community project under the auspices of the council.

Opening on Monday, July 9, for all boys and girls, grades 1-6 inclusive. It will continue each week day morning except Saturday, for 4 weeks, and will be held in the Newtonville M. E. Church.

Announcements of the school have been prepared by a committee including Mrs. C. J. Trowbridge, Mr. Geo. A. Lund, Miss Alice Nelson, Mr. Ernest W. Kuebler.

Invitations are being extended through the surrounding churches of Newton Corner and West Newton, so that children of those parishes living in the vicinity of Newtonville may attend.

The school will be a well supervised program of class group activities, vocational, dramatics, handwork and recreation, with emphasis upon personal guidance in Christian living. A carefully selected and trained staff of 6 teachers will be directed by Everett R. Johnson who has directed the school for the past 3 summers. A special committee consisting of Mrs. E. O. Woodward, Miss Alice Nelson and Mr. Ernest Kuebler were appointed by the Council to authorize the curriculum and appoint the teachers.

Every indication points to an increased registration. In order to make adequate plans, an opportunity for registration of boys and girls will be made possible at the Summer School Rally on Tuesday afternoon, June 19, 2:30 p. m. at the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville. At this rally, moving pictures of the School in action will be shown, teachers will be present, and the 1934 Program will be announced.

Parents are especially invited to come to meet first hand the leadership. Registration will be made at the Rally. Inquiries or Registrations may be sent to Daily Vacation School Director, c/o Newtonville M. E. Church, Newtonville.

The annual election of officers of the Council resulted in the following: President, Mr. Wallace C. Ross; vice president, Mr. Henry G. Webster; secretary, Miss Sara Feeling; treasurer, Mr. Allyn Woodward.

Scholarships And Awards Are Given At Graduation

Hallett, Frazier, Dickinson and Charlotte Paul Get Honors

Several thousand parents and friends of pupils of the Newton High School Class of 1934 almost filled the Dickinson Stadium at Newtonville last Saturday afternoon to witness the 74th graduation ceremonies. Diplomas were presented to five hundred and seventy nine boys and girls and announcement was made of the winners of twenty-six scholarships and prize awards.

The most highly prized Meserve scholarship was awarded to Maurice Crockett Hallett. This scholarship is provided from the Charles D. Meserve Fund set up by the alumni in memory of a former teacher. The announcement was made by Frank Ash, lay day of the class of 1913. Hallett plans to enter Dartmouth.

The Dickinson Memorial Athletic Cup given in memory of Coach Alfred W. Dickinson for the greatest improvement in athletics through co-operation, team play and sportsmanship was won by Claude Rand Frazier. Frazier was a member of the varsity football, basketball and outdoor track squads.

The Senior Cups are prized by the recipients because they represent the outstanding boy and girl in the class from the viewpoint of scholarship, leadership, character and service. The selections are determined by vote of the class and the faculty. Charlotte Paul received the girls' award and Alfred W. Dickinson, Jr., the boys' award.

The various scholarships provided by organizations were awarded as follows:

Community Club of Newton, to Julia Thompson Dwight and Jean Van Horn Warring, '32.

Lend A Hand Masque, to Jane Gilman, '32.

May Scholarship, M. I. T., to Julius Kovitz and John Arthur Wilson, Jr., Newton Rotary Club, to Lloyd Bergeson and Howard Charles Ness.

Newton Centre Neighborhood Club, to Barbara Burr, '32.

Newton Centre Woman's Club, to Dorothy Virginia Davis.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club, to Martha Elizabeth Silvera.

Newtonville Woman's Club, to Jean Louise Walker.

R., for proficiency in United States history, was awarded to Rosalind Kenway Lewis '35, and a cash prize for the highest rating in United States history, offered by Sarah Hull Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was won by Elizabeth Loring Weston of the graduating class.

The gift of the senior class to the school was a fund for the purchase of a trophy cabinet. The announcement of the gift was made by Theodore K. Johnson, president of the class.

Kindergartens To Open at 8.30

When Newton public schools open next September the morning sessions of the kindergartens will start at 8:30 instead of 9 o'clock. The School Department has made this change because in many of the schools in this city it has been found necessary to have both morning and afternoon sessions of the kindergartens to provide for all the children whose parents desire them to attend kindergartens. The morning sessions will last from 8:30 until 11 a. m. The afternoon sessions will start at 1:30 and end at 3:30. Children who will attend the morning sessions the first half of the school year, will be transferred to the afternoon sessions the last half, and vice versa. Children will be eligible to attend in September who will be 4½ years old on the 1st of October. Birth certificates and vaccination certificates must be presented before they will be admitted to the classes.

The change will make it convenient for older children who accompany the kindergarten pupils to school, and who have had to wait heretofore until the kindergarten sessions opened.

Newton Women In Bus Crash

Three Newton Upper Falls young women were slightly injured on Wednesday night when a Boston Elevated bus in which they were riding at Cambridge collided with a car driven by a Holliston man. The three were Rose Savigno, Laura Savigno and Cecilia Vito of St. Mary's street.

Impressions of the GOP Pre-Primary Convention

To begin with, the convocation at Worcester on June 9th was enthusiastic and harmonious. There was an unmistakable undercurrent of confidence wherever you went. Bacon and Haig buttons appeared from nowhere the minute that the two chief nominations had been made. Frankly, the ovations accorded Haig surpassed the demonstrations for Bacon, but this was largely due to the fact that Western Republicans had assembled in force at Worcester to celebrate their feat in landing one of the two big nominations—a very rare event.

Newtonians will be gratified to know that Leverett Saltonstall received a tremendous ovation—second to none—at the night before banquet, which was attended by over thirteen hundred delegates and friends. I talked with delegates from all over the State, and, without exception, every man expressed his affection and respect for the Speaker of the House. In my judgment, the sacrifice which he made in withdrawing his name from consideration for any place on the 1934 ticket will make doubly sure his nomination for Lieutenant-Governor (at least) two years hence. One keen observer located many, many miles from Newton, went so far as to predict that the G. O. P. will lose 50,000 votes in the election because Saltonstall is not on the ticket.

Passing on, let me say that the convention brought home to me most forcefully the fact that the days of the Old Guard are obviously numbered. It was really pathetic to notice their waning power and influence, best exemplified by the failure of their efforts to dig up a senatorial candidate to give battle to Robert M. Washburn. The real choice of the old timers appeared to be former Governor Frank G. Allen or former Senator William M. Butler, but neither man had a Chinaman's chance from the very start, and there was nothing to the honor. To be sure, Mayor George Bates, of Salem, had no "run out" on the Convention late Saturday afternoon, could have probably won the nomination. This would have satisfied practically everybody save the most rabid Washburn cohorts, and a relatively small Hannigan group.

No, the young Republicans are rapidly taking over the reins of the Republican Party in Massachusetts, and from now on you will hear more and more about Bacon, Saltonstall, Tarnell, Lodge, Hexter, Parkman, Bushnell, and last, but far from least, Sinclair Weeks. Even Hannigan, discredited in some quarters for his attitude on the senatorial nomination last spring, is a strong and useful factor in the party, and his delegates by his sportsmanlike attitude, in defeat, to be sure, for harmony which closed the proceedings.

Now for a glance at Newton's share in the deliberations of the Convention. I have already spoken of Leverett Saltonstall's prominence and popularity. Our Mayor, Sinclair Weeks, who was Chairman of the all-important Resolutions Committee, wielded considerable influence, and on the only occasion when a serious attempt was made to amend the platform, he came out victorious and the platform, as finally adopted, was substantially as drawn by the Resolutions Committee. Furthermore, the Mayor's name was advanced in private conferences as a possible senatorial candidate, but no encouragement was given to this movement for the very good reason that the Mayor has a political future, and the senatorial nomination would probably serve as a liability rather than an asset to a man in his position. Then there was former District Attorney Robert T. Bushnell, of Newton, who for several weeks had been considered a serious menace to the candidacy of Joseph E. Warner for Governor.

At the last moment, Bushnell's friends withdrew his name, with the result that Warner was unopposed for the nomination. Do not think for a moment, however, that this represented a real setback to Bushnell, for the inside dope is that his reward will come to him without the lapse of very many years. Lastly, we have Miss Margaret McGill, of Newtonville, one of the leading Republican women in the State, who made an extremely able seconding speech for Lieutenant-Governor Bacon. She was the only woman to second the nomination of either of the two major candidates, and she made a marked impression on the delegates.

The various objectives of the Convention seemed to have been attained. Western Republicans have been not merely placated, but enthused over the nomination of Haig for Lieutenant-Governor. Our good friends, the weaker sex (it is to laugh), are unquestionably delighted over the nomination of Mrs. Elizabeth W. Pigeon, of Boston, for State Auditor, and those who have been restive and dissatisfied for many years over the refusal of the Republican Party to recognize the various racial groups, must indeed feel pleased with the very strong endorsement given Oscar W. Dionne, of New Bedford, for State Treasurer. As a matter of fact, it is only fair to state that the fundamental harmony of the Convention was marred a bit here and there while the fights for Treasurer and Auditor were going on. The senatorial battle was relatively peaceful, simply because the Old Guard caved in and produced no formidable opposition to Washburn. Parenthetically, may I suggest that Washburn may not be such a ridiculously easy opponent for (Continued on Page 3)

Judge Braley Decides Against Newton Police

Rules Mayor Weeks Did Not Act In Bad Faith

On Wednesday of this week Judge Abner L. Braley of Canton gave a decision on the petition of the 124 members of the Newton police department against the action of Mayor Weeks in reducing their salaries 7½% on January 1, 1933. The police contended that the Mayor had no legal right to reduce their salaries because the financial condition of the city did not necessitate such action. They also questioned, through their attorney, that the Mayor was the proper official to make the salary reduction. The police and their attorney, Mr. McLaughlin, held conferences with the Mayor and then entered the petition in the Newton District Court. Judge Braley was appointed to make a decision on this case about 15 months ago, in March, 1933.

Last year the Milton police took similar action against the Selectmen of that town when they received salary reductions and the judge in the District Court of Eastern Norfolk County decided against the Selectmen. The latter appealed to the Supreme Court of this State, and that body decided that municipal officers can reduce salaries of city and town employees, unless it can be proved that they act in bad faith. The decision by the Milton court was made many months ago and the Supreme Court decision was also made some months ago. The Newton police have been patiently awaiting Judge Braley's decision.

Judge Braley ruled that Mayor Weeks did not act in bad faith and that he is the proper official to reduce the salaries and has the authority. In making his decision Judge Braley said:

"Under the decision rendered in Milton vs. the Judge of the District Court of Eastern Norfolk . . . it would appear that when municipal officers decide that for economic reasons, reductions in the carrying on of government should be made, including these reductions in salaries of employees, the District Court, on a petition of this nature, is without jurisdiction to review their action unless they (the municipal officers) acted in bad faith.

"In the instant case, the employees affected were notified, 124 appeared by counsel, hearings were held, and I cannot find that this respondent acted in bad faith, even if his reasons for reductions of compensation could be shown to be without merit if considered from an economic and financial standpoint.

"It is contended that the respondent AND the chief of police should have conducted the hearings, and that the respondent was without power to act. As previously stated, so far as disclosed by the record, this contention was not distinctly advanced at the hearings before the respondent. I rule that the respondent was the proper officer to hold the hearings and to pass upon the matter in controversy.

"In the summary of the testimony the court took 'judicial notice of the depression,' stating: 'It was further agreed that the petitioners might ask the court to take judicial notice that the United States departed from the gold standard and that as a result the purchasing power of the dollar was reduced. The court takes judicial notice of the depression.'"

Driver In Fatal Accident In Court

An inquest was held last Friday at Newton district court on the death of John McBride of 432 Cherry street, West Newton, who was fatally injured on the night of June 1st while crossing Washington street, opposite police headquarters, West Newton. Judge Charles Brown conducted the inquest and after hearing the evidence presented by Special Officer Charles Feeley, who investigated the case, he ordered a complaint issued against Frank Edgar of Garden street, Wellesley, the driver of the car involved. Edgar was arraigned in the Newton court last Saturday charged with driving to endanger the lives and safety of the public. His case was continued until June 22. McBride was a city employee.

School Children On Annual Arlo Pilgrimage

On Tuesday, June 12th, the fourth grade of the Cabot School with Miss Thompson, Principal, and Mrs. Snow, their teacher, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cobb of Newton Upper Falls at an afternoon party. The trip to the Cobb home was one of the annual events planned for fourth grade pupils from various Newton schools, and known familiarly as an "Arlo Pilgrimage," because of the story of which Mr. and Mrs. Cobb are the authors. The trees on the estate blossomed with paper bunnions in pink and yellow just for the day, and were ready for picking by forty pairs of eager hands. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served on the lawn. Stories and games and an old-fashioned "hay tumble" finished the afternoon with enthusiasm, and parents bundled their children home after a pleasant afternoon at "Seven Acres."

Open House at Boys' Girls' Library

The Chaffin homestead at 124 Vernon st., Newton, recently converted into a Boys' and Girls' Library was the scene of an "open house" on Wednesday evening, June 13, from 7 to 9 o'clock. More than 300 adults visited this attractive library for children.

The guests were shown through the various rooms of the building and the attractive grounds and rose garden were also inspected. On the first floor is a large room for children of the elementary school grades, a room for junior high school pupils, librarians room and a work room. On the second floor are two rooms devoted to the storage of the books which are circulated through the Newton schools.

In these rooms are many brightly colored pictures of European origin; pictures of children for children. The originals of these prints were painted by young folks, some of whom are mere children. In one of the rooms, as a temporary exhibit, is an excellent reproduction of Whistler's "Mother," painted by 12 year old Walter Beekford of Prince st., West Newton.

On Wednesday 22 librarians from Greater Boston, members of the "Book Review Club" inspected the building and held their meeting in the garden outside. Yesterday nearly 200 librarians from the New England States comprising the "Round Table of Children's Librarians" inspected the library and then held a meeting in Eliot Church.

Curtains for the first floor of the Children's Library have been provided as a result of contributions of $50 each from the Newton Community Club and the Social Science Club in addition to contributions from several interested persons who were friends of the late Mrs. John P. R. Sherman, daughter of John C. Chaffin. The committee which arranged for the providing of these curtains was composed of Mrs. Samuel N. Braham, chairman; Mrs. John T. Alden, Miss Florence Bacon, Mrs. Fred T. Field, Mrs. Joseph N. Palmer, Mrs. Clarence K. Reiman. This committee received valuable assistance from Miss Katherine Roquemore of West Newton, who conducts an interior decorating business in Boston.

Reckless Driving Charge Against W. Newton Woman

Mrs. Nancy Hickey of Fountain street, West Newton was arraigned in the district court in Boston yesterday before Judge Adlow on a charge of driving a car recklessly and the case continued to Saturday. Boston police had also asked for a complaint on the charge of manslaughter against Mrs. Hickey, but Judge Murray dismissed this application. On the night of June 2 a car driven by Mrs. Hickey hit a man on Columbus avenue, Boston. Witnesses testified she kept on driving. A car behind hers, driven by Gertrude Lewis of Somerville, then hit the prone body of the man first hit by the Hickey car, and dragged it 300 feet. The man died. Mrs. Lewis is also charged with reckless driving.

To Collect Fund For Feeley Family

Friends of the late Francis G. Feeley, former sergeant in the Newton Police Department, who died recently, met at Police Headquarters in West Newton on Tuesday evening and formed the Feeley Fund Associates. The purpose of the organization is to raise a fund for Sergeant Feeley's widow and three children.

Chief Michael T. Hughes of the Newton Police Department was selected as Chairman, James Dempsey of the Mayor's Office as Secretary, and Charles E. Hatfield, Treasurer of Middlesex County, as Treasurer of the fund.

Representatives from the District Attorney's office in East Cambridge and from Police Departments in Waltham, Watertown, Wellesley, Cambridge, Boston and Worcester attended the organization meeting.

The next meeting of the group will be held in Newton Police Headquarters on Tuesday evening, July 17th.

Newton Assessors Do Not Favor Sale City Owned Land

Call Attention To Possible Use As Fire Station Site

The Newton Board of Assessors are not in favor of the sale by the city of the large lot of land on Washington st., West Newton, to any real estate dealer, who in turn will sell all or part of this land to some gasoline company. The lot in question contains over 35,000 square feet. It is located on Washington st. near Felton st., and is contiguous to the business district at West Newton. It is in a private residence zone.

Recently John T. Burns & Sons offered the city $15,000 for this property, with the proviso that a permit for a gasoline filling station be included in the transaction. Another realtor, Phillips Byfield, subsequently offered $17,500 for the land with the same proviso regarding the filling station. The Board of Aldermen, to whom the offers had been referred, requested the opinion of the Board of Assessors. The latter advise that if the city intends to consider the sale of this property, bids should be asked from oil companies direct, with the probability that a filling station permit granted on even part of this property would bring more return to the city than either of the offers made.

They also call attention to the fact that Chief Randlett of the Fire Department has recommended that this site be used for a fire station, for which it is well adapted. Attention is also called to the necessity of changing the zone where the land is located from residence to business before any filling station can be permitted there.

Sullivan Made Police Sergeant

Patrolman Michael Sullivan of 16 Edinboro terrace, Newtonville was promoted to sergeant in the Newton police department on Wednesday by Chief Hughes. He will succeed the late Sergeant Frank Feeley in this rank. Sullivan is 32 years old, was appointed a patrolman in 1925 and headed the list of eligibles in the examination held some months ago. Sergeant Thomas Burke who has been doing night street duty was transferred to the detective squad to fill the vacancy caused by Feeley's death. William Kerrigan of 124½ Boylston street, Upper Falls, a reserve man, was appointed a regular patrolman.

New Secretary of Welfare Bureau

Miss Harriet L. Parsons of 134 Seawall avenue, Brookline has been appointed executive secretary of the Newton Welfare Bureau to succeed Miss Ruth Chapin. She will assume her duties on August 1. Miss Parsons is the daughter of Herbert C. Parsons, former commissioner of probation. She is a graduate of Simmons College, served as an instructor in social work for four years, was a probation officer in district courts and for two years was a case worker for the Boston Psychopathic Hospital.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

WATERS LEADS AS LOCAL ATHLETE ON ALL-SCHOLASTIC NINE

With the end of the scholastic baseball season comes the annual selection of all-scholastic teams. Johnny Waters, versatile Newton athlete, is the choice of several sports writers for various 1934 nines. Waters was the outstanding player on Newton's nine this season, playing practically every position and coming through for Coach Jones in many instances. He led the Newton team at bat with an average of .380 compiled from nineteen hits in fifty times at bat. He made three home runs and one two base hit with the other fifteen bingles being all of the one-base variety. Early in the season Waters was an outfielder and was also regarded by the Newton coach as a possible pitching prospect. As the season progressed Coach Jones' infield was playing rather erratic ball and Waters was brought in and shifted here and there in an effort to plug the gap. For a while first baseman Jimmy Byrne was out and Waters filled in until the former returned to duty. Then Waters played at third for a game or two and finally ended up the season at shortstop with Captain Flagg moving over to the hot corner. This puts on the left sector of the diamond with Johnny Spilman at second and Byrne on the initial sack gave the orange and black a steady and well-rounded infield.

On the Boston Globe's all-scholastic team Waters was named captain and utility infielder. His all-round ability gained him this distinction and while there were perhaps other choices for various positions who were even more outstanding than the Newton lad his part throughout the Newton season could not be overlooked.

Three Newton boys were named on the Transcript's annual all-Suburban league team selected by a composite choice of votes of the coaches of the four league teams. Conflicting opinions resulted in the votes for two of the positions. One of these was for the catching berth with John Spatichino of Cambridge Latin and Max Van Dam of Brookline dividing the honors. The other position was in right field where Charlie Mascia of Newton and Arthur Borges of the Cantabs each received two votes. Johnny Waters received three votes to win the centerfield berth while Bill Spilman also received three votes for second base. Captain Charley Flagg received two votes for shortstop but failed to be named on the team because Francis Crawley of the Cantabs received two votes for short and one for second base for a total of three votes. Jimmy Byrne of Newton received one vote for first base which went to Matthews of Rindge Tech, the choice of the other three coaches.

Waters was named for third base on the Boston Traveler's first team. Spilman was named at second base on the second team while the other local athletes who received honorable mention on this nine were Ryan and Greene, pitchers; Morrison, catcher; Mascia, McDermott, and Bosworth, outfielders; Byrne, first base; and Flagg, shortstop.

the Welfare Bureau was again asked to step in and to assist by handling questions of financial relief into families for the Mayor's Relief Committee and to be reimbursed monthly by them. This cooperative plan was successfully carried out for over three years. In the meantime the Newton Community Chest was formed to raise money for the private agencies, and on January 1, 1934, the Community Chest cut its allocation $12,500, thereby discontinuing Unemployment Relief by private agencies and placing the responsibility on Public Departments maintained by tax money, either City or Federal.

Therefore in every emergency that Newton has seen since the Bureau was reorganized from the Associated Charities in 1915, the community has asked the Newton Welfare Bureau to step in and the bureau has done so, each time, so far as is known, to the satisfaction of the community. This has made Miss Chapin realize the flexibility and the reliability of the organization—that it can be counted upon by Newton citizens to "step into the breach" whenever needed and to expand or to contract its program according to the need of the city at the moment. This flexibility and reliability is due entirely to the high type of its Board of Directors. From the beginning, the membership of its Board has been representative of the highest, the finest and the strongest in our city.

It is because of this intelligent direction, representing a sense of social responsibility for "man's duty to man," that has always kept the Bureau in readiness either to assist in meeting emergencies or, in between emergencies, to continue its daily job of meeting family problems, without ostentation but with trained and experienced kindness and use of community resources.

To show the growth of the Bureau, Miss Chapin quoted some interesting figures. Since 1915, the Bureau has assisted 3279 families with their problems—1483 of which came to the Bureau during the first 12½ years and then 1796 came during the last 6½. More new families came in the last 6½ years than during the previous 13, which of course is due to the depression of the last 4 years. Since 1927, the number of cases active during a year has increased three times in volume while yearly relief expenditures have increased four and a half times—the biggest jump in both, of course, being from 1930 to 1931 when the number of cases jumped from 534 a year to 911, and relief money from $8300 to $19,000. During the boom year of 1929, relief was only $3800, the lowest for several years.

Second-hand clothing distribution for which the Federation of Woman's Clubs assumed responsibility increased from 1200 in 1928 to the peak of 14,000 garments; milk expenditure from $1000 in '28 to $5500 last year; vacation work from 63 in 1927, to about 160 in the last three years; mothers to Mothers' Rest, from 6 in 1927—16 in 1928—to 39 last year. And so go the statistics with their telling story.

Training is given regularly to students from Simmons College School of Social Work and frequently to students from other educational institutions; also to many volunteers in addition. The work has been so interesting and varied—so happy and harmonious in its community contacts that it is with much regret that Miss Chapin leaves. Miss Harriet Parsons takes the position on August 1st to the great satisfaction of everyone concerned. She formerly spent one year with the Bureau and is coming now from four years as a teacher in the Simmons College School of Social Work. She is eminently equipped to carry on the professional work for the Board of Directors and to bring the work of the Bureau to higher standards of Family Case Work than it has previously reached.

The world is slowly but definitely on the road to economic recovery and social stability, was the opinion of ten international Rotary leaders who spoke on the general subject of "Rotary—Reporting on World Recovery" from all parts of the world, through the Columbia Broadcasting System on Tuesday at the regular meeting of the Newton Rotary Club at Brae Burn.

The first world wide program was of more than usual interest and was strikingly effective on account of the strong tone of optimism on world conditions in all countries.

Local Man Lands 14-lb. Fish After Long Battle

A trio of local sportsmen returned early this week from a most successful fishing trip to northern New Hampshire. The party, consisting of Dr. Walter Hoover and Carl Gushlin of Cotton street and Lucius Wheeler of Park avenue, Newton, found the lake trout biting good in Second Connecticut Lake, five miles from the Canadian border. Mr. Wheeler played a fourteen-pound "laker" for twenty-five minutes before landing the fish which the guides there claim the largest caught in the last twenty years. Mr. Gushlin caught two trout weighing 8 and 11 pounds, respectively, and Dr. Hoover a 6-pounder within two hours of arriving at Camp Idlewild, the party's headquarters.

G.O.P. Pre-Primary Convention

David I. Walsh as many now suppose. He is a brilliant debater, and will spend the next few months sticking pins into our senior Senator and making him squirm very uncomfortably. If past performances are any criterion. In closing, it occurs to me that if the Democratic Convention nominates ex-Mayor Curley for Governor, the Democrats might just as well concede the election of Gaspar G. Bacon as Governor of the Commonwealth.

UNLICENSED DOGS

It is believed that there are several hundred dogs in the city of Newton which are not properly licensed by their owners. The city officials have sent out notices to some four thousand known licensees and about a thousand who are thought to possess dogs without licenses. It is self-evident that the protection of the community from the possibility of the spreading of rabies demands that this situation be remedied immediately. An effort should be made in this direction. One method of procedure that would be effective could easily be carried out. A number of the so-called "white-collar" unemployed could be assigned the task of following up the names of suspects to whom notices have been sent. This would also harmonize with the city's method of having all able-bodied workers work at least two days a week. Such an investigation could be carried out in a few weeks' time, with little expense and with favorable results.

A FAITHFUL WORKER RESIGNS

The resignation of Miss Ruth Chapin as general secretary of the Newton Welfare Bureau is a distinct loss to the community. Her experience over several years has permitted her to help solve and relieve pressing problems of many unfortunate individuals and families. The past few years have been arduous in this respect. In close and constant touch with welfare conditions she has brought an interest and feeling to her work that many will miss.

About Town

By Edward H. Powers

We have been asked why the GRAPHIC has not been publishing recently the monthly reports of the Newton Board of Health which for many years gave information to the public regarding the number of deaths each month in Newton, the causes of death, prevailing communicable diseases, particularly those affecting children, and other statistics. The reason that these reports have not been published is — that since the first of this year the Board of Health has not issued them.

Last week the City Clerk's office sent out 4000 notices to residents of Newton who own licensed dogs, urging them to bring these dogs to clinics where they would be immunized against rabies. More notices about 1000 of them, were sent out to persons who are suspected of being owners of dogs which are not licensed. These latter were urged to obtain licenses at once and also bring their dogs to the clinics. We asked how the names of these persons were obtained and we were informed "through the police." In our opinion, too much leniency is being shown to those who are and have been breaking the law by keeping unlicensed dogs. When they are handled with "kid gloves" isn't it encouraging others to imitate them and not license dogs. We believe that when public officials know that anyone is keeping an unlicensed dog, that individual should be summoned into court and fined. We also believe that the law which requires all dogs to wear a collar and license number should be enforced. This law has been practically a dead law in Newton for many years. If it were enforced, here and elsewhere, and owners of unlicensed dogs were prosecuted, there would be less rabies in this State, fewer gardens and lawns would be damaged, fewer persons would be disturbed at night by barking dogs, and fewer persons would be victims of biting dogs. Anyone who won't pay $2 a year for a dog license either doesn't care a great deal about the dog, or can't afford to keep one. And, assuming that they do care, or can't pay, the protection of the public, not to mention the protection of licensed dogs, is of more importance than undue consideration for owners of unlicensed dogs.

ONE THING... ...AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

The secret of keeping cool lies, in part at least, in not allowing oneself to worry about keeping cool.

Oddments

Book lovers can be churlish, although supposed to represent our dignified and studious citizenship. The other evening at a gathering of neighbors on a Newton Centre veranda one of the young women excused herself, saying, "I know you won't miss me. I'm beginning a wonderful book and I think I'll curl up in a corner and read it." With that she withdrew. After she had gone her sister, also possessed of literary tastes, observed, "That curl my sister is going to have will probably be a permanent wave before she's through. The book she's started on is 'Anthony Adverse.'"

School superintendents come and go, school committee members resign and others are elected to take their places, but still our system of education advances. Pupils change but little, however. They are still groping. A teacher told me of one of her charges who passed in a paper for marking. In response to the request, "Name the chief executive of your State," the youngster had written, "The electric chair."

Where the Laugh Comes

It is not my wish to jeer or treat with scorn those of my fellow beings who think themselves sophisticated. Nevertheless when they leave themselves open to attack I cannot resist a sly poke or two. Some of the New York dailies and chain publications in other cities seek to regale readers with a column of gossip about well known persons. It is written, at least to all appearances, with a desire to emphasize the frailties and peccadilloes which the staid family journals never mention. Plans of a pair of great movie performers to enter a single out of matrimony are set forth in flippant phrases. The anticipated arrival of an heir is often referred to as a "blessed event" in order that it may be laughed at. Other domestic happenings are dwelt upon to provide mirth for those with a flair for inelegant writings.

The joke on these sophisticated is that they are devouring scraps of news that country newspapers have for generations been printing but in far better taste and without vulgarity or coarseness. The rural publications were derided by these very same wisecracks for publishing intimate bits of local news. It was supposed to be "hick-town stuff" to announce the plans of two young people to wed or to tell of the birth of a son or daughter. But now a New York "columnist" receives a staggering amount each week for discussing in slang and with crude language the private affairs of individuals who have their rights but are powerless to assert them. Such a publication might, with truth and appropriateness, adopt the slogan of the now defunct comic weekly, "Puck," and print on its front page as did that delightful organ, "What fools these mortals be."

The Husband Left Behind

Far be it from me to start a controversy which would likely happen if I ventured to ask how many believe that "woman's place is in the home." I have no such intention, yet I should like to declare that from what I have recently observed man's place is certainly not there. Invited by a friend to drop in and keep him company for an evening because of his loneliness, I learned something of what happens when wife and family go to the country for the summer. This man is rich in the possession of a sweet and dutiful helpmate and four splendid children. He misses them, naturally, and is struggling to do his best as a housekeeper because he has assured them that everything would be all right and he could "get along fine."

You may easily picture the situation. Dishes were piled up in large quantities, though unwashed, the chamber of mine host was certainly in need of attention, and in general things were at sixes and sevens. When he apologized for the appearance, I offered to help him "set things in order." The result was that two helpless males instead of one were engaged in a futile undertaking. We first tackled the soiled dishes. When I wasn't inquiring, "Where does this go?" and he wasn't answering, "Hanged if I know, put it there for now," they were washing and wiping. That task consumed at least ten times as long as one woman would need.

Then I offered to run the vacuum cleaner. He laughed at the suggestion. "Nothing doing," he chuckled. "No sweeping or dusting." Nothing daunted, I insisted that we make the bed. There was no objection on his part but it was with difficulty he located the ample supply of clean linen. That was followed by an argument

Report of Newton Motion Picture Council

On Paramount Theatre Bookings for This Week

June 17-20—"VIVA VILLA"

From the novel by Edgum Pinchon. This film may not be historically correct, but Wallace Heery's "Pancho Villa" is nevertheless a very real person, a valiant roisterer, a cruel savage, yet a human and sorrowing man, worshipping his guiding spirit, Madero, liberator of Mexico. The film is tumultuous with action, filled with vigorous humor and magnificently photographed. A vital story, strong and perhaps, but pervaded with the true atmosphere of Mexico—ADULTS.

"THREE ON A HONEYMOON"

Light comedy. Mediocre film fare.—ADULTS.

June 21-23—"TARZAN AND HIS MATE"

A well directed, ably cast, excellently photographed melodramatic sequel to "Tarzan." Adapted from the tales of Edgar Rice Burroughs, this fantastic, gruesomely spectacular romance contains hair-raising fights with jungle animals and blood-curdling attacks on the natives who oppose the progress of an ivory hunting safari bound for the elephants' graveyard.—ADULTS. YOUTH.

"AS THE EARTH TURNS"

From the novel by Gladys Hasty Carroll. Through the beauty of the four seasons, unfolds a cross-section of drab New England farm life as lived by three families; their struggles against Nature, the rebellion of some, the courage and endurance of others. An unusual and interesting story interpreted with skill and understanding.—FAMILY

Under The Gilded Dome

Because of the Democratic convention at Worcester the Legislature adjourned Wednesday afternoon and will not resume action until next week Tuesday, Monday being a holiday with its Bunker Hill Day parade and other activities. An informal session was held this morning but all controversial matters were put over until Tuesday. It is believed that next week may see the wind-up of the 1934 session although action on the police bill, the supplementary budget, the state tax and final action on the pari-mutuel bill legalizing betting at race tracks are among the important measures still pending which may prolong the closing day.

The two most important matters acted upon by the two branches this week were the defeat of the bill establishing a National Guard camp on Cape Cod and the holding of a joint convention of the two branches which resulted in the defeat of the attempt to put the question of biennial sessions upon the ballot in 1936. The camp bill was brought into the House about two weeks ago and referred to the Committee on Ways and Means. This latter committee recommended that the bill be rejected and after lengthy debate a rising vote of 81 to 42 accomplished this end. A roll-call was denied when less than thirty members sought such action.

The joint session which was held on Tuesday saw nearly an hour and a half debate on the question of referring the matter of biennial sessions to next year's Legislature for a second vote on the attempt to put the matter on the ballot as a referendum. Under the initiative petition act the filing of 25,000 signatures for a referendum makes it mandatory for the Legislature to act upon the matter twice. If one-quarter of those elected, seventy votes being necessary, favor it in two years, it then goes on the next State-wide ballot. The question was defeated on Tuesday when 68 members were recorded in favor of the referendum. Representative Baker voted in favor of the bill and Representatives Luitwieler and Brimblecom against the proposal. President Erlend Fish of the Senate, who presided at the joint session, and Speaker Saltonstall of the House did not vote. Before the final roll-call was announced three members of the House, Reps. Otis of Pittsfield, Bazinet of Webster and Halliwell of New Bedford, changed their votes from "yes" to "no," resulting in the defeat of the question.

An open meeting of the Newton, Wellesley and Needham Branch of the Mass. Service Men's Association was held on Thursday night at the Auburndale Club. President Don Fletcher presided and about 150 were present. Members of the association were present from Waltham, Watertown, Belmont, Arlington, Lexington and Bedford, in addition to a delegation from Fitchburg. The guest speaker was Hugh Herndon of the Cities Service Company. He talked on the flight around the world he made in an airplane with Pangborn and gave interesting highlights on this thrilling experience, including the detention of himself and his companion in Japan, where they were suspected of spying. A luncheon was served.

Members from other cities were interested in the stand the Newton, Wellesley, Needham automobile repair men of the association have taken to regulate their hours of labor from 8:30 to 5:30 p. m., and 1 o'clock on Saturdays. The members from Fitchburg told of the action taken by them in that city whereby they have stopped by police enforcement the lubricating of cars by garages and filling stations on Sundays, and also repair work on that day, excepting emergency cases. The Service Men's Association in Newton will endeavor to bring about a similar condition in this city.

Airplane view of the Christian Science Buildings in Boston, taken by the Staff Photographer of The Christian Science Monitor

Virtual completion of the new Christian Science Publishing House in Boston, Mass., and gratitude to the Field for its loyal support which made this achievement possible, was the keynote at the Annual Meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., held recently.

Better and quicker healing, and closer unity in its demonstration, as well as greater consecration to the ideals set up by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, were impressed upon the "army of Christian Science workers," more than 6000 strong, who attended this Annual Meeting. These workers are representatives of a field which extends to such remote points as Australia, South Africa, the Philippines, as well as England and many of the continental countries. Practically every state in the Union and many parts of Canada also are represented.

Announcement was made of the election of the following officers: President—Dr. John M. Brewer, of Cambridge, Mass.; Treasurer—Edward L. Hopley, of Brookline, Mass.; Clerk—Ezra W. Palmer, of Brookline, Mass.

The new President of The Mother Church, Dr. John M. Brewer, is a native of Antioch, Calif. He graduated from the University of California at Berkeley in 1902. In 1916 he received the Ph.D. degree in education from Harvard University and became an instructor there. Two years were spent as head of the Department of Education at the Los Angeles State Normal School, after which he was appointed to the position he now holds, Associate Professor of Education, Graduate School of Education, Harvard University. Professor Brewer is author of several books on education. In connection with his professional work he has traveled extensively in Europe.

The new President was introduced by Miss Mary G. Ewing, retiring President. In his address, Professor Brewer pointed out three ways, among others, by which Christian Scientists "can help humanity to get along peaceably and harmoniously with each other, in family, village, town, community, state, nation, and world." First, "we can continue and improve our work of healing the sick and sinful, whether in our individual experience or in that of others who turn to us for help."

In the second place, the President declared, "we can contribute to the cause of democratic government and peace among nations by making full use of the good news published in The Christian Science Monitor. Daily we have before us an accurate picture of humanity's problems of living together, with an account of the progress for solving them, and with accompanying editorial comment. More than this, we are now furnished with a magazine section of the Monitor, in which the Editorial Board aims to provide us with searching criticism, appraisal, and interpretation. Taking full advantage of these facilities, and adding to them the metaphysical discernment given by Christian Science, we shall be able to support the good in human affairs, and to reject the impracticable, unwise, extravagant, and evil."

"The third great agency for contributing to good government lies in our own relationships with our fellow man. Here we can show, in a practical demonstration which none can gainsay, just what human government may become when man is governed by God."

The Christian Science Board of Directors, in its message read by the retiring chairman, Mr. William R. Rathvon, referred to "the one achievement that looms so impressively—the completion of our new Publishing House Building—made possible by the sacrifices and generosity of those whose love for God and man was thus expressed."

Mr. Rathvon spoke at length of the magnitude of the duties of the Board of Directors. To enumerate the duties, responsibilities, powers, and prerogatives of this Board, he said would be to rehearse a large part of the Manual of The Mother Church itself, so varied and comprehensive are they.

A marked increase in the demand for Mrs. Eddy's writing during the past year was reported by Mr. William M. Bartlett, Secretary of the Trustees under the Will of Mary Baker Eddy. For several years, he declared, it has been evident that the sales of the textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, have been made largely to new students of Christian Science.

In the report of the Committee on Publication, the Hon. C. Augustus Norwood, Manager, declared that during the past year thousands of bookplates have been supplied to libraries to inform patrons of all authorized and approved Christian Science literature. He also stressed the importance of published excerpts of the Christian Science Bible Lesson Series and reported that "legislative work continues with marked evidence that the right of Christian Scientists to practice their religion is being more generally recognized."

Mr. A. Hervey Bathurst, Chairman of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, reported that lectures on Christian Science were delivered by members of that Board for the first time in such distant fields as Macassar, Celebes; Colombo, Ceylon; Peking, China; Cairo, Egypt; Bangalore, Delhi, Lucknow, and Madras, India; Surabaya, Java; and Singapore Straits Settlements. "In one instance," Mr. Bathurst said, "it was reported that an individual traveled many miles on horseback, followed by a night journey on a train, in order to be present at a lecture; while in India some traveled as much as 700 miles to hear a lecture—200 miles over mountain roads before taking the railway train."

Among the outstanding achievements of The Christian Science Publishing Society during the past year, according to Mr. Roland R. Harrison, Manager, were the publication of the Progress Week Issues of The Co-operation from the field, careful management and many economies, as well as the added facilities of the new building, all were essential to these accomplishments, Mr. Harrison declared.

In the report of the Clerk of The Mother Church, Mr. Ezra W. Palmer told of the work of this Church in furnishing relief to people in stricken areas in times of flood and disaster. He also spoke of aid toward unemployment relief in the Boston district of The Mother Church. The Literature Distribution Committee of this church, he said, has reported an increase of 32 per cent in the local distribution of Christian Science literature during the past year over the previous year.

Women's Club Activities

General Federation Council Meeting

Continuing the record of outstanding reports, speeches, and events of the Council Meeting of the General Federation held at Hot Springs, Ark., during the week of May 20th, on Tuesday, May 22nd, Mrs. Poole gave her clarion address, which she aptly entitled "I Wonder What Would Happen." It attracted attention, and is worth pondering over, "I wonder what would happen," she said, "if the 2,000,000 women affiliated with the General Federation of Women's Clubs suddenly decided to band solidly together for all the principles of federated women's clubs. I believe that the United States would be almost an Utopia. For example, I wonder what would happen, if 2,000,000 women said to the United States Government, 'We demand that profit be taken out of war making. We demand that all resources be commandeered by the Government if it comes to this land of ours. We demand that of any kind whatsoever be given to nations engaged in war; and we demand the truth on all questions of international policy instead of trumped-up, clever propaganda.'"

"I wonder what would happen if at least once a week the newspapers of our land should publish an edition telling the good that man has accomplished and keep from its pages the bad. I wonder what would happen if 2,000,000 women should set out to improve the standard of publicity which comes to us daily over the air."

Mrs. Poole visioned for the morrow higher tasks for clubwomen. With the right equipment in life, she declared, clubwomen could eliminate graft in government, prevent dictatorship or communistic control; banish slums, improve educational facilities; and create new high peaks in art and literature.

"Let us work toward a tomorrow, where every citizen of these United States may have the opportunity to make his own way, confident that if he does his part, he will have protection against a tragic future."

A new day would indeed dawn, declared Mrs. Poole, if the laws of the land were obeyed: "If we fearlessly and openly condemned crime and racketeering; if goods made under unsanitary conditions, and too long working hours were boycotted; and if that great molder of public opinion, the motion picture industry, found that only the best, cleanest and most worthwhile motion pictures paid to be produced."

Directly along lines mentioned by the president were the following reports, two, at least, on subjects much in the public eye just now. Declaring the woman buyer controls 85 per cent of the purchasing power and women get what they ask for, Mrs. Richard M. McClure, of Chicago, asked feminine picture patrons to buy only the best with their film dollars. She urged patrons to "stop raising salaries" of stars not making wholesome pictures. Women can be a great influence for better films, because they make up four-fifths of every motion picture audience.

"It seems incredible that last year, 185,000,000 people attended motion picture shows of the world, paying in to the theater box offices of the United States $1,100,000,000."

Urging parents to supervise children's film diet, Mrs. McClure pictured 2,000,000 young adolescents, soft clay waiting to be molded, attending motion picture theaters daily. She urged establishment of "better film" councils, study of proposed legislation and censorship, support of recommended pictures, strict censorship of short comedies, music and news reels, more educational and travel shorts, censorship of advertising and publicity, and above all—for women to extend rights of selection and discrimination to box offices of motion picture theaters, rejecting shoddy and second-rate films.

Newspapers were urged by Mrs. Arch Trawick, Nashville, Tenn., chairman of the Department of Correction, to remove crime stories from their front pages. Radio and motion pictures also could do much to eliminate matter giving children ideas on crime, she said. Reminding women of the crime bill of $12,000,000,000 annually, she urged them to continue to study the problem.

Another report was of special interest to the session, as it will be recalled that in last week's record it was stated that Mr. George F. Zook, United States Commissioner of Education, sent a telegram expressing appreciation of the assistance in work along educational lines done by the General Federation. Possibly one that he may have meant was contained in the report of the chairman of Legislation, Mrs. S. Blair Luckie, of Chester, Penn., who stated that important legislation affecting the public schools had been enacted during the past year, greatly assisted by the work of clubwomen. By this funds were released to help meet costs of school building improvements, to keep rural schools open in smaller communities, to teach people to read and write English, and to give vocational training. Several bills authorizing appropriations for the emergency relief of schools have been presented to both houses. And one of the relief measures (NRA) secured in Wisconsin was the teaching of Mothercraft in the schools, giving employment to many nurses and teachers.

On Friday, the last day of the sessions, Mrs. Carl Illig, Jr., of Onset, Mass., chairman of the division of Public Health, announced the awarding of an honor certificate to the Illinois Federation for accomplishing the most during the past two months for the benefit of public health. Nebraska was ranked second.

The Council authorized the division of Public Health to begin a concerted

Garden Club Will Hold Luncheon Meeting

The next meeting of the Garden Club of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will be held on Tuesday, June 19th, at 10:30 a. m. at the home of Mrs. Percival Waters, of 35 Newton street, Weston. Mrs. William D. Keefe will be the assisting hostess. After luncheon, which will be served out of doors, weather permitting, there will be a talk by Mr. George Smith on "Peonies and Iris."

movement for an educational campaign in the prevention of cancer. The motion was made by Mrs. William Dick Spörberg, of Port Chester, N. Y., after Mrs. Illig had declared it was time the Federation gave its attention to the spread of social diseases and cancer.

Mrs. William W. Slayden, of Los Angeles, chairman of the committee on Extension, reported a net increase in membership in the General Federation of nearly 9,000. Prizes for the greatest net gains were awarded to New Jersey, with 1,250, Mrs. T. H. Grimley, Ridgewood, president; and Montana, with the greatest percentage increase, slightly over 21 per cent, Mrs. Minnie R. Tennis, of Butte, president.

The thrilling and exciting event of the entire week was the aroused action of the delegates in passing an emergency resolution—spontaneously and without a dissenting vote—in regard to the measure now pending before Congress regulating the sale and possession of firearms. In following this up with telegrams and demands no doubt was left as to the determined temper of thoroughly aroused women that policy of legislators and greed of private interests were not going to continue to leave this country at the mercy of criminals. This was on Thursday morning, the 24th of May, and the address of Mr. Joseph B. Keenan, on Wednesday evening was directly responsible for this explosion and decisive action. His splendidly effective work in bringing criminals to justice—as Assistant Attorney-General of the United States—has received the hearty commendation of the General Federation. In his address he brought official word from Washington that powerful lobbying interests, chiefly the National Rifle Manufacturers Association, had "flooded" the House Ways and Means Committee, now considering the measure, with messages, persuading that group to delete the provision regulating sale and possession of pistols and revolvers. This included the fingerprinting of all purchasers, and the sales tax.

This report aroused the delegates. Mrs. Poole declared this "a challenge to womanhood."

Immediately after adopting the emergency Resolution, an official telegram was authorized to Chairman R. Doughton, of the House Ways and Means Committee, as follows:

"Women of the General Federation of Women's Clubs are outraged at action of the House Ways and Means Committee in deleting pistols and revolvers from the firearms bill. Such deletion emasculates the bill and makes it a joke. We hold the security and safety of the homes and families of all the people of this country and the protection of life and property for all the 120,000,000 people in the land transcends the selfish interests of any organized small minority. We hold you accountable for your responsibility to the people of your state and your country and demand that the bill to regulate sale and possession of firearms include pistols and revolvers and that it be speedily enacted into law."

The message was duplicated to President Roosevelt, House leader Byrnes, of Tennessee, Speaker Rainey, and others.

An organized campaign was then instituted by the clubwomen to send hundreds of individual telegrams to the committee and other congressmen. Mrs. S. Blair Luckie, of Chester, Penn., urged "flooding" of the committee with thousands of telegrams of protest. (If the rifle manufacturers can do this, why not the clubwomen?)

Said Mrs. William Dick Spörberg, of Port Chester, N. Y., chairman of the Resolutions committee:

ennial convention at Detroit, in June, 1935, follows: For president, Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson, Tulsa, Okla., now first vice-president; and Dr. Josephine L. McMullen of Montpelier, Vt., now chairman, department of International Relations. One of the Newton women who attended was Mrs. John A. Groves of Parker street, Newton Centre, who was a delegate from the Boston Woman's Club, of which she is the president. Newton is delighted in the honor bestowed on one of their clubwomen, for Mrs. Groves served as the President's Page on Legislative and Education day and was also the attendant to the president when Mrs. Poole addressed the Rotarians at the Chamber of Commerce at Hot Springs, Arkansas.

WORLD FRIENDSHIP TOUR. It is deeply to be regretted that the wonderfully-planned Tour of the Far East, upon which clubwomen of the General Federation were to sail this month, has had to be cancelled, as the number signing up was so small that it was felt that the purpose of the Tour would not be served. This is last-minute news, as Mrs. Poole held a conference only Monday with Mr. Walter H. Woods of the Woods Touring Service, when this unfortunate decision had to be reached.

The one bright ray is the announcement that the General Federation will be represented at the Pan-Pacific Conference in Honolulu, which takes place from August 6th to 22nd, by Mrs. Poole, president; Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson, of Oklahoma, first vice-president; and Dr. Josephine L. Pierce, of Ohio, second vice-president. They will sail from San Francisco on July 28th, and return from Honolulu August 25th. During the following few weeks, in September, Mrs. Poole plans to speak in several cities of the west and middle west on the events of the Conference.

While the General Federation benefits is being credited with these three delegates to the Pan-Pacific Conference, it is without expense to the Federation, each financing her own trip.

Principal of Bigelow School To Retire After Fifty Years' Teaching

Frank W. Chase Succeeded Principal Sawin Here Twenty-Nine Years Ago

Today marks the close of a teaching career of a half-century by Frank W. Chase, principal of the Bigelow Junior High School of Newton. Next August this very capable and popular teacher will attain the age of 70, and so, according to law, he must retire on a pension. He was born in Unity, Maine, in 1864, and educated in the schools of that town at Maine Central Institute in Pittsfield and at Bates College where he graduated in 1887.

Washington-Albion School. In 1905 he returned to the Newton teaching staff, succeeding Henry Chapin Sawin as principal of the Bigelow School at Newton.

When Mr. Chase assumed charge of the Bigelow School, that building contained 400 pupils from the second to the ninth grades. The grade schools, for the most part, thirty years ago had two sessions; the morning session starting at 8:30 and ending at 11:30; the afternoon session, also about three hours, ending at 4. The Bigelow School, however, was one of the first elementary schools in Newton to have one session. This session commenced at 8:30 a. m. and ended at 1:30, with a 15-minute recess and 30-minute lunch period. The reason for the Bigelow School having the one session ahead of other public schools in Newton was that when the old Bigelow School was replaced in 1900 by the present structure, five classes of that school, under Mr. Sawin, had to travel for a school year to the then new Horace Mann School at Newtonville. The children were conveyed in electric cars from Newton Corner to Page rd., Newtonville, and then walked to the Horace Mann School. It was necessary, under these conditions, to hold one session for the Bigelow School pupils, and the one session proved so popular that it was continued when the pupils became housed in the new school at Newton Corner. The Bigelow School for the past few years has been a junior high school and has about 350 pupils in the seventh, eighth and ninth grades. A large addition is being built onto it at present.

Mr. Chase was a trustee of the Read Fund in this city for three years, and resigned because of the multiple demands on his time. He served as President of the Massachusetts Teachers' Association, and for a number of years as Secretary-Treasurer of the Middlesex County Teachers' Association. He is also a member of the 20th Century Club of Boston. He resides at 31 Judkins st., Newtonville, and has a summer home at Belfast, Me. He has two daughters, Heloise, a teacher at the Bigelow School, and Elizabeth F. Chase, at home. His wife, Mrs. Lillian (Robbins) Chase, died in 1920.

During his college years he taught for three winter terms during his vacations. After graduating he taught in schools at Unity, Waldoboro, Belfast and Lewiston, Maine; and Lawrence, Mass. He came to Newton in 1898 to serve as principal of the Horace Mann School at Newtonville, and held this position for six years. He had charge of the Elementary Evening Schools in Newton for five years. In 1904 he went to Albion to serve as assistant master at the

Summer Camp Program for Cubs

Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, announces a day-to-day camp for the Cubs under its supervision, starting July 2nd and operating five days per week, excluding Saturdays and Sundays.

The Cub program covers boys 9, 10 and 11 years of age, being the "junior program" of the Boy Scouts of America. It is not "Junior Scouting" for its program and activities are far afield from Scouting. On advice from the National Council and on the basis of experience of other Councils, the Division of Camps and Camping has consistently recommended against the establishment of a Cub Division at the Council's summer camp, Camp Barker. The Cub Day Camp will be conducted from nine to five o'clock on the days above specified in Hammond's Woods, on the land of the Metropolitan District Commission, off the new parkway leading from Beacon street. The cost will be small to cover cost of necessary equipment, material, for crafts, for special nourishing drinks at noon and the like.

The Camp Director will be the Scout Executive and the Camp will be under the immediate personal direction, as Camp Akela, of Mr. W. R. Speirs, the Assistant Scout Executive, whose special forte is the Cub program and operations of the Council. The Camp Treasurer will be Mr. Douglas Francis, Chairman of Pack 20, Trinity Church, Committee and a member of the Cub Division of the Council. Junior members of the staff will be Scouts acting as Den Chiefs. The program will include crafts suitable to Cubs, exploration walks, swimming, Cub games, Cub advancement work and the like.

Mrs. Woods Elected To School Com.

Alderman Farrell Pleads For Catholic on Committee

A convention was held on Tuesday night by members of the Newton School Committee and Board of Aldermen to elect a successor to Mrs. Kate Cornell, who recently resigned as member of the School Committee from Ward 5. The six members of the School Committee, Amesbury, Bryant, Butts, Fernald, Mather and Smith were present. Eighteen members of the Board of Aldermen were present; those absent were Aldermen Grohman, McKay and Murray. The convention was called to order at 7:10 by President Collins of the Aldermen.

He said she had lived in this city since she was a year old, is a graduate of the Newton schools and Smith College, has been active in women's clubs and civic affairs. The nomination was seconded by Alderman Floyd.

Alderman Farrell of Ward 3, in an extended speech placed in nomination the name of Francis W. McOwen of Eliot street, Newton Upper Falls. He said this candidate was born and reared in this city. He called attention to the fact that McOwen had received 6300 votes last December (when he ran against Mrs. Cornell) and was the logical candidate. Mrs. Woods was the logical candidate. Mrs. Woods was the logical candidate. Mrs. Woods was the logical candidate.

The unfortunate sailors were: Harold Pratt, 9 Highland park, Newtonville; John McCarthy, Williston rd.; David Lund, 62 Maple st.; Jason Brown, Central st. Through a grave and inexcusable error there appeared on the front page of last week's GRAPHIC an account of a fatal automobile accident in Boston in which it was stated that Mrs. Nancy Hickey of Fountain street, West Newton, was the driver of one of the cars involved in the accident. We desire to retract the mention of Mrs. Hickey in connection with this accident and to apologize to her because we have since learned that she was not the operator, the owner, nor even an occupant of any of the cars involved.

Wintman, a law student at Boston University, according to the testimony, approached the young woman as a magazine salesman, and when she told him she did not wish to subscribe to the magazines, he made insulting remarks of a personal nature to her.

Parents Protest Against Continuation of "No-Marking" Plan In Grade Schools

Present Petition Signed By Four Hundred Parents at School Committee Meeting

Between 30 and 40 parents of Newton school children crowded the meeting room of the Newton School Committee at the Technical High School on Tuesday night to voice protests against the "no marking" system placed in operation last year in the public schools of this city. They presented a petition signed by about 400 citizens of this city, asking that the grade marking system be returned, or an equivalent system put into operation. Those who spoke in favor of the petition included Mrs. Raymond Fuller of 271 Waban avenue, Waban, who was active in circulating the petition; Prof. Charles B. Breed of Newtonville, a professor at M. L. T.; Mrs. Waldo Peabees of Morton st., Newton Centre; Chester Tudbury of Harrison st., Newton Highlands, a member of the teaching staff at Wentworth Institute; Lucien H. Thayer of Avalon rd., Waban; and Benjamin Chertok of Whittemore rd.

Mrs. Fuller, who introduced the speakers, said that signatures on the petition had been obtained in all sections of the city and that many more could have been procured. Mr. Thayer read the lengthy petition. He said the "no marking" system gives parents less information about the progress their children are making in the schools, rather than more, and that with children of today surrounded by so many things which tend to divert their attention from the serious matter of school work, that the "no marking" system has caused a relaxation in their studying and is a menace to the moral fibre of youth.

Mrs. Peabees said that children in the Newton schools have lost interest in their studies the past year as a result of the "no marking" system, and have been only marking time. She stated that the teachers in the schools are not all in favor of the new system. Professor Breed said that while the idea of the "no marking" system may be right, the manner in which this system has been applied in Newton is ridiculous and absurd, and not fair to either the school children or their parents. He commented: "Let the teachers stick to their jobs and not bring up the children, but teach them. I want my boy to know what failure means early in life. Failure does not mean 'give up' but 'back up.'" He said that parents want knowledge of their children's progress month by month, whereas under the existing system they get only a letter in February and another in June. He asked: "What good is the June letter?" He contended that when school children get marks it places them on their mettle and encourages competition, which is laudable.

Mr. Tudbury said that some teachers are advising pupils to drop courses of study in which satisfactory progress is not being made, and that this is not fair to the pupils. He cited some instances to show that the "no marking" system is not producing desirable results. Mr. Chertok said that the semi-annual letters received by parents under the new system do not give proper information as to the progress or lack of progress by their children.

The petition follows:

Preamble
We, the undersigned, citizens of Newton and parents of pupils in the Newton schools asserting our dissatisfaction with the non-marking system which has been adopted during the past year, respectfully petition for the abolition of this system and a return to the tested method of grade markings or an equivalent.

We take this opportunity of presenting our objections to the system now in use and some suggested plans of action:
First: We assert that the non-marking plan, as developed this year, constitutes a usurpation by the teaching profession of certain functions that properly belong to parents. While the law requires proper schooling of children, it does not direct that parents shall be kept in ignorance of the mental progress of their children or that the teachers shall assume complete responsibility for the mental development of their pupils.

We take it that the law envisages the teacher as the agent of the parent and not as the custodian of the parent's child. If this is a correct view, has not the parent a legal as well as moral right to demand a more thorough accounting of the child's progress in each separate study than has been available this year under the new educational plan? How else is the parent through the years to gauge the abilities of his child and exercise the proper guidance toward a career or must he now relinquish that privilege to teachers over whose selection he has no control and whose judgment may be a matter of speculation?

It is of little assistance to parents to receive reports which comment only on the general classroom tendencies. It is unfair that a parent should be informed that his boy "is meeting the minimum essentials in his group" but could maintain a higher level of achievement by applying himself more assiduously. What the parent wishes and needs to know is whether the boy is doing better in mathematics than in social studies; whether he is good on addition, but stumbles over fractions; and whether he shows adaptability to reading, writing and English or to technical subjects.

Many fathers feel that with the passing of the report card they have lost their sole contact with the child's academic life. The periodic report card was a peremptory challenge to the conscientious father; it served as a reminder to the busy parents to pause and assess the progress of his child; it afforded a happy and altogether satisfying opportunity for father and child to sit down together, review the mental experiences of the year, focus attention on the weak points and determine the course by which they might be strengthened. To take this privilege away is to deny one the full joys of parenthood.

Second: We quarrel with the social philosophy that underlies this experiment. While we credit its sponsors with lofty motives, we believe the method of its adoption was too sweeping and the practices followed are too arbitrary. We feel that it is an experiment in Socialism to inculcate in the child's mind the notion that there may be no distinctions of mental ability, that the best must receive only the same reward as the poorest and that there is no inducement in life for one to excel. We believe that in a competitive civilization competitive learning is an essential; that nothing but a race will train one for a race; that young minds need the encouragement that satisfactory home reports give them toward more earnest effort; that they should be stimulated to feel that there are the same rewards in glory for assiduous academic work that there are on the gridiron or diamond for athletic achievement; that the elimination of the first will only add to an accentuation of the second; and that to regiment small children into mass instruction groups is to destroy personality and to stifle individuality.

The fathers and mothers who have signed this petition (which has been circulated only in a very limited sphere and without any organization) testify almost unanimously that they have noted in their children this year a falling of interest of school work which has left their elders bewildered. We believe that the absence of opportunity to furnish home stimulation to better work has caused, and will continue to cause a relaxing of mental discipline which will handicap children for the vicissitudes of advanced academic work or business experience.

Third: We feel that our experiences of the current year indicate that the non-marking system, applied to a large public school system, is unwieldy in its present form. Mothers have found consultation days a bedlam of inquiring parents and puzzled, distracted mothers who in several specific cases have actually been unable to identify certain children mentioned to them. The experience of parents has been distressing and discouraging.

Fourth: We have heard the argument advanced that this petition is the product of parents who have bright children and seek the satisfaction of scholastic distinction. We assert with all vigor that this is an unfair criticism; that the parents who have signed this petition have children with a wide range of mental abilities and that their observations apply equally to the highest and to the lowest. We feel that the conscientious parent whose devotion embraces every activity of the child's life needs the help that comes from a careful grading of the school work.

Summation
The sum total of our complaint is that at the end of a school year we feel that we have not the faintest picture of our children's progress and that the Newton school system, which we help to support, has failed to pay us the dividends that it guaranteed.

Recommendations
There is no divergence of opinion among the signers of this petition on one fundamental point—that however laudable may be the purposes of eliminating classroom marks and report cards, that purpose should be subordinated to the principle that the school is the agent of the parent in the upbringing of the child and as such owes the parent a full and complete report of the results of the child's endeavors.

We have, therefore, the following alternative plans to offer:

(a) Abandonment of the existing plan and a return to the tested system of report cards and grade markings.
(b) Modification of the plan by restoration of classroom markings, with a periodic report card to be rendered under seal (by mail or otherwise), with a return stub which will acknowledge receipt of the card, but will give the child nothing to display to fellow pupils.

(c) Adoption of a new form of report card in which graded markings will be amplified by comments on character and attitude from each teacher with whom the child is in contact.

Your petitioners urge the appointment of a sub-committee to confer with them and with the new superintendent of schools, to consider the plans suggested, and to study the individual complaints which they are prepared to submit.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

APPLEYARD LEADS
NEWTON YOUTHS ON COLLEGE TEAMS

Norman Appleyard, Jr. of Newton Centre, leads the long list of local youths who are starting in athletics in various colleges. When in high school the Newton Centre youth was a member of the football, hockey and baseball teams and after graduating entered Worcester Academy. Two years ago he entered Brown University and starred in freshman athletics. During the past year at Brown as a sophomore he continued his career in the three sports and was one of the most outstanding of his class. He made his letter in all three sports to become the only Brown sophomore with this distinction. With two more years of competition ahead of him the collegiate sport world anticipates hearing frequently of his ability. He plays a backfield position in football, a forward position in hockey and at third base on the nine.

Appleyard, however, is not the only local product prominent in Brown athletics. Two of his classmates, Charlie Butler and Perry Elrod, also former Newton high star athletes in their scholastic days, are close behind. Each was a member of three athletic squads, made two letters and were just shy of making their letters in their third sport. Butler played a substitute line position in the football eleven, a defense position in hockey and at first base on the nine. He was outstanding in the last two sports in which he received insignia but missed a grid award. He is regarded as a promising mainstay on the eleven next fall and may easily become a three-letter man next year. Elrod was handicapped in football by an injury but his forward passing was one of the features of the Bruin offense when he was in the game. He played a forward position on the basketball five and at shortstop on the baseball nine in which he earned his letters. Bob Chapin is another Newton Centre youth at Brown who starred in hockey while Herschel E. Fowler of Newton Centre, regular catcher on the nine, earned his letter in this sport.

Brown University is not the only college which can boast of star athletes from Newton. Northeastern University has several of which Herbert Gallagher is outstanding. Gallagher's ability has been noted repeatedly and is exceptional in that he was too small to be considered of varsity calibre while at Newton High. He completed his career at Northeastern recently with the greatest record of any athlete at the Hub institution. Entering college before the freshman rule went into effect he was eligible for four years of competition. He earned four letters in baseball, four in hockey and one in soccer before that sport was abolished. He captained the hockey team last winter and had a four-year record of 43 goals and 34 assists. "Windy," as called by his mates, was considered the best right wing in collegiate circles. He pitched, played second and the outfield on the baseball nine and in his four years as a regular was the leading pitcher and batter. On the mound he won 13 and lost 8 allowing an average of 5 hits and 4 runs per game. He had a four-year batting average of .342 and .389 in fielding. His great power of co-ordination was the secret of his success. Northeastern also has such athletes as Hank Furdon, Bob Buell, Francis Tischer and others who claim Newton as their home.

Dartmouth of course has Frank Spain and Bob Bennett, outstanding athletes in football, baseball and hockey. Bowdoin College has George Hildreth and Walter Billings, the former a hockey and baseball player while the latter confines his activities to hockey of which he is captain-elect for 1935.

New Hampshire University has Fred Schlapp who is prominent in football and hockey in the centre positions of these two teams. There are undoubtedly a number of other Newton youths who are prominent in college athletics and who will be heard from in the future.

Outstanding among freshmen at various colleges are Warren Huston at Springfield and Jackson Skillings at Brown. Huston is a three-sport star at the Y. M. C. A. college in the western part of the state where he shone in football, basketball and baseball. Skillings is captain of the freshman tennis team at Brown and also captain of the yearling hockey team. He will be teaming up with Appleyard and Butler in another year to continue the Newton line to Brown teams.

With such an array of athletic talent in various colleges Newton could be represented by a baseball nine of great ability. For instance an All-Newton college nine could have Gallagher of Northeastern and Bennett of Dartmouth as its battery with Hildreth and Fowler as reserve catchers. Butler would have little opposition at first base with his 6 ft. 6 in. frame although Francis Gleason of Harvard, a Country Day product but a resident of Newton, would have second call. Frank Spain would play second base as he did the greater part of the time he was in the Dartmouth lineup this year with Elrod holding down the shortstop berth. Appleyard would take care of the hot corner with Charlie Gallagher of Providence College (former Our Lady High star) as available. Warren Huston would be a reserve infielder unless it were necessary to use freshman players on the nine. Gleason played in the Harvard outfield this season being transferred from first base as Coach Mitchell had Charlie Nevin available. Gallagher and Elrod could play outfield berths to complete the lineup.

Newton will be prominent in college sports for several years to come, clearly indicated when it is realized that Milton Green will be eligible to represent Harvard in track next year while Stanley Johnson will

OUR LADY HIGH PLACES TWO ON ALL-
CATHOLIC LEAGUE 9

Two players on the Our Lady High School nine were among those chosen by the consensus votes of the coaches of teams in the Catholic High School league circuit for positions on the All-League nine. Billy O'Connell, local centre fielder, was chosen for an outfield berth while Nick Colantuanno of Our Lady's was chosen for the utility outfield berth.

O'Connell is an accomplished outfielder and compiled a batting average of .432 for the season. Many of his hits were for extra distance and many of them were timely blows with men on bases. Colantuanno ended the season with a batting mark of .455.

The All-Catholic league team played the All-Suburban league nine on Wednesday evening with the former winning an 11 to 7 decision at Tech field, Brookline. The Catholic nine piled up a five-run lead in the first inning but saw it dwindle away and the Suburbans go into a 7 to 5 lead. In the sixth a three-run rally put the Catholic nine on the good and a ninth inning three-run spurge put the game on ice. Billy O'Connell was the fielding star of the game with five putouts, two of which were hard chances from the bat of Joe Walsh, Brookline high star. Two of O'Connell's clutches were nothing but grand larceny and he added to his laurels with a great peg to second base to nail Crowley of Cambridge Latin after the latter had singled in the disastrous fourth in which the Suburbans tallied four times. Three in the second had put the Suburbans back into the game after the first inning rally by the Catholic nine.

Billy Spilman of Newton high played second base for the Suburbans and crashed out a double to figure in his team's scoring. Johnny Waters of Newton high and Nick Colantuanno were the lead-off batters in their respective line-ups. The Our Lady High players got one hit in our trips while Waters, the leading Newton high batter, made no hit in five tries. Charlie Muscia, another Newton high outfielder, connected for two singles in five trips to the plate. He played in right field for the Suburbans. Spilman was the pivot on a fast double play the Suburban infield pulled in the ninth while the Catholic nine was staging its three-run rally.

SILVERLAKE WINS
THREE STRAIGHT—
SCHOLASTICS IN TIE

The close of the second week of the Newton Twilight League finds Silver Lake bracketed with Jeff Jones' Scholastics in first place. Upper Falls and the City Club are just a notch below, followed by Auburndale and the Newton Aces.

Although tied for first place, the Scholastics are rated as a doubtful quantity with the real battle for honors between Silver Lake, Upper Falls, City Club, Newton Aces and Auburndale. Y. M. C. A. is given little consideration due to the fact that most of the changes are now playing in another league. The Cubs, near champions last year, have had little success, losing three while winning only a single game.

There will be a league meeting on Wednesday, June 27th, at the Newton Centre Recreation Building at which time the players' lists for the month of July will be approved.

The league standing is as follows:

	W.	L.	P.C.
Silver Lake A. C.	3	0	1.000
Scholastics	1	0	1.000
Upper Falls T. T.	2	1	.667
Newton City Club	4	2	.667
Auburndale B. B. C.	1	1	.500
Newton A. C.	1	1	.500
Y. M. C. A.	1	2	.333
Newton Cubs	1	2	.250
Highlands A. C.	0	2	.000
Newton Boys Club	0	2	.000

They found her in a highly nervous state from the inhalation of the gas, but she was not seriously affected.

50th Anniversary of Oldest Summer School of Music Supervisors at Lasell

On July 4th classes will convene at Lasell Junior College, Auburndale, Mass., for the Fiftieth Anniversary Session of The American Institute of Normal Methods. This training school for teachers of school music was instituted at Lexington in 1884 by the late Hosea E. Holt, one of the Directors of Music of the City of Boston, who saw the need for teachers to be specially trained for this work.

Succeeding sessions of the school were held at Brown University, at Babylon, Long Island, at the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, and since 1913 at Lasell Junior College.

The special feature for this anniversary session is the inauguration of a conducting clinic. Many teachers of school music are accomplished conductors of chorus or of orchestra. The new developments in the field of music are such that conductors need the greatest skill in conducting both chorus and orchestra at the same time, and the new course is especially directed toward this growing need in school music.

The climax of the conducting clinic will be a festival performance of Mendelssohn's "Hymn of Praise," in which the school chorus, augmented by members of festival choruses in and about Boston, soloists, and orchestra will take part.

Three Local Youths Elected at Tufts

Three local youths were elected by their classmates at Tufts College at the recent balloting by members of the senior class for various class titles. Alfred E. Allen, Jr., of Newton, was judged as being the most original and the wittiest member of the class. Donald J. Winslow of Auburndale was chosen as the most thorough gentleman and the quietest and Gordon C. Linberg of Newtonville was chosen as the best all-around athlete and as the possessor of the best physique.

Cubs Hold Third Annual Palava

In 1932 the first Cub Palava was held under the Norumbega Council, Inc., Boy Scouts of America. There were about 30 Cubs present. At the 1934 Cub Palava held on Saturday, June the 16th there were 137 Cubs in attendance.

The Cubs assembled in the Council Ring at "Scoutland," Westwood, and after a uniform inspection by the members of the Pack Committees, there were the following results: Pack 7, Davis School Pack, West Newton; Pack 10, Angier School, Waban; and Pack 20 Trinity Church, Newton Centre won the National Uniform Award.

A Treasure Hunt, won by Pack 10 of Waban, covered all parts of Camp Storow, Scoutland, and the Cubs were as keen as if they had been real wolves following a wounded buck.

Supper was prepared and the Cubs did a real cooking job. In fact, the Den Chiefs who were supposed to be on hand to offer help were astonished at the "cuisine prowess" of their younger brothers. (A Den Chief is a Scout who has charge of the Cub Den and is helped by the Den Mothers.)

After camp fires were extinguished and the remains of feasting cleared each Pack put on a stunt in the Council ring. Most of them were excellent for impromptu affairs. Awards were given for the different activities which were won during the afternoon and Pack 4, Newton Highlands, won the Attendance Award. Mr. Clarence Churchill is Cubmaster of Pack 4.

Mr. Ralph H. Nodine, Regional Scout Executive of New England told about the growth of Cubbing in New England.

Two Cubs from Pack 7, West Newton, Robert MacGrath and Ralph H. Nodine, Jr. then "went up" into Scoutland, to Troop 7C of West Newton.

The Cubmaster of Pack 7, Mr. W. R. Speirs, who is Assistant Scout Executive as well, presented the two boys with their "going up" certificates and the fathers of these two Cubs pinned on their Scout Tenderfoot pins.

At intervals through the program songs were sung, led by Scout Walter Slocumb of Troop 7C.

The closing of the Palava was under the direction of Pack 20, Newton Centre, Scout Gerald Bennett of Troop 15, Auburndale, was Akela. As he told about the different lands that had Cubbing the flags of these lands came in. Then he greeted the Old Akela of Cubbing who was Wm. Bradford Gove, Scoutmaster of Troop 5, Newtonville. The Old Akela welcomed the United States Cub Family into the world group and the United States flag came in. Then he led the Cubs in the final Grand Howl.

Many parents of Cubs were present at this Palava and it was by far the most successful Cub meeting to date.

The Palava was under the direction of Mr. Elmer E. Ellsworth, the Cub Commissioner. Mr. Ellsworth is principal of the West Newton School District. For the past two years he has been very active in the Cub program and much of the progress and rapid strides Cubbing has taken in Norumbega Council, Inc., is due to Mr. Ellsworth's efforts.

Nash Dealer In Newton Receives High Praise

August Osterlund, President of August Osterlund, Inc., 724 Beacon st., has just received notice from the Nash Motors Company in which Mr. C. W. Nash voices his sincere praise of the conduct of Nash business relationship here in Newton.

"Your faith and close cooperation with the Nash Motors Company, the host of sincere friends you have built up for Nash and LaFayette in Newton, add your fine treatment of motorists are fundamental arts of the company's success. You have played a good game and are going to play a better one. I believe that, with the new Nash and LaFayette lines, the entire organization has a chance to reap its biggest success and a greater reward than ever before in Nash history. Please accept my sincere thanks and personal gratitude for a job well done."

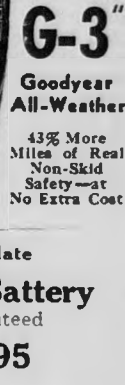

August Osterlund, Inc., has handled the products of the Nash Motors Company since 1925. In that period it has sold hundreds of new and used cars to Newton people and has built up a reputation for excellent, fair and square automobile service. The new 1934 Nash cars are proving such outstanding values that Mr. Osterlund's business has already increased this year to the high standard established in 1931, which he says was his peak new car sales year.

At the regular meeting at the Brae Burn Club, in a vigorous and stimulating address, Rev. Vincent Bebbett, rector of Christ Church of Fitchburg, and President of the Fitchburg Rotary Club, urged the Newton Rotarians "to take the Rotary beliefs into every day living." He declared that it was an American weakness "to join a slogan" and "to give lip service to ideals and beliefs without living them." He said, "Until we take the best that comes into our lives and throw it back into life, we have not lived a life of service."

Rev. Bennett stressed the motive of service as the only kind of relationship that should exist between the business men and their customers, between professional men and their clients. Any other motive would eventually lead to failure rather than to success.

He decried the purchase of so-called "bargain counter articles" because the purchase of such articles kept a great group of workers, the producers of such material, at starvation wages and the purchasers received an inferior article. "Teaching people to buy for value rather than price," he said, "is the responsibility of the business man if he is to render the greatest service."

In spite of the fact that some of the NRA code signers were allegedly violating fair practice agreements in underbidding, Rev. Bennett asserted that the co-signers should live to the letter of the agreements they signed and that in the long run those who did not would lose out, since success was dependent upon the possession of ideals and a sense of honor and integrity.

BACK TO NORMAL

With the State pre-primary conventions of both the Republican and Democratic parties now over there are indications that politics in Massachusetts are returning to normal. The Republican party has decided upon a ticket which meets with practically universal approval of the Republican voters. The ticket is well-balanced both geographically and racially and also includes a woman candidate for state-wide office for the first time in the party's history. On the other hand the Democratic party is yet uncertain as to whether or not the ticket selected by the pre-primary convention will survive the coming primary election for nominations in September. Thus the situation is quite similar to what it used to be when Massachusetts was considered a Republican State. While it is true that party lines have been somewhat cast aside in recent years the rapidly crystallizing harmony in the Republican ranks bids fair to bring the State back into what we still believe is its normal status. The G. O. P. is on the way back in Massachusetts with a new engine to make it run—Bacon and Haigis.

AN ANNUAL COMPLAINT

Several persons have called our attention to the matter upon which we have commented in previous years. With the hot summer days the failure to use the coverings provided on the trucks collecting garbage results in unpleasant odors disagreeable to everyone. We trust that henceforth more care in this matter will be taken.

Under The Gilded Dome

The so-called police unification bill was again the most important subject of the week discussed in the House of Representatives. Following the previous recommitment of the bill together with a new message from Governor Ely on the question, some ten days ago, the Committee on the Judiciary held new hearings on the matter. This week they reported substantially the same bill in the House and yesterday afternoon there was a lengthy debate on it with subsequent defeat by a roll-call vote of 87 to 124. The previous vote on the matter was 84 to 125. After the rejection of the bill yesterday Rep. Pratt of Saugus, an opponent of the bill, moved reconsideration and asked that his motion be defeated in order that it would definitely end consideration of the proposed bill. Sponsors of the bill led by Rep. Horace Cahill of Braintree, Republican floor leader, and chairman of the Committee on Judiciary, moved that action on the motion to reconsider be postponed until this morning's session. Other members of the House moved to adjourn, lay the matter on the table, and falling in this even a motion to recess the House subject to the call of the Speaker was offered and a Parliamentary tangle ensued. Finally all motions were defeated except that of postponing action on reconsideration until today which was accomplished by a roll-call vote of 104 to 99. Newton's three representatives voted for the bill and also for postponement of reconsideration. It is expected that at today's session if reconsideration prevails that an attempt will be made by friends of the bill to divide the present bill into several independent sections so that opponents of various sections may accept other provisions. It is believed that this alone is the ultimate solution of the question although none anticipate that the measure eventually adopted will approach the provisions sought by Governor Ely and others. Incidentally the defeat of the bill was brought about by a large majority of the Democratic members of the House in a coalition with twenty-five or so Republicans.

The Halliwell bill increasing the funds available to meet loans to cities and towns on account of tax titles was put upon its final passage on Tuesday of this week. The bill extends the act of last year under which several millions of dollars was made available for municipalities in financial need.

Several vetoes by Governor Ely were acted upon in the House this week with the Governor being sustained in some instances and overridden in a couple of others. The Governor was overridden by a vote of 102 to 35 on a bill to recompense Charles A. Smith of Mills for damages to his automobile by a wild deer. Newton's three Representatives voted to override the veto. The Governor's veto was sustained by a vote of 85 to 77 on a bill to recompense Harry A. Pattison of Cohasset for the loss of several thousands of dollars worth of lobsters through the changing of their salt water home to fresh water when a public work project was undertaken several years ago. At the Tuesday afternoon session reconsideration of this matter was granted and the veto was then overridden by a vote of 127 to 61. On both roll-calls Representatives Baker, Brimblecom and Luitwiler of Newton voted to sustain the Governor. The Governor's veto of a bill to pay Arthur W. Newcomb and others of Quincy for land taken in connection with the Fore River Shipyards back in the days of the World War was sustained after lengthy debate. In 1926 the state had made a payment by special act to correct the injustice that had occurred and since that time almost annual attempts have been made for further payment. Each time it has been rejected. The vote on Tuesday was 107 to 87 and although there was a majority there was less than the

By Edward H. Powers

Frank W. Chase, principal of the Bigelow School, retires today after 36 years' service in Newton. He will be 70 years young next August, but he is slender and as active mentally and physically as most men twenty-five years his junior. Mr. Chase had the ideal temperament for a teacher and the merry twinkle in his eye after a half-century of teaching proves that 50 years in a profession that tries the patience of a large percentage of those in this occupation, could not change his genial nature. The thousands of his former pupils wish him many years of happiness after his long and very efficient service.

A score of marriage in Newton over the last week-end proves that many are not deterred from assuming the serious economic responsibility of matrimony because of the depression and the dubious future of business. It also proves that June is still the popular month for brides. But, why did so many select the anniversary of the "Battle of Bunker Hill?"

Senator Hollis was one of the members of the State Senate who voted against the scandalous appropriation of $340,000 for the purchase of land at Somerville assessed for $80,000; an appropriation which is accused of reeking with graft and corruption, and which shows how much a majority of the State Senators care for the welfare of the taxpayers of this Commonwealth. We hope Governor Ely will enhance his reputation by vetoing this rotten act.

Is Fined For Drunken Driving

Lemuel Kirkpatrick of West Brookline street, Boston was fined $50 in the Newton court on Friday for driving while under the influence of liquor. George Hoffman of Kenrick street, Newton was fined $5 for improperly parking his car. Jacob Goldberg of Worcester was fined $25 for speeding. Others fined for speeding were Mrs. J. P. Thayer, Beacon street, Brookline, $10; Richard Smith, Na tick, $10; Adolph Rosen, Milford, $5. In court yesterday Brasel Pintabona, 17, of Underwood avenue, West Newton was fined $100 for driving an uninsured car. The fine was suspended.

Accountants Elected Three Newton Men To Office

At the recent annual meeting of Boston Chapter, National Association of Cost Accountants, held at Woodland Golf Club, three Newton residents were elected to office: Mr. C. C. Theders of 97 Langdon st. was re-elected as Director of meetings while Mr. J. E. Kirwin, 14 Whittemore rd. and Mr. W. B. Ford of 24 Hancock st. Auburndale, were added to the board as Directors of Membership and Publicity.

This organization is one of the leaders of forty five chapters of a National Association which has a membership of more than six thousand accountants and executives and which is devoted to the betterment of American industry through adequate accounting technique.

Newton Women Interested In Fashion Show

A fashion show of the latest and smartest summer fashions displayed on debutantes and important young matrons will be one of the attractive features of the garden fête to be held on the estate of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Pettit, Singletary Lane, Framingham Center, on Wednesday, June 27 (in the event of rain it will be held on June 28). The Newton England Deaconess Association Health Home for Children will benefit from the proceeds of the occasion.

Many Newton people are interested in the success of this fête which is being planned by Mrs. Pettit and Mrs. Herbert E. Harrington of Weston as co-chairmen, with a large and tireless group of assistants. Mrs. Pettit is a former resident of Newton. Mrs. William L. Shearer 3rd of Newton Center will be one of the mannequins in the elaborate fashion show on the broad sloping lawns.

two-thirds margin. Again Newton representatives voted to sustain the Governor. At the next session reconsideration was sought and obtained but once again the veto was upheld on another roll-call. Still another veto by the Governor which was sustained was that on a bill allowing the town of Ludlow to refund certain sewer assessments to private parties. The vote on this measure was 36 to override the veto and 155 in support with Newton's members again with the majority.

Yesterday the Senate had a lengthy debate on the bill to authorize the Metropolitan District to pay $340,000 for the Hinckley Rendering Plant on the Mystic River at Somerville with the development of the property into a beach and park to follow. The property is assessed for $86,000 and the bill had a difficult passage through the House. The Senate passed the bill to a third reading by a vote of 18 to 16. Sen. Hollis of Newton was recorded against the bill.

It is considered unlikely that the Legislature will wind up its session this week because of the delay in action on the police bill and because of the fact that there are still more than fifty matters to be acted upon. Unless unforeseen emergency legislation is necessary the General Court should be able to prorogue next week. It seems apparent at the present time that the State tax will be increased about one and a quarter millions despite all attempts to keep the figure down.

Newtonville Improvement Ass'n Has Committee Meeting

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Newtonville Improvement Association was held on Monday evening, June 18th, at the home of Professor Bred, 32 Harvard street. A number of routine matters were taken up. It was voted to see if something could not be done to prevent speeding by automobiles on the streets adjacent to Newtonville sq. and also to facilitate the handling of pedestrian traffic in rush hours.

Report was made that the thirty-nine district representatives of the Association had been practically all chosen and that they would meet soon with the officers of the Association to further acquaint themselves with their duties. The organization of the association, including the Executive Committee thus consists of about sixty men.

Another Course For Those Seeking Positions

Next Monday, June 25, another course will start at the School for Those Seeking Positions, in Wellesley Hills, on the campus of Babson Institute. Four groups have already taken this course since Roger W. Babson established this unique development in practical business training and counselling last September. Many from the Newtons have taken the course.

A big majority of the men and women in these groups have secured positions. These positions offer real opportunities and a new chance in the business world. They are more than "bread and butter" jobs. According to Mr. Babson's personal guarantee any who do not secure positions within sixty days after the conclusion of the course have their tuition refunded. Thus every one will either get a job or a check.

This next course starting June 25 is so timed that the men and women taking it will start the canvass for positions just as the fall upturn in business should be getting underway around the first of September. According to Samuel P. Allison, director of the school, reports made by his people on employers they have called upon, many firms expect to enlarge their staffs this fall.

Those who have taken the course include salesmen, technical men, accountants and bookkeepers, stenographers and general office workers, etc. Many who for a year had failed to get work on their own efforts, have secured jobs after taking the course.

is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him" (1 Corinthians 8:6).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth" (Genesis 1:26).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The scientific fact that man and the universe are evolved from Spirit, and so are spiritual, is as fixed in divine Science as is the proof that mortals gain the sense of health only as they lose the sense of sin and disease. . . . God creates and governs the universe, including man. The universe is filled with spiritual ideas, which He evolves, and they are obedient to the Mind that makes them" (pp. 69, 295).

Specialist Talks On Tight Screens

Flies and insects create and spread disease and all that walk, crawl or fly will come through small openings in your windows and doors, says John M. Walker of the Home Specialties Company, Inc., Walter st., Newton Centre. "Shut everyone of them out with custom-made screens and doors, perfectly fitted."

"We have a specially favorable arrangement with a leading maker to take your order for custom-made screens and doors and we will deliver the same to you. The frames will be made of selected white pine, scientifically seasoned to prevent warping or shrinking under exposure to out-door atmosphere and weather. They will last for 20 years. They will have a first coat of best quality paint and a finishing coat of gloss enamel. They will be grooved on the sides for sliding, have fine square edges, tenoned corners, and finger holes. They will be wired perfectly with the best quality obtainable mesh 18-bronze wire cloth."

Another Canoe Capsizes on River

A young man and woman were saved from drowning on Saturday afternoon in the Charles River near Norumbega near where three others have been drowned within the past few weeks. Douglas Livingston, 20, and Helen LaRue, 19, both of Melrose, were thrown into the river when the canoe in which they were paddling capsized. They managed to cling to the boat until Patrolman Tannis of the Metropolitan police hastened in a launch from the station nearby and rescued them.

Arless in "House of Rothschild" at Coolidge Corner

One of the largest and most imposing casts ever assembled for a motion picture can be seen in "The House of Rothschild" starring George Arless, current at the Coolidge Corner Theatre, Brookline. There are less than twenty-five principals and more than seventy speaking parts not to mention hundreds of extra players. "The House of Rothschild," 20th Century's most ambitious production to date, has been hailed as "George Arless' best vehicle as well as the finest picture to come out of Hollywood this season."

Boris Karloff, Loretta Young and Robert Young head the supporting cast, which includes C. Aubrey Smith, Arthur Byron, Helen Westly, Reginald Owen, Florence Arless, Alan Moray, Holmes Herbert, Paul Harvey, Ivan Simpson, Noel Madison, Murray Kinell, George Renavent and others. On the same program is "Badge of Honor" with Buster Crabbe, Ruth Hall, Ralph Lewis, Betty Blythe and others. It is a hair-raising picture of experiences of a young hero who challenged crime and won.

There is the Coolidge Corner News showing all the latest news events both foreign and domestic.

Weeks Junior H. S.

With the approach of examinations, good weather, and summer vacations, there are many varied and unusual activities taking place at the Weeks Junior High School.

The Pet Club gave a novel pet show in the boys' gymnasium on June 14. Entries included dogs, canaries, lizards, numerous cats, rabbits, guinea pigs, and tropical fish. The judges included Mr. Carr, Miss Wilder, and Miss O'Brien. John Devlin won the greatest number of ribbons because of the large number of pets he had entered in the show.

The Faculty held a successful picnic at Clinton on June 12. Swimming, boating, games, an excellent dinner, and good fellowship were the outstanding features of the day. The committee responsible for the enjoyable affair was composed of Miss Andrews, Miss Smith, and Mr. MacConnell.

Mr. Paul Ellicker, principal of the Newton High School, spoke briefly to the ninth grade class of the Weeks Junior High School before the regular assembly program on June 20. Mr. Ellicker welcomed the class that is to enter the high school in September and gave many helpful suggestions.

The combined strength of the Student Council and the Student Patrol, 175 strong, held its annual outing for 1934 on Monday, June 18. These student organizations left the school in a fleet of Greyhound buses at nine in the morning, proceeded to Rowe's Wharf in Boston where they took an excursion boat for a trip to Buzzard's Bay through the Cape Cod Canal.

Not to be outdone, more than 200 members of the ninth grade class held a picnic at Nantasket Beach on Thursday, June 21. They were accompanied by many of the ninth grade teachers of the school.

Recent class gifts have added to the beauty and pleasant spirit of the building. The class of 1934 has presented the school with four handsome framed pictures. They are "Lifting Fog," a marine view; "Santa Fe Trail," covered wagons and pioneers; "Apple Blossoms," a pastoral scene; and "Crest of the Sierras." The class of 1935 is responsible for "The North-easter" and "Spring Birchies," while as part of its memorial gift to school, the class of 1936 has given a delightful work called "Pais." These pictures are now on view at the school.

The assembly program of June 20, 1934 included an exchange of farewell messages by Mr. Frank Carr, the principal; Leland Sosman, president of the eighth grade; and Robert Bishop, president of the ninth grade. Later the Puffs and Pom Poms, an eighth grade drama club, presented an amusing one act play entitled "Betty Behave" under the direction of Frances Hamilton. The small but competent cast included June Elldridge, Virginia Graham, and Joan Cummins.

The Weeks' Track Squads have just finished successful seasons. The main stays of the seventh grade were De Laurier, Lynch, Fitzgerald, Simpkins, Ryther, Zakon, R. MacDonald, MacKinnon. The eighth grade squad included the following: Callihan, Manchester, Angle, Ward, Miller, Johnston, McNeille, Messier, Robey, Gealer, Booth and Sweetman. The 1934 squad included such veterans as Mather, Bradford Shapiro, Fitcher, R. Bishop, Regan, Isham, Donovan, Humphreys, Thompson, Rustin, Muldoon, and Bishop.

Children's Garden Club In Waban Is Active

About forty-five members of the Children's Garden Club of the Angler School of Waban enjoyed a most instructive afternoon Monday visiting the estate of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Richardson of Cottage st., Brookline, where very many imported flowering shrubs and trees and rare specimens of South American and Chinese ferns grow amid kindred native flora affording a most unusual educational opportunity.

The Angler School Children's Garden Club was organized this spring under the able leadership of Mrs. Wilfred O. White, second vice-president of the Waban Community Garden Club and Mr. Carlton Rae, principal of the Angler School. One of its first activities was to fertilize and plant, under specific directions, a sample garden on the school grounds to serve as a model of its size. This was done under the guidance of Mrs. Walter Dempsey of the Mass. State Agriculture Station at Waltham, who with Mr. Rae and Miss Juliet Richardson are promoting this most interesting avocation for Waban children. It is planned that the best of the gardens will be exhibited with others of the adult class sometime in late summer.

Carroll School Holds 50th Anniversary and Graduation

The Carroll School Graduating exercises were held on Thursday morning, June 14th, at 10:30. The girls of the Upper School gave two French plays, and a production of "The Sleeping Princess." In connection with these exercises was the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the school. The school was founded in 1884 by Miss Kate Carroll. The older classes were represented by Miss Fanny Garrison of Wellesley College, who presented to Miss Rosalie Carroll, the present principal, a golden chest containing two hundred letters from former pupils of the school. Miss Garrison read a poem, written for the occasion by Miss Ethel Howland. Miss Lee of the Lee School of Boston, brought greetings from her school, which was founded by a sister of Miss Kate Carroll. The graduates then presented Miss Carroll with a "golden" basket of flowers, and a poem of congratulation and appreciation written by Lucia Farrington; and the whole school and many of the graduates gave Miss Carroll a shower of tributes and beautiful flowers.

Aldermen Argue Purchase of $2500 Press for School

A long argument over the purchase of a second-hand automatic printing press for use at the Newton Trade School took place at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night. The School Department has for sometime been seeking to acquire a high-speed, automatic Kelly press for use at the trade school in Newbury. After a conference with members of the school department on Tuesday night, the Finance Committee approved of the Mayor's recommendation for an appropriation of $2500 to buy such a press. The Education Committee composed of Aldermen Temperley, chairman; Farrell and McKay was split on the matter. Temperley, a veteran printer, opposed the purchase and McKay favored it. Farrell, originally inclined to favor the purchase, changed his opinion and joined with Temperley.

Alderman Gordon, for the Finance Committee favored the purchase on the claim that the press is necessary to afford proper instruction to the boys studying printing at the trade school. He said that schools in Boston and Waltham, and other places have such presses, and they are essential for proper training in the printing trade. Alderman Mansfield, an expert pressman, a printer for 25 years and former head of the printing department at the Boston Trade School, opposed the appropriation. He said much money has been spent unwisely on vocational schools and there has been too much competition by such schools with men in the printing business; men who pay taxes. He said the Kelly press, printing 6000 imprints an hour is not necessary for instruction, as the boys in the Newton school can learn the fundamentals on the ordinary cylinder presses now in the school. He stated that the automatic Kelly press is wanted for production, to exploit the boys in turning out printed matter to compete with Newton printers, and that these boys need training in the fundamentals of printing. Instead of becoming expert in running an automatic press, he said the Newton School Department has no right to deprive Newton printers of work by having the school boys do the city printing, and that such competition, common with trade schools, is un-American and deprives established businesses of needed income.

Alderman Temperley agreed with Mansfield. He said the MTA code specifies that printing by trade schools must compete fairly with commercial shops, and that boys should not be used in unfair competition. He advised the purchase of a small cylinder press which would give the 30 boys studying printing more assistance in learning the fundamentals of the trade than will the automatic Kelly press. Alderman Farrell agreed with Temperley and said the Kelly press is desired by the school department not for instruction of the boys, but to turn out production so the school can compete with printers in business.

Alderman Gallagher was caustic in his criticism of the printers in the Board for opposing the purchase. He said it would be comparable if physicians in Newton would oppose Doctor Martin at the High School, putting bandages on the school athletes. Alderman Mansfield said he favors all reasonable means to give the trade school boys proper education, but he opposes government competition with established business. He said school departments are exploiting boys to help defray the costs of trade schools. He said educators should learn that taxpayers do not want overequipped schools. Alderman Temperley retorted to Gallagher by saying, "If I wanted to get information about medicine, I would ask the Ward 1 alderman (Dr. Gallagher), but, if I wanted information about printing, I would ask a printer." Alderman Hutchinson agreed with Alderman Mansfield and said the latter spoke "common sense." Alderman Grebenstein asked for detailed information about the Kelly press, and Mansfield gave it.

A vote was taken on the appropriation of the $2500. Those voting in favor were: Bowen, Chandler, Collins, Floyd, Gallagher, Goddard, Gordon, Grebenstein, Holden, Jamieson, Melcher.

Those voting against the appropriation were: Cronin, Farrell, Hill, Hutchinson, Mansfield, Sprout, Temperley, Cordingley.

Catch Burglar Who Bound, Robbed Aged Woman

A squad of Newton policemen in cruising cars speeded to Chestnut Hill about 1 a. m. yesterday to capture a burglar who is charged with entering the home of Mrs. Louisa Richardson at 384 Hammond st., and who was about to enter the home of George Kelly at 132 Hammond st., when caught. About midnight Mrs. Richardson, who is 74, was awakened by the burglar. He warned her to make no outcry and demanded she tell him where her money was. She complied and he took $20 in cash and a brooch valued at $150. He then bound her hands with one of her stockings and tied the other stocking around her face to gag her. After several minutes Mrs. Richardson succeeded in freeing herself and sounded a buzzer at her bed which brought her nurse and members of her family. The police were notified and cruising cars went to the neighborhood but could find no burglar.

About an hour later another phone call was received from a maid at the Kelly home. She telephoned from a neighbor's house after she had heard someone trying to enter and had been unable to phone from the Kelly house, the wires having been cut. A cruising car from Newtonville with patrolmen O'Donnell and Whelan reached the scene in less than 3 minutes after getting the radio message from headquarters. Another car with Goodes, Serg. Crowley and Patrolmen Bibbo and Brosnahan arrived right after the first car. The house was surrounded and a man was seen near a ladder which had been placed at the rear of the house. He was captured at gun point. He identified himself as Aaron Elowitz, 25, of Chicago, and gave his Boston address as Hotel Essex. He was arraigned in the Newton court yesterday and held in $20,000 bail for a hearing on June 29.

NEWTON LOCAL RETAIL CODE AUTHORITY

Distribution of the Code Eagle is going ahead as rapidly as possible. Show any merchant fail to receive his or her Eagle by June 15th notify the Local Retail Code Authority at 277 Washington street, Newton. Telephone Newton North 4077.

The public can help the honest manufacturer and merchant, can help the factory and store workers and can thereby themselves benefit by insisting that goods they purchase carry the NRA label, particularly is this true in all kinds of clothing.

The Constitution does not secure to anyone liberty to conduct his business in such fashion as to inflict injury upon the public or any substantial group of the people. If you want to obtain honest merchandise at fair prices trade with a merchant you know. The dealer who is here today and gone tomorrow would not come at all if the public didn't buy his merchandise. Trade in Newton all you can. It helps the dealer, helps the city, and in the end it saves you money.

The distribution of hundreds of thousands of Code Eagles to the merchants of the country is a tremendous task. Every dealer is asked to help by sending in his or her postal card (no postage required) that was received from the post office and which simply required that you name your principal business and sign your name. To all those who have not as yet sent their card we ask you to do it now. Those who have sent in their cards and have not as yet received their Eagle should notify the office of the Local Retail Code Authority at once.

An executive order of far reaching importance has recently been signed by the President. It is to the effect that where an employee is discharged by an employer for entering a complaint against that employer as to working hours or as to the employer's policy is subject to heavy penalties for so doing. This strengthens what was admittedly a weak link in the chain, as many employees hesitated to make a complaint fearing the loss of their position. While the employees are few who would take advantage of an employee, still there are some and the order above referred to will clear the way for employees to complain without fear they are being imposed upon.

Gas and Oil Bootleggers Evade Millions in Taxes

Annual tax evasion in the United States, owing to the bootlegging of oil and gasoline, is estimated at some place between $25,000,000 and $100,000,000, according to J. D. Collins, General Sales Manager of the Automotive Division of the Tide Water Oil Company, in commenting on his company's campaign to prevent spurious gasoline being sold as Tydol.

"Tax Commissioner Graves, of New York State, estimates that 5 per cent of the tax on oil and gasoline in that state is evaded each year through the operation of bootleggers of the product," said Mr. Collins. "Some of the other Tax Commissioners in the various states put the percentage of evasion as high as 20 per cent."

"There are $500,000,000 in taxes collected each year on oil and gasoline. If the 5 per cent figure is used the loss is around $25,000,000, but if the higher figures are true it is around $100,000,000."

"Tide Water's new 'secret detector,' which reveals the true contents of gasoline, combined with the company's new inspection service, completely eliminates the bootlegger from his nefarious trade in so far as Tide Water is concerned."

"Each Tide Water pump is now visited at frequent regular periods, and samples of the gasoline taken from the pump are tested by the 'secret detector' and if found O. K., a seal of approval is placed on the pump in a conspicuous place, visible to motorists. If the gasoline has been tampered with this is shown by the test and the station is barred from further sale of Tide Water products."

"The bootlegger is one of the chief enemies of the motoring public, for his wares not only cheat the motorist out of many miles of operation of his car, but do considerable harm to the mechanical parts of the car."

"A complete campaign of education through advertising is being launched by the Tide Water Company and we believe a body blow has been delivered to the gasoline bootlegger. We handed him a wallop when we canned Tydol but the new development on gasoline should put him almost out of business."

Newton DeMolay On Trip To St. Albans, Vt.

Newton DeMolay Go to St. Albans, Vermont

The co-operative spirit which emanates from members of the Order of DeMolay is manifested in the trip to St. Albans, Vermont, which members of Newton Chapter are planning to take next week-end. St. Albans has a school band of fifty to sixty pieces, which is, as yet, without uniforms, and the Patrol and Band of Newton Chapter are making the trip to Vermont, putting on a fancy drill and concert for the purpose of raising the funds necessary for uniforming the school band. This act of co-operation on the part of the local boys has challenged the civic pride of the citizens of St. Albans, and the Board of Trade of that city has under-written the cost of uniforms, declaring that there is no reason why their school band should not be equipped to compare favorably with the two uniformed units coming from Newton. That this act of courtesy on the part of Newton Chapter is fully appreciated is evidenced by the fact that the Newton fellows will be entertained in St. Albans at the homes of members of Alfred A. Hall Chapter, Order of DeMolay, of that city, with side trips to Mt. Mansfield, the highest peak in Vermont, and other points of interest.

Treadless Tires Warning Signal to Car Drivers

Treadless tires that are worn to the danger line, making them susceptible to sudden blowouts, punctures and deflations from cuts should be a warning signal to motorists in summer.

In the opinion of Phil Bram local Goodyear dealer, figures on accidents last year show that of the cars involved, a major proportion had badly worn tires which likely accounted for a lot of the difficulties.

"This is why," he said, "without being considered an alarmist, I believe it is good sense to take steps to make sure your car is in good condition is not only a matter of playing fair with oneself but with the rest of the motoring public on the highways as well."

"We offer a free inspection that puts the motorist under no obligation to trade with us because we are, as the experts, interested in the business of safer driving.

"Thousands more cars are plying the highways today so that having tires that are in good condition is not only a matter of playing fair with oneself but with the rest of the motoring public on the highways as well."

Lasell Holds Commencement

The two highest ranking members of the Class of 1934 at Lasell Junior College are girls who have worked their way through, thus proving once again that student employment and high scholarship can and often do go hand in hand.

Monday, June 11, at the seventy-ninth annual Commencement of the college, held in the Auburndale Congregational Church, President Guy M. Winslow presented scholarship prizes to Isabel LaCrosse, Williams-town; and to Cella Kinsley, Reading, both "working girls," because they led the seventy-seven members of the class in scholarship, at the same time actively participating in many of the college's student activities.

The graduation exercises followed after the seniors' last chapel, held at Bragdon Hall, and the speaker of the day was Prof. Kirtley F. Mather, Harvard. Immediately following the exercises the Commencement luncheon was served in Bragdon Hall, with approximately 500 present. There were no speakers at the luncheon. Most of those graduated will enter women's colleges in the autumn, as juniors.

Amelia Earhart, noted aviatrix, was the honorary member of the class but was unable to attend the graduation exercises. Following an academic procession into the church, which was filled with relatives and friends of the graduating class, prayer was offered by Rev. Edward P. Drew, D.D. After Dr. Mather's address, the diplomas were presented by Dr. Winslow.

Local girls in the graduating class were Marguerite V. L. Brandt, Marjorie B. Jones, and Natalie North of Waban, and Virginia M. Collins, Bettina M. Potter and Dorothy H. Secord of Newton.

Among the prizes and certificates awarded was an "L" to Marguerite Brandt, captain of the winning all-class crew. Natalie North was one of three recipients of prizes for excellent work on the Lasell college publications with Bettina Potter receiving honorable mention.

Marjorie Jones, who was also cheerleader of the class of 1934, was one of the Flame speakers representing the day students. Each senior dormitory offered something which proved unusually annoying or disturbing throughout the year as the senior class gathered around a blazing fire on the lawn of Bragdon Hall.

Alumnae Day was held last Saturday with several local women having an active part. Mrs. Gordon Heath (Dorothy Messenger '26) of West Newton and Mrs. I. S. Dillingham (Nora Burroughs '97) of Newton Centre will be members of the Board of Directors of the Alumnae Association. Mrs. Guy M. Winslow, wife of the president of the college, is a member of the scholarship committee. Mrs. Stanley Steadfast (Marietta Chase) was in charge of the reunion of the class of 1924.

Plan Children's Theatre Movement For Next Fall

The most forward step of the Newton Dramatic Club is the announcement of a children's subscription theatre that will start with a series of five plays designed to suit the taste of the children themselves. Mrs. Everett W. Varney is director of the movement and her past achievements with the Newton Dramatic Club provide an excellent start for a project well worth the consideration of all parents. The five plays will be chosen from a long list of children's favorites. The dates will be Saturdays, Sept. 29, Oct. 13, Oct. 27, Nov. 10, and Dec. 1 with performances at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. This local entertainment for children will be both popular and educational.

The fact that children will carry the juvenile parts with adults taking only adult parts should make the plays even more interesting since all children who take active part in the movement will be given voice training, diction, acting technique and poise. It should also make the beloved stories more tangible to the youthful audience to see a child rather than a grown person in a child's part.

The settings for the plays in an intimate theatre will be carefully designed in order to meet the child's direct simplicity of thought yet preserving all the beauty that is the imagination characteristic of children.

The subscriptions are in charge of Miss Barbara Lippincott, 121 Adena rd., West Newton.

Newton National Bank Prosperous

The Newton National Bank, at a meeting of the Board of Directors this week, placed the bank's stock on a dividend basis. The Board declared a dividend of $1.00 per share, payable July 2 to stockholders of record June 20.

The bank has made a wonderful record under the trying conditions of the past five years. Organized in 1929 by a group of Newton's most influential citizens, the Newton National Bank has so successfully come through the depression as to be able now, after one of the most difficult banking periods in the nation's history, to inaugurate the payment of dividends to stockholders.

This achievement stands as a striking tribute to the sound, conservative, capable management of the Newton men who formed this bank and who have directed its affairs.

The strength of the Newton National Bank is revealed in the relationship of its capital, surplus and undivided profits to deposits. The bank's combined capital, surplus and undivided profits are equivalent to over 30% of its total deposits, which means that behind every dollar of the depositors' money is not only the equivalent investment, but thirty cents additional in reserve. This relationship is one of the highest among the banks in the entire country.

Aldermen Refuse Permit For Upper Falls Gas Station

Adjoins Turnpike at Corner Of Chestnut

Another phase of the controversy over the gasoline filling station at the northwest corner of Chestnut and Boylston streets, Newton Upper Falls was reached on Monday night when the Newton Board of Aldermen voted not to grant the petition of Francis E. Brown for a permit to erect a brick and concrete building at this locus. A permit was granted in 1923 to Herbert Bridger for a filling station on a lot having a frontage of 122 feet on Chestnut street and 99 feet on Boylston street. The property subsequently changed ownership a couple of times and the present owner of record is Mr. Brown.

In 1932 the State took most of this property in the process of constructing the Worcester turnpike and awarded $33,000 for it. A narrow strip with a frontage of about 20 feet on Chestnut street remained. A petition was then presented to the Board of Aldermen seeking to have the Dardano property at 925 Chestnut street changed from residence to business zone to permit its addition to the narrow strip of land remaining from the filling station locus. A majority of the Board of Aldermen apparently was favorable to this zoning change, but, finally the petition was refused. In September, 1933, the Aldermen voted to grant a permit for the erection of a metal structure on the narrow lot to be used in conjunction with the filling station. This building was not erected and a couple of months ago another petition was received from Francis E. Brown asking for a permit to build a brick and concrete structure instead of the steel building for which a permit was granted last September. After much discussion, the Aldermen on May 7th granted this petition. The next day Alderman Hill, chairman of the Licenses Committee moved for a reconsideration of this vote because it was found that whereas the petition stated the brick structure would be the same size and be placed on the same part of the narrow lot as the steel building, such was not the case.

In the meantime Alderman Holden of Ward 6, who opposed the granting of the petitions in September, 1933, and in May of this year, had been vigorously opposing the granting of the petition. Alderman Temperley of Ward 5 and the Upper Falls section, also opposed the petition. Holden raised the issue that, inasmuch as the tanks at the station were taken from their positions in the ground in 1932 when the side roadway alongside the overpass on the turnpike was under construction, and most of the filling station site was taken, since these tanks remained above ground for a long period of time, disconnected from the pumps, and because the tanks and pumps are now in locations allegedly different from those which they occupied according to the conditions under which this station permit was granted before the State seized the property, the permit had become void and the Aldermen have no authority to grant a petition for the erection of a building in connection with this station. A meeting of the Aldermen, as a committee of the whole was held on Monday night, in conference with City Solicitor Bartlett. John J. Walsh of Boston, attorney at law, who has represented the owners of the station during the controversy was present in the Aldermanic chamber. Mr. Bartlett ruled that Alderman Holden's contentions were well taken and the Aldermen voted without debate in the open meeting to grant leave to withdraw on the petition on the ground that the filling station permit is now void. It is understood that legal action may ensue.

NEWTON DE MOLAY MEMBERS GIVEN NEW DEGREES

On the week-end trip to St. Albans, Vermont, last Friday and Saturday Newton members of the Order of DeMolay were given new and unique degrees making them members of the new "Tomanochi" Lodge.

The local youths were taken to the top of Mt. Mansfield on Saturday morning where in a ceremony on top of the mountain the degrees were conferred. The name is taken from the words, "Top Mansfield Nose Chln." The degree is only given on the mountain top, the highest spot in Vermont, 4389 feet above sea level. Later they were feasted with an outdoor steak dinner.

On Friday night a crowded auditorium greeted the combined appearance of the St. Albans School boys' Band and the band and patrol of the Newton Chapter, Order of DeMolay in a program presented for the benefit of the St. Albans' band. The Newton DeMolay Band was led by Miss Jeanne Budding, 14-year old baton twirler of the Warren Junior High School. As an added attraction to the program Miss Budding gave her exhibition of baton twirling. The program also featured variety entertainment including several acts in costume, a German band, and drills by the patrol. On Sunday all attended the Congregational Church services at which the DeMolay Band played the Offertory.

Members of the Newton band and patrol who made the trip included: Edwin B. Pratt, Leader, Richard Buckley, Carleton Hastings, Howard E. Millen, Gordon A. Morse, William C. Maurer, Arthur L. Derbyshire, Richard C. Lyon, William J. Orpin, William Thorpe, Jr., of Waltham; William D. Walker, Jr., Captain, Arnold B. Davis, Sergeant, Harry H. Haladay, Russell H. Horton, Carl C. Davis, Jr., Allan L. Willon, Richard Blake, William E. Everett, Clovis V. Crummett of Newtonville; William B. Locke, Donald E. Hooper, Frederick B. Williams of Waban; Homer D. Wood, Frederick W. Morgan, Robert J. Ferguson, Victor E. Haven of Newtonville; Lewis A. Gammans, Richard E. Dale, John A. Wilson, Jr., Auburndale, Frederick W. MacGregor, Leslie W. Lefest of Watertown; Frederick R. Wright of Allston; Eugene E. Barbier, of Wellesley; and Herbert L. Basford of Roxbury.

Following the hearing on June 19th the School Committee voted to appoint a sub-committee to study the "no marking" system and its results in the Newton schools, and to determine whether a majority of parents are in favor or opposed to it. This sub-committee is composed of Kirtley Mather, a professor at Harvard University; Harry A. Bryant, a master at English High School in Boston; and Franklin E. Smith, a lawyer, whose father was for many years a schoolmaster in Boston. ## Two Local Athletes Winners of Titles

Two Newton youths were among the New England Amateur athletes winning championships at the annual track and field games of the N. E. A. U. at Newport, R. I., last Sunday. Milton Green, former Newton high track captain and star, a freshman last year at Cornell and now a sophomore at Harvard where he will be eligible to compete next year, was one of the two outstanding stars of the meet. Tony Geniewicz of Lynn and Dartmouth was the other, each being a double winner. Green won both the high and low hurdle races to win the title in both events. Over the high barriers Green turned in a 16 second trial and a 15.4 seconds final on a slow track to smash the existing record of 16.6 seconds to hits. In the meet Green competed under the colors of the B. A. A., which easily captured the team championship.

Stanley Johnson, who followed Green at Newton High and now is a sophomore at M. I. T. was the other local winner. In the broad jump he won the title with a leap of 22 ft. 4 1/2 inches. Arthur Linthwaite of the Newton Y was another local youth to place, finishing third in the 580-yard run.

After the meet eight title winners were selected to make the trip Milwaukee to compete in National A. U. championships later this summer. Johnson was among the eight chosen. There has been considerable criticism made by track fans in the failure to choose Green as a member of the team in view of his record-breaking performance on a track that was none too fast and also in view of his feat last winter in equalling the world's indoor record over the high barriers.

Lund Defends "No Mark" Plan In Newton Schools

Says Many In Favor of Plan Inaugurated Last Fall

John Lund, superintendent of schools of Newton, who inaugurated the "no marking" system in the public schools of this city last year, in commenting on the attacks made on this method by citizens who attended the hearing held before the School Committee on June 19, said—that he is convinced that just as many signatures can be obtained on a petition for the retention of the "no marking" system as were obtained on the petition against it, and just as many persons can be found willing to speak in favor of the system as spoke against it at the hearing.

He said that this is a professional and administrative matter, and not one to be decided by popular vote, and that he is certain the School Committee will not be stampeded into hasty action on this question, but will give it careful consideration. He stated that within the past month the principals of the elementary and junior high schools in Newton have unanimously declared themselves in favor of the "no marking" system, and that the teachers, as a whole, are satisfied with it. He commented that the system is new, and changes will have to be made. He said that the individual cases cited at the hearing were all cases in which the same conditions would have arisen under the marking system; that we will always have the problem child."

Mr. Lund stated that never before have so many parents been so closely in touch with the schools. The number of mid-term letter reports sent to parents was 9126. Favorable comments received from parents either by letter, telephone or on the receipt form totalled 1432; unfavorable comments totalled 91. Parents who visited the schools as a result of the mid-term letters numbered 1133. Of this number 958 manifested favorable reactions to the new type of reports. Of the 1133 parents who visited the schools, 74 evidenced unfavorable reactions to the new system. The total favorable reactions by parents was 2390, or 26.2% of the 9126 mid-term report recipients. Those who had unfavorable reactions totalled 165, or 1.8%.

Following the hearing on June 19th the School Committee voted to appoint a sub-committee to study the "no marking" system and its results in the Newton schools, and to determine whether a majority of parents are in favor or opposed to it. This sub-committee is composed of Kirtley Mather, a professor at Harvard University; Harry A. Bryant, a master at English High School in Boston; and Franklin E. Smith, a lawyer, whose father was for many years a schoolmaster in Boston. Julius Warren, who will succeed Mr. Lund as Superintendent of Schools will co-operate with the sub-committee in its investigations.

Court Lenient To Fish Peddler

Stephen Sansone of Margin street, Boston, was in the Newton court on Monday charged with various offenses by the Newton Fish Department. Sansone is a fish peddler and on June 8 a truck from which he was selling fish was stopped on Adams street. Nonantum by Inspector House of the Newton Health Department and Inspector Sheehan of the Marine Fisheries Division. As a result Inspector House asked for complaints against Sansone on three charges — possessing for sale decomposed and sour fish, peddling after his license to do so had expired, and carrying the fish in baskets which leaked onto the street, instead of in non-leaking containers as the law requires.

In court on Monday the police did not bring any charge against Sansone for allegedly having for sale the decomposed fish. Sansone was found guilty by Judge Brown of peddling without a license, and keeping the fish in improper containers. The two charges were placed on file.

LUCY JACKSON CHAPTER, D. A. R.

The Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R., was represented by the Regent, Mrs. Edw. B. Parker, Miss Jordan, the historian, and Miss Louise Sherman on the fifth annual outing to the Hillside School for boys in Marlboro recently. Basket luncheon was enjoyed either under the trees or in the dining hall. Coffee and milk being provided by the school. In the afternoon an interesting program was given before an audience which filled the hall to its utmost capacity. Remarks were made by some of the State and National officers. Gifts were reported from the different D. A. R. Chapters, that from the Lucy Jackson being a set of English histories. An operetta, "The Pied Piper of Hamelin", was wonderfully given by the boys and Mrs. Sanborn deserves much credit for her remarkable training. The school is on a high hill with a beautiful view of the surrounding country, is doing a good work for the boys and is well worthy of the interest of the chapters. It is hoped that another year more of the members will avail themselves of the opportunity to visit this interesting place.

FOR INCREASED EFFICIENCY

Mayor Weeks has recommended to the Board of Aldermen a co-ordination of three municipal departments under one head to be designated as a director of public works. This director will have under his jurisdiction the street department, the water department and the engineering department. The step will not mean a consolidation of these departments into one as such a move would necessitate special legislation by the General Court. Under the plan each of the three departments will retain a commissioner at the head of the department with the director of public works as their chief. While the step means the creation of another municipal office at a salary commensurate, if not greater than that of a department head, it should mean greater efficiency and economy in all three departments. Chief among the arguments in favor of the position are that it will prevent the digging up of recently paved or resurfaced streets by one department soon after another department has finished work in a particular location. There are undoubtedly many other situations in which the new director will function with greater efficiency and economy in the taxpayer's behalf. All that is needed is the appointment of a director who has the knowledge and experience in all three branches of engineering who will administer the position competently.

FOURTH OF JULY

Next Wednesday is July 4th. It is a day full of meaning to the American people. Yet while we are celebrating it will pay to be thoughtful of others. The high toll of accident and death from automobiles, drownings, and other causes is appalling. We trust that carelessness and heedlessness will be reduced to a minimum in the observance of a safe and sane, yet patriotic, Fourth.

Outing of City Hall Associates

The Newton City Hall Associates held their annual outing on Tuesday at the Hotel Rockmore, Marblehead. A large number of employees at City Hall, as well as other city employees, proceeded in automobiles to Marblehead, leaving City Hall shortly after noon. Following dinner at the hotel, President Charles Mahoney of the Associates introduced Mayor Weeks and Aldermen Goddard, Holden and Hutchinson, all of whom spoke briefly. An entertainment was provided, which included piano selections by Edward Hanlon, recitations by Katherine Kimball, and songs by Rose Volante. Dancing was then indulged in.

About Town

By Edward H. Powers

The annual torture of sick and nervous persons by the discharge of firecrackers by boys for a period nearly two weeks preceding July 4th, is on. Chief Randlett of the Newton Fire Department has done his part to lessen this nuisance, as he has also done in former years, by refusing to permit the sale of fireworks in this city except for three days before the Fourth of July. But, adjoining places, including Watertown, allow the sale of fireworks for longer periods before the noisy holiday and Newton youngsters foolishly spend money buying firecrackers outside this city and then set off the noise devices in the Newtons. Which proves that there should be a state law limiting the sale of fireworks in all sections of Massachusetts to three days before July 4th. And since there are many parents who show no consideration for sick neighbors by giving their children money to buy firecrackers and set them off days before the "Fourth", Newton police ought to make an example of some of these offenders.

President Roosevelt has taken cognizance of the appalling number of deaths caused by automobiles and has exhorted the people to drive with more consideration for human life. We have read in the newspapers of the alleged practice of Mrs. Roosevelt to operate her car at high speed, and we believe we also have read of another member of the President's family having been stopped for an infraction of automobile laws. We hope that in the future they too will heed the sincere admonition of the head of the family.

The head of Boston's welfare department has issued a ruling limiting single men obtaining aid to $2 per week for food and a bunk in one of the city's flop houses. We assume Mayor Mansfield approves of this ultra charitable edict. Even in popular priced lunch rooms one cannot obtain anything resembling a meal for less than 25 cents; and this does not include tea or coffee, which are 5 cents extra. So the $2 specified by Mr. Dowling of the Boston welfare department will allow single men getting aid from that city to have one meagre meal each day, and he can gradually starve. Also, instead of sleeping under anything resembling the conditions a decent man is entitled to, he must try to sleep in a flop house in the midst of the fotsam and jetsam of human derelicts. We may expect a large increase in the already big number of panhandlers frequenting the streets of Boston. How much money does the food consumed by Mr. Dowling or Mr. Mansfield cost each week? These worthies should read some history. Cold blooded treatment of unfortunate fellows, such as Mr. Dowling proposes, has, in other times of economic distress precipitated revolutions. We suppose he professes Christianity.

It would not be practical to have unlimited competition in the field of public utilities, as in other lines of business. In fact, some years ago it was decided that it would be impractical to have any competition in public utilities. So, in these quite important adjuncts to society, monopolies became prevalent. And because they have monopolies, public utility corporations in thickly populated areas have become powerful financially, and very efficient. They have also become quite far spread in their activities. This has resulted in the cessation, to a large degree of home ownership, and in control by men who reside in other states. This means that the personal touch between those who control public utility companies and their customers has to a great degree vanished.

This fact is painfully evidenced in the attitude taken by such corporations in the several years which have passed since the economic debacle started in 1929. During this sorry period almost all lines of business have had to be lenient with their customers. But, not the public utility companies. Even though one has been a good customer of a public utility corporation over a long period of years, if one allows two months to elapse without paying what is owed, such a customer is notified that service will be discontinued. No sympathy is shown. Hard boiled business methods rule.

We realize that with hundreds of thousands of customers, public utility companies cannot be a great deal more lenient in the collection of bills. If they did, their losses would be so huge that they would soon become bankrupt. But, because of existing conditions, in the cases of customers who have through many years proved themselves to be honest and dependable, it is our opinion that certain public utility companies are not displaying good judgment in becoming more exacting in their requirements than in normal times. Not when the times seem to tend to a surprising degree toward governmental control of industry, and so many persons are advocating something akin to State Socialism.

By granting an extension of the permit to operate the gravel pits in the Oak Hill section without having a proviso that the petitioner who received the permit cannot extend his operations on adjoining properties which he or his company did not own when this gravel pit business was started in 1927, the Newton Board of Aldermen showed very little concern or knowledge of the effect this business has had and is having on the future of Oak Hill. About 15 years ago Oak Hill, previously an agricultural district, started to develop into a high class residential area. In recent years Arnold Hartmann spent much money and effort in furthering this development.

About 7 years ago the Highland Sand & Gravel Company, of which George S. Wilbur of West Roxbury is the head, was given a permit by former Buildings Commissioner Chadwick to erect large structures and

Stopping Business in Residence Zone

Building Commissioner Hageman has been taking action against persons who have been conducting business in residence zones in this city. This activity is an aftermath of complaints made against the operation of "tourist" houses on Boylston st. (the Worcester turnpike), and by members of the Board of Aldermen at a recent meeting against a real estate dealer at Newton Centre who was conducting an office in a residence zone. Several tourist houses were started on the turnpike with illuminated signs placed in front of them. Some time ago, following complaints, officials of the Health and Police departments investigated the operation of these houses to ascertain if they complied with the health and police regulations.

Inspector Norman Patterson of the Health Department has been touring the city to observe if and where business ventures are being conducted in residence zones in violation of the zoning ordinance. To date he discovered about twenty cases; some of which have been operating for several years. There are a number of business activities in this city operated as non-conforming uses in residence zones because they were established before the zoning ordinance went into effect in 1922. Those conducting such businesses have a legal right to do so. Mr. Patterson, by checking official records, has determined what persons are doing some business which has been started in residence zones subsequent to 1922. To these Commissioner Hageman has sent the following letter:

"I am informed by an inspector of this department that you have erected a sign at _____ reading as follows: _____"

"Signs of this character are not permitted in residential districts by the Building Code and Zoning Ordinance of this city and I hereby request that you have it removed within a week from this date. Kindly notify this office when this has been done."

Some of those notified have complied. Others have not. The Building Commissioner intends to take action against those who do not comply. Some of the types of business conducted in residence zones is held by those responsible not to be objectionable. But, if one type of business is permitted in residence zones, in violation of the ordinance, other types of a more objectionable nature are bound to come in. Either the ordinance must be enforced or it will be more and more ignored. When some persons disregard the ordinance, others believe they have the same privilege and also start in business. Garage repair shops with their resultant noise have been started in residence zones. Other persons have been doing business in such zones, but have not displayed signs; using other forms of advertising.

Newton District Nursing Association Needs Jars

The Newton District Nursing Association at 297 Walnut st., Newtonville, will be glad to receive donations of empty mayonnaise or other screw-top jars which can be used for mothers' and babies' trays in their maternity service. They are more in need of the small sized jars than the pint size and do not wish jars larger than a pint. Games and jig-saw puzzles in good condition would also be appreciated for the entertainment of sick children and shut-ins.

equipment at Oak Hill, near Wiswall road, for the purpose of operating a sand and gravel business. Because of this and the subsequent developments resulting from the conduct of this business, the Aldermen, a few years ago, properly took away from the Buildings Commissioner the power to grant such permits. On July 22, 1929 Mr. Wilbur was granted a renewal of the permit for one year; this time temporary permits as granted by the Buildings Commissioner had a tenure of one year only. At that time Mr. Wilbur through his attorney, asked that the permit be extended for a period of 5 years. The writer, then a member of the Board of Aldermen was instrumental in having the extension limited to one year. It was then stated by the petitioner that no excavating below such grades would be done that would cause pits to be created, that grade specifications determined by City Engineer Morse would be followed and that the property would be left in a condition so that it could be eventually developed for residential purposes. The extent of the property owned by the petitioner was about 67½ acres, extending from Wiswall rd. towards the West Roxbury line.

After working on this huge area, the gravel company then commenced to excavate on the adjoining Esty property and subsequently on the Wiswall farm. This means that many more acres of land in addition to the large area owned by the gravel company have been denuded of loam and so excavated as to be lessened from development as a high class residential district. In addition a large tract along Dedham st. was stripped of loam by a Boston contractor within the past couple of years and added to the barren section in Oak Hill. Thus, a large area of this city which probably would by this time have been in process of development as a desirable residential section has been evolved into a gravel pit district and the City of Newton will lose huge sums of revenue from taxes in future years as a result. Certainly Newton Boards of Aldermen in the past few years have not been using much foresight.

Under The Gilded Dome

The 1934 session of the General Court of Massachusetts is facing its closing hours. It is expected that some time this evening the session will prorogue and if there is a delay tomorrow, at the latest, will see the wind-up of the term.

Important happenings of this week included the final defeat of the police unification bill which experienced difficulty in all its phases and which was one of the most discussed measures of the year. Last week the House refused to adopt the new report of the Committee on Judiciary which was brought about through the special message delivered by the Governor at a joint session two weeks previously after the first vote in the House on the proposal. The first vote showed a margin of 125 to 84 against the bill. The second attempt saw little change with the vote being 124 to 87 defeating the attempt to co-ordinate the police. Reconsideration of the matter was sought and obtained and action postponed until Monday of this week. An attempt was then made to salvage part of the bill by amending it in several sections as a compromise to the objections to certain phases. After the amendments were adopted there was little left of the original proposal except the establishment of an advisory board with little more than powers of recommendation, an increased state detective force, a central bureau of identification, a permissive training school and some control of telephony and radio. Even this bill was defeated by a vote of 116 to 100. Governor Ely placed the responsibility for the defeat on the Legislature and stated that he would not press the matter further.

On Tuesday several adverse reports of the Ways and Means Committee on petitions to distribute the gasoline tax receipts to cities and towns, counties, and on various bases were accepted after considerable debate. It is expected that some eight or ten millions of dollars will be transferred from the Highway fund to the general expense fund in order to keep the state tax at an amount but slightly in excess of that a year ago.

Yesterday saw a number of questions settled which were in disagreement between the House and Senate. One of these, the so-called Parliament bill to legalize betting at horse and dog races was settled through a committee on conference. Both branches of the Legislature had agreed that the matter should be put to a vote by counties at the next state election but disagreed on the percentages of the "breakage" which was to go to the state or the race track operators. The House adopted an amendment by which the state would receive all "breakage" of odd cents over a 10 cent multiple while the Senate reduced the amount to five. Under the compromise the 10 cent figure was adopted with half the money going to the state and half to the race track. It is estimated that this will yield $150,000 to the state. The Senate exempted employees in "key" positions from being residents of the state and the House insisted on no employees residing here. Under the compromise the House receded from its stand in this respect.

The milk control bill was also settled by a conference committee after two attempts. The agreement places the question of making reasonable rules and regulations up to the milk control board instead of giving them authority to fix prices. A veto by Governor Ely was overridden by a vote of 192 to 4. The veto was on a bill for the continuance of an annuity to the widow of Harry Welch of Cambridge, a member of the M. V. M., who went totally blind from a cold in the eye received in a muster in 1888. In 1897 the Legislature voted a $300 annuity to him as long as he lived. After his death about a year ago attempts were made to continue the annuity to his widow. The Governor stated in his messages that he believed further payments were unwarranted. Among the four voting to sustain the Governor was Rep. Luitwiler of Newton. The veto was also overridden in the Senate by a vote of 18 to 8.

Red Cross Swimming and Life Saving Instruction

Under the direction of Mr. Westgate, who has been the instructor in Red Cross life saving at Crystal Lake for the past four years, the course of lessons has again been commenced starting last Monday, June 25th. The interest in swimming has already been demonstrated by the fact that Mr. Westgate has already upwards of twenty-five in the beginners class. Regular courses in Junior and Senior life saving instruction are being given each morning and afternoon and all those interested in this work are urged to enroll, either through Red Cross Headquarters or by seeing Mr. Westgate at the bath house, Newton Centre.

The toll of deaths by drowning which are published each week only lends importance to this type of work. When the opportunity to save a life may occur is never known. By being prepared, one who has been properly instructed can be of great service.

Newton Girls Graduate From Wellesley College

Lombardy Poplars Being Destroyed

The canker disease of Lombardy poplars caused by Cytospora Chrysosperma is destructive unless the trees are growing vigorously. When vigorous growth is not maintained, this disease is the cause of rapid death of the trees. Circular areas of the bark are killed. These areas enlarge circling the twig or branch and the parts above are killed. Often the first infections occur in the twigs and later spread to the larger limbs and trunk. The cankers on young growth are brownish and show numerous reddish pustules, particularly near the margin. From these are pushed long twisted reddish threads of spores. The spores are separated by water and rains wash and spatter them to other parts of the tree. The principal measure of control is prevention; by keeping poplars in a vigorous state of growth and controlling all insects and diseases that lead to dead and weakened limbs and twigs. The cankers should be removed and immediate steps taken to increase the vigor of the tree. If the trees have not been cured for this disease; in the early spring and in the early summer, the dead wood killed by the fungus of last year should be removed, the trees thoroughly pruned and the trees stimulated by feeding them with some fertilizer rich in nitrogen.

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely" (Revelation 22:17). The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Scriptures are very sacred. Our aim must be to have them understood spiritually, for only by this understanding can truth be gained. . . . It is this spiritual perception of Scripture which lifts humanity out of disease and death and inspires faith. . . . Christian Science separates error from truth, and breathes through the sacred pages the spiritual sense of life, substance, and intelligence. In this Science, we discover man in the image and likeness of God" (p. 547).

Prompt Action Saves
Newton Child From Paralysis

The first case of infantile paralysis to be reported in Newton this year was on Monday of this week, when the Children's Hospital gave notice that Patricia Turchon, 10, of Huntington rd., Newton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Turchon, was a patient at that hospital and had a mild case of the dreaded disease. The child was discharged from the hospital on Wednesday as fully recovered. Her mother's quick action in calling on the Children's Hospital and the administering of the new serum used there in combating this disease, apparently aided in her quick recovery.

Auto Crashes in Newton Increasing

Two cars collided at the dangerous intersection of Newtonville avenue and Harvard street, Newtonville last Friday evening at 5:40. One of the cars, driven by Elizabeth Larkin of Washington street, Hudson, was overturned and she received an injury to her left arm. The other car was operated by Charles H. Young of 15 Clarendon st., Newtonville.

Young was arraigned in the Newton court on Thursday on the charge of operating in a negligent manner. He was found not guilty. Young testified that Miss Larkin did not obey the STOP sign on Newtonville ave. Judge Bacon informed him that this is a courtesy sign.

A truck and two cars were involved in collisions opposite 785 Centre street, Newton about 4 last Friday afternoon. Samuel Weiner of Winthrop stopped his car to inquire directions from another motorist whose truck was stopped at the side of the street.

A truck which was following, hit the rear of Weiner's car. The truck was driven by Andrew Maloney of Dorchester. A car driven by James Richardson of Belmont, which was behind the truck, crashed into the latter vehicle.

The cars were damaged. Weiner reported that his shoulders had been injured; Maloney and Richardson escaped with severe shakings.

NEWTON W. C. T. U.

The Newton Woman's Christian Temperance Union at the annual meeting held in the Parish House of the Baptist Church in Newton Centre elected the following officers for the coming year:

President, Mrs. Hattie E. Shutta; vice president, Mrs. Clara C. Raye; Mrs. Blanche G. Norris, Mrs. Sarah H. Herrick, Mrs. Rebecca Cushing, Mrs. Mabelle G. Groves; recording secretary, Mrs. Marion H. Clark; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Sarah S. P. Stevens; treasurer, Mrs. Blanche Porter; assistant treasurer, Mrs. Harriet W. Briggs; auditor, Mrs. Edith A. Butler; delegate to Newton Federation, Miss Cora S. Cobb.

In her annual report Mrs. Groves, the retiring president, said:

"The Newton Christian Temperance Union has during the past year kept up its work for God and Home and Every Land and for Civic Betterment in striving for education and legislation against alcohol."

Believing that this unceasing combat against alcoholism is a task for the ages, we have not tired; "they only fail who have not tried."

We, however, recognize that the struggle in our country has now entered a new phase, a renewed and revitalized beginning again in the long fight for a nation-free from intoxicants.

The repeal of the 18th amendment has not changed the nature of alcohol. It was not the saloon, nor the speakeasy nor yet the bootlegger that is the actual danger to the nation itself and our battle will always be against alcohol, whether it be sold in a beer garden, a back alley resort, or served in the home.

We believe that repeal was unfortunate and unwise, and not the road to true temperance as some of its advocates foolishly believed.

We have gathered statistics from the District Courts and find a most alarming increase in arrests for drunkenness, a very great increase in the arrests of woman drunkards.

A very fine program has been arranged at the Paramount Theatre, Newton starting Sunday with a concert performance on July Fourth. The main feature for the beginning of the week will be Clark Gable and Myrna Loy in "Manhattan Melodrama" adapted from the story "Three Men" by Arthur Caesar. It tells of three boys raised from childhood in New York. One becomes a priest, another, Clark Gable, becomes a big-shot gambler, powerful and dramatic figure of the city's night life.

On the same program will be Ramon Navarro and Carole Lombard in "20th Century." A very fine story and a great cast. On the same program, Babe Daniels and Lyle Talbot will be seen in "Registered Nurse." Family Nights are Monday and Friday when the main feature is shown first, allowing the family to leave early after seeing the main feature if they wish to do so.
